EXPERTS' REPORT.

Hillsboro, Ore., Sept. 13, 1902. To the Honorable County Court of Washington County, Oregon: Gentlemen:—We have examined the books and accounts of your officers, covering the transactions of their offices occurring between July 8, 1902, and July 7, 1902, and file herewith statements showing our findings.

With the exception of the records of the recorder of conveyances, we have found the records generally well kept. Errors, always more or less unavoidable, have been made, but the same are now corrected.

Exception is taken to the burdensome methods of accounting involving useless clerical labor, and under your instructions we have arranged for a more systematic and accurate handling of the accounts, which, when in use, will lessen labor and insure accuracy.

Running back for several years appear serious differences in warrant accounts. While there may not exist in them any monetary loss to the county, until carefully examined there can be no assurance as to their nature, and we advise that they be rectified.

We note that on your tax rolls taxes marked "Sold to the County," the certificates of which have not been completed by the sheriff making the sale, and consequently no record being listed of them on the delinquent tax ledger of the county clerk. This matter should be immediately inquired into.

They then report shortages as follows: Ex-Recorder Wann.....$169 90 Ex-Sheriff Bradford..... 30 40 The notation as to the delinquent tax sales refers to the administration prior those of Clerk Morgan and Sheriff Sewell.
