than one, the corporations are deratic party, and then, it will not ratter which party takes the powors at Washington, as they will be safe. For this reason, hopeful citizens will deplore anything like a surrender to these great forces by the democratic party. It isn't necessary to say that the democrats have twice been defeated. We all know that. We all know, as well, that Bryan, in 1896, polled the largest vote ever received by a delargest v know that the defeat of 1900 was most likely due to conditions over which the administration had no control. The Argus predicts that the so-called re-organizers will not carry the next national democratic convention. But, should it carry. it cannot carry a state north of the Mason and Dixon line, and it may lose the electoral vote of a large portion of the South, if not all Hill-Cleveland success will mean

J. P. TAMIESIE,

Trust certainly preferable to victory gain ed through the efforts of these elements of our political life. Let the party of Jefferson be true to itself-Let it have defeat, if defeat must come through fighting the corruptionists, rather than victory, hand in hand with those who want the nation as their own financial foot-

It is to be expected that papers dealing in scandal will also lie, just as people who peddle scandal are capable of falsehood. The statement in last week's Hillsboro Mercury (alias the Independent) that The Argus had published an article threatening to attack the character of the editor of the machine sheet, is a lie, and is in consonance with the general tone of the organ's director. The organ, when it publishes such charges, should prove them by producing the threat. This it could not do.

As for decency—the Mercuria! organ does not know the meaning of the word. Venom is its food; envy its drink; and bursting bigotry the calibre of its little mentor; and idiocy the chief stock in trade of its pretended publisher.

In his Fourth of July address, Mr. Roosevelt said: "Words are good if they are backed up by deeds, and only so." This is emi-
