A COMMENDABLE ACTION.

The action of Speaker Henderson, of Iowa, in withdrawing from the race for congress because he does not agree with the Iowa republican platform in advocating a reduction of tariff along lines which are beneficial to trusts, is to be commended. Henderson knows that any man can be elected on the ticket, but he refrains from living a lie. For many years he has stood with a capitalism that has filched from the Iowa farmers through tariff laws that were unjust. Henderson knows this as well as anyone but he felt, doubtless, that it were better to pay a tribute to the big trusts than to pay tribute to the Cleveland-Hill element in national politics, and he has gracefully retired. His last public action, after he had received the nomination, was the most graceful of his public deeds, and he is to be commended above the rafter who affects a love of his country and yet continues to plunder.

The Oregonian's Washington correspondent says that J. P. Morgan and James P. Hill are "democrats." No doubt they are—the same kind of democrats who voted the republican ticket as soon as the democratic party repudiated such "democrats" as Grover Cleveland. Morgan and Hill were terribly afraid that the democrats would get into power in 1896 and 1900! "Democrats!" The sun must be affecting the head of the Oregonian correspondent.

The fact that our beloved Roosevelt does nothing against the trusts; and the fact that Knox is over in Europe to see if he can find one, should prove, conclusively, that the big fellows are not at all fearful of what the president will do. People are not at all likely to give the trusts a chance to again shut down the mills as they did when Grover went into office in the interests of Wall Street. The beauty of the thing now is that Wall Street and the manufacturing interests are united, and all the hue and cry about tariff reduction is just a flim-flam to hold the middle west into line this fall.

DOOLEY hits the nail on the head when he makes Roosevelt say: "Th' thrusters, are heejeous monst'ers built up by th' enlighten'd interprise iv th' men that have done so much to advance progress in our beloved country," he says. 'On wan hand I wud stamp them under fut; on th' other hand not so fast. Lave us be merry about it an' jovial an' affectionate. Lave us laugh an' sing th' octopus out iv existence. Bether blue but smil-in' lips any time thin a full coal scuttle an' a sour heart. As Hogan says, a happy peasantry is th' hope iv th' state. So lave us warble ti-lire-a-lay—"

The great banking interests of the country are represented, as all well informed people know, by J. Pierpont Morgan, the New York banker and body and soul of Wall Street; the great trusts of the country, to the ninety and nine per cent., are controlled by this genial and national freebooter. A child can see that the banks, trusts and railroads are under the same management. No one with a spoonful of brains will dispute this. Therefore, The Argus submits that it has no patience with finicky republicans and counterfeited democrats who are satisfied with Morgan's financial policy and laws as to the money of the country, yet, to the public view dissatisfied with Morgan's tariff laws. If sincere they are ridiculous and the hole in their logic is big enough for a ship canal. Why will Americans blink at fact and pay court to folly?

LOCAL.

The funeral of John J. Reynolds, aged 74, who died at Forest Grove Friday night, occurred Sunday, under the auspices of the J. B. Matthews Post, No. 8. G. A. R. of which he had been a member for 13 years. Deceased came to Oregon in 1886. Mr Reynolds served in the United States Army from 1862 to 1865, having enlisted as a private in Company B, Twenty-seventh Missouri Volunteer Infantry. He was married to Miss Ella Hopper, December 10, 1855, at Clifton, Ill. She, with the following children, survive him: L. H. Reynolds, Forsyth, Mo.; J. N. Reynolds, Springfield, Mo.; F. T. Reynolds, Southern Oregon; W. S. Reynolds, Dayton, Or.; Mrs. Vina Bacon, Centerville; Mrs. Ella Stous, North Yakima, Wash.; Mrs. Mary Johnson, Ritzville, Wash.; J. C. Reynolds, Portland, and Miss Alice Reynolds, Forest Grove. Interment was in the Naylor cemetery.

J. W. Copeland, of the Witch Hazel ranch, has sued Eugene Dant, the Reedville thresher, asking for $400 damages. It will be remembered that Dant moved his threshing machine and engine in the field, and soon thereafter went to dinner at Copeland's house. While at dinner, the stacks burned up, and the plaintiff alleges that Dant left no one to guard the engine, and that in not so doing, was negligent. The number of bushels destroyed is estimated at 1400. Jno M. Wall is attorney for Copeland.

Gaston is advertising a sale day, annual, and this one is to be on October 8, at which time many of the farmers will bring in their live stock, chickens, poultry, or anything they have to sell, and sell either at private sale or at auction. E. H. Jeter is the secretary of the association which contemplates the sale and will answer inquiries relative to the program.

Those who know state that there are not as many China pheasants this year as usual, owing to the heavy and cold rains early in the season when the eggs were hatching, and just after the little ones were hatched. The native pheasants, however, which are said to come later, are very plentiful, and there will be no scarcity of birds, at any rate. The season opens the first of October and then the guns will crack.

The Hillsboro public schools will open Monday, September 29. This will be after the close of the hop picking season, and the attendance should be very good. Owing to the increase in the hop industry in the county, and the fact that many children pick, schools are generally later opening now than in the past. Hillsboro will have a nine months' school.

Mrs. C Koeh returned from San Francisco the latter part of the week, and was a passenger on the Steamer Columbia, which struck on a bar in the Columbia river, at Tongue point, above Astoria. The steamer was run aground owing to the dense smoke.

