GET OUT OF THE WAY.

e era of development is just en- tte to Oregon, and the future of state is golden with a promise ich bespeaks a certainty of per- mance. Capital and population l be coming west for years to ne. The east wants that which west has to give. Our climate nexcelled; our natural resourc- are something wonderful, and, yet, untouched; our production nrivalled by the Nile—and, to this the eyes of the east are cen- ed. The great impetus of change rolling to the land of perennial en. The great rail lines are not w to see this economic convul- n and are preparing to carry the al wave of immigration. All of m are getting into shape for big ffic. We shall have an empire re which will be difficult to rec- nize ten years hence—and Wash- gton county should be ready to t in at the head instead of the l end of the procession—when rtland will lead the world in the port of lumber and grain and the its not tropical. And, while we e the unfolding of the metamor- osis that is to make us an em- re, let the mossback go up in the lls, shading his eyes with his nds, fearful that we'll grow till 'll 'bust"—but we will not!

And now is the time to push the ong the matter of that advertis- g that was pledged. It might as ell be started now as any time, d, if borne by all, the burden ill be nothing.

HOPES THEY ARE BEATEN.

hose states in which elections are ow pending, and where the demo- ats have straddled on national estions in the hopes of stealing a an or set of men into congress by e light of the moon, should go dly republican. The Argus pes they will. It would rather e republicans elected every time an to see a corporation democrat t at the spoils of office. If there anything in the world suggestive fraud, it is a corporation demo- at. He has much gall to think at he can beat a republican. He as helped the republicans to elec- on for several years—and he now ants his turn at the trough. Loy- democrats should crack the cks of all of these political free- oters at large in Pennsylvania, diana and Illinois. Let them be mocratic, or let them get into e Hanna camp, where they be- ng. It is to be hoped that the ate above mentioned will go over- helmingly democratic. The Han- serats are preferrable to the oonlight democrats—so-called.

BRYAN DOWN EAST.

ryan's recent speeches in the w England states are attracting ore attention from the aristocrats an any he has ever before deliv- ed. Many are "forced" to speak complimentary terms of these ldresses. New York and Wash- gton papers have been comment- g upon them. The Washington ar, aristocratic and republican the core, makes among others, e following remarks:

"It is six years this month since e Chicago convention surrended that fluent and fiery young man o faced it with a conqueror's r. He had prepared himself th care, and he delivered his eech as prepared. From that y he has practically done noth- g but talk and write politics. is readiness is extraordinary. akened out of a sound sleep, call- from the festive board, inter- pted in a spirited personal con- rsation, he takes position before crowd, and without a moment's sitation, begins a speech which elicits the heartiest applause. He repeats himself frequently, but not in a dull way. His vocabulary is not only large, but he employs it to capital advantage and always so as to reach the common under- standing.—Ex

SENATOR TURNER, of the State of Washington, will soon leave the high office to which he was elected in 1896, and his place will be filled by some place hunter of mediocre ability. The dispatches show how much Turner has done for his peo- ple. While the rest of his state delegation was resting or squalling over the distribution of Federal patronage, Turner "got things" for the state. And now the political parasites want to replace Turner with an Ankeny or a Wilson, nei- ther of whom amounts to anything if you eliminate the money bags of the former and the gall of the lat- ter. If Washington wants to put her best foot forward she had bet- ter send to Olympia a legislature that will return Turner to his seat in the Senate, and "let well enough alone."

THE Portland Journal is evident- ly in sympathy with the re-organ- izers! The Journal had better get down to first principles. Two cor- poration newspapers are enough in Portland, and there is no field for a third in that city.

PROBATE

Estate Abner M Vaughn, decd: will proved in open court; Chas D Vaughn appointed executor with- out bonds. Philip French, Wilson Bump and Wm Davis appointed appraisers.

Estate Thos Stewart, decd; exec- tor directed to distribute residue of estate, and upon filing of receipts, estate will close of record.

The will of Abner Vaughn is asked to be set aside by his half- brothers and half sisters, who al- lege that when he made his will, shortly before death, he was so dis- tressed by illness that he knew not what he was doing. The petition asks to have the property descend to them as heirs-at-law, in com- mon with Chas D Vaughn, a full brother, and in favor of whom the will was made.

Estate of Eva and Hattie Nor- man, minors; report approved.

Estate John Sommers, insane; annual report filed, inventory, $5047.30; disbursements leave a balance of $3537.26 on hand. Approved.

OREGON'S

Blue Ribbon

State Fair

Salem

September 15th to 20th

No time in the history of the Oregon State Fair has there been such a good feeling among the agricultural classes to- wards the success of the fair as exists at the present time. Every section of the state seems to be taking an interest in the fair and promise to give it their hearty support. There are reasons for this awakening of the people to the support of the fair. One is, the management has worked hard and faithfully to make the fair as broad as the state itself. The transportation companies have come to their assistance and made liberal rates on hauling rates of all kinds. Another is, the people are beginning to realize that it is time to let the outside world know of the wonderful resources of our state, and believe that the State Fair is the proper place to meet the better class of home-seekers. This will make the fair doubly valuable. It will give those who are looking for homes on the Pacific Coast an opportunity to see in a body what our state can produce, and where it is produced, without traveling all over the state at great expense. It will also give the exhibitor the best possible opportunity of showing his products, whether it be grains, grasses, fruits, vegetables, livestock, minerals or manufactured goods

You are invited to attend and see the greatest industrial exposition and livestock show ever held on the Pacific Coast. Good racing every afternoon. Camp ground free. Come and bring your families. For information, write
