A SIGNAL DIFFERENCE To the man who blindly votes his party ticket there is but little difference between platforms and candidates. To the average partisan, in the republican ranks, it would matter little whether the next nominee of that party were Hanna, Roosevelt—or the sainted Cleveland! And, as far as their dictum is concerned, it would matter not to these whether Cleveland, Hill, Bryan or a man who believed in the recent policies of the democratic party, led the hosts to victory—or defeat. But to the student of government; to the man who votes because he believes certain principles of government are correct, there is all the difference in the world. It is purely a broad question of democracy, with the people on one side, and the wealth and aristocracy, generally, on the other side. For proof of this, one has but to know that the great banking institutions supported Cleveland, and that Cleveland, in turn, supported and protected them; that these great interests support Roosevelt and that the President supports them; support Hanna and in turn are supported by that Napoleon of Finance; and foolish is he who does not see that corporations are in control of the government, and not for the general good. The new democracy represents the mass of the people. Republicanism, as now engineered, represents the little coterie of interests of capitalistic influence; small, yet sufficiently powerful to control all legislation. These interests wish to, and will as long as possible, control our monetary laws, our tariff laws, and all that tends to their betterment at public expense. These facts stated, can any one say there is "no difference in party?" The surest answer to this is, assuredly, the fact that these rich interests have nightmare every time one Mr. Bryan, a quiet and mild mannered man from Nebraska, makes a speech, or every time one of his speeches is applauded—whether he be in the effects East or out in the alkaline deserts of the West. They know that he stands for the interest of the people at large. They know that he represents that element of our national life which is neither purchasable nor cringing to the insolence of plutocracy and bigotry. So, then, it is very clear why Bryan stands head and shoulders above the "anything-for-office" democrat or republican. Is it any wonder that a man of his ideas is supported by a virile force of our country that will not wink at Subterfuge, or tie up a race with the bosses!

Wood Johnson, of the Johnson Bros. sawmill, south of town, met with a bad accident the other day. His knee was badly injured, and he will carry the effects of the damage for a long time. The trouble was caused by the rolling of a large log on the injured member.

The Forest Grove Times says that the friends of Abner Vaughn, after that gentleman's death, found $1,200 in cash, which he had buried, disclosing the whereabouts of the money to them just before death came. He was supposed to have been a poor man.

Luther Charles, of Newberg, was a Hillsboro visitor last Sunday.

The bigot and his fool still keep the Hillsboro Mercury, commonly known as the Independent, running along its usual lines. Since the acquisition of the bigot to the editorial force, the sheet has revealed in insinuations of scandal mouthing over such stuff like unto some toothless old granny. There is one consolation about the whole matter—the fool knows he is a fool, but the bigot, like all bigots, does not know that he is a bigot. The old adage, that misfortune never comes singly, is logically proven by the advent of this pair of scandal mongers, both of whom are cowards; and both of whom are properly measured by the general public where they are best known.

HURRAH for Yamhill county! Her citizens have already subscribed over $700 for advertising purposes, the pamphlets to be circulated by the Harriman lines. This is the way to "get busy." Let Washington county get in and do likewise. Among the names of people giving to this public enterprise are business firms galore, and a few hundred more we shall see Yamhill get sufficient to send her literature east. Washington county, nearer to Portland by one whole day's drive, and located where immigrants are bound to first investigate conditions if they have been prepared with any knowledge whatever of our resources, should get a hustle on herself and subscribe sufficient to make good those 100,000 copies promised to the Harriman party. Let our good people take heart by what our neighbors have done—even in the busy season—and show her mettle—and her metal!

Aiken's attorneys think that the state will not convict him at the next trial of the case. They contend that the evidence which was of sufficient importance to make any case against the prisoner was not admissible, and that the supreme court has so decided. If this be the case Aiken will go free, as the other evidence is not enough to convict. It is whispered in criminal circles around Portland that Aiken was not present at the killing of the Chinaman, at all, and that his being connected with the case was the work of jealousy upon the part of Woodard, one of the state's chief witnesses.

OREGON'S Blue Ribbon State Fair. Salem. September 15th to 20th 1902.

No time in the history of the Oregon State Fair has there been such a good feeling among the agricultural classes towards the success of the fair as exists at the present time. Every section of the state seems to be taking an interest in the fair and promise to give it their hearty support. There are reasons for this awakening of the people to the support of the fair. One is the management has worked hard and faithfully to make the fair as broad as the state itself. The transportation companies have come to their assistance and made liberal rates on hauling rates of all kinds. Another is, the people are beginning to realize that it is time to let the outside world know of the wonderful resources of our state, and believe that the State Fair is the proper place to meet the better class of home-makers. This will make the fair doubly valuable. It will give those who are looking for homes on the Pacific Coast an opportunity to see in a body what our state can produce, and where it is produced, without traveling all over the state at great expense. It will also give the exhibitor the best possible opportunity of showing his products, whether it be grains, grasses, fruits, vegetables, livestock, minerals or manufactured goods.

You are invited to attend and see the greatest industrial exposition and livestock show ever held on the Pacific Coast. Good racing every afternoon. Camp ground free. Come and bring your families. For information, write M. D. WISDOM, Sec'y, Portland, Oregon. Treasurer's Notice. All County Warrants of Washington County, Oregon, drawn, endorsed and not endorsed, payable after Monday, August 11, 1902, interest will accrue after that date. W. S. JACKSON, County Treasurer. Notice of Final Settlement. FRED ROOD, Administrator, with the will a next of the estate of Thomas Stewart, deceased.