Major S. J. Anthony, a mining capitalist of Denver, Col., was in the city today, the guest of his sister, Mrs. W. D. Hare. He returned this evening to Portland, accompanied by Mrs. Hare. He returns to Denver soon and then spends the winter in Porto Rico.

Beach & Bowers' minstrel company, that is to be here, under canvas, on Monday, Sept. 22d, is bright and fresh, and, above all, new, with nothing that can offend, and is made up of as good minstrel artists as are to be found.

Marriage license has been granted Percival D. Austen and Miss Martha E. Pointer. Miss Pointer is a daughter of Theodore Pointer, of below Beaverton. License was also granted to Fred W. Muhlly and Miss Elise M. Meyer, of Blooming.

For rent—A farm of 95 acres, 75 acres in cultivation; house of ten rooms; good orchard; running water through farm. Renter may have privilege of paying rent by work on farm. Inquire at this office.

The new postal cards are now out, bearing a picture of the late President McKinley. Underneath the picture is the date of his birth, 1843, and the year of his death, 1901.

Mr Tys Wigman, the popular salesman for Blumauer, and Mrs. Josephine Geary, of Portland, were married in this city last Friday. Recorder H. T. Bagley officiating.

Capt. Wm. Bell, Master of the Arthur, plying on Willapa Harbor, between Nahcots and the Nasel, was in the city to-day, the guest of his sister, Mrs. D. R. Campbell.

M. M. Bridges, formerly connected with the Clinch Mills, now of Portland, was in town today, shaking hands with his many friends.

Martin Winch, who manages the Ladd & Reed Farm Company's business, was in the city yesterday, looking after the interests of his firm.

Miss Bertha Ward, of Forest Grove, was the guest of Mrs. J. A. Lister this week.

The estate of Melki Johnson, the one-time real estate man of Forest Grove, will be finally settled in probate court October 20.

Lost—two horses, black and gray mares. The black has star in forehead, and weighs about 1500. Gray weighs about 1250. Reward and expenses for information leading to recovery—E Dimbat, Hillsdale, Ore.

The grand opening ball of the season will take place in the Opera House, September 27, Saturday evening. Everybody invited. Tickets, 75 cents. Supper extra.

Superintendent of Schools Ball states that he has several requests for teachers that will be supplied from those who attend the coming teachers' institute. Teachers wanting positions will, therefore, do well to not miss this meeting.

The Times says that word has been received that our old-time friend, T. C. McNamer, now in Alaska, where he has some valuable mining interests, was married to a Mrs. Grace Hummer last July. Therefore, then, has found fortune and a bride up in the North. The Argus sends congratulations by Marconi.

A dodger printed by some one at the Grove, in the interests of satire and humor, was brought to the city last evening. The screech gave evidence of creation by minds not just exactly youthful, and it appears that it is more in the nature of a saloon advertisement than anything else. The Times says the thing was not even witty, but it had some pretensions to humor, just the same. Such things are in bad form, but as they reach Forest Grove every year, the faculty is accustomed to them.

Taken Up.

At my place, 1 1/2 miles north of Resdville, one bay mare, about 12 years old; 3 white feet, and star on forehead. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. James Borwick, Reedville, Or.

ATTEND THE STATE FAIR.

To be Held at Salem, Sept. 15 to 20.

Take a few days after haying and harvesting, and go away for a change of scene and air. Too few farmers and farmers' wives take any vacation during the year. There is nothing so good as a change of living and a few days' rest to brace one up, both physically and mentally. Most of the large city business houses give their employes one or two weeks' vacation during the year, and they find it pays well in the better health of their men and greater interest taken by them in their duties. A weeks' rest attending the state fair is both educational and recreative.

The exposition building will be filled with the finest exhibits of the farm, field and orchard. The livestock show will surpass anything of the kind ever given on the coast, and no progressive farmer can afford to miss seeing the possibilities of improved breeds and breeding. Good racing every afternoon between the fleetest-footed racers on the coast. Good music and high-class entertainment in the evening. Reduced rates will be made by the Southern Pacific for the occasion. Ask your agent for full information. Fare, $3 10 round trip.

OREGON'S Blue Ribbon State Fair
Salem
September 15th to 20th 1902
No time in the history of the Oregon State Fair has there been such a good feeling among the agricultural classes towards the success of the fair as exists at the present time. Every section of the state seems to be taking an interest in the fair and promise to give it their hearty support. There are reasons for this awakening of the people to the support of the fair. One is the management has worked hard and faithfully to make the fair as broad as the state itself. The transportation companies have come to their assistance and made liberal rates on hauling rates of all kinds. Another is, the people are beginning to realize that it is time to let the outside world know of the wonderful resources of our state, and believe that the State Fair is the proper place to meet the better class of home-seekers. This will make the fair doubly valuable. It will give those who are looking for homes in the Pacific Coast an opportunity to see in a body what our state can produce, and where it is produced, without traveling all over the state at great expense. It will also give the exhibitor the best possible opportunity of showing his products, whether it be grains, grasses, fruits, vegetables, live stock, minerals or manufactured goods.
You are invited to attend and see the greatest industrial exposition and livestock show ever held on the Pacific Coast. Good racing every afternoon. Camp ground free. Come and bring your families. For information, write
M. D. WISDOM, Sec'y, Portland, Oregon.
