There is one way in which farmers can meet the conditions imposed upon them by the trust—and that is the formation of another trust. Let the farmers combine capital with their trust; labor has its trust; and to complete an industrial parallel the farmers should own a combine. Business is business, and the quicker the producer, who should be a business man, have all others, discovers that realization is what he needs, in order to hold his own, the quicker he will hold his own.

FOR $318
Pianos Worth Every Cent of $500.

Examine them, try them, test them, compare them with other instruments for which twice as much is asked.

Special offer on a fine piano that sold good for the first three sold in every county in our territory.

Both inside and out these pianos are the most elaborately and minutely finished instruments ever placed on the market. Cases are of select 5-ply, cross-banded birch, walnut, selected English quarter-sawn oak or dappled Santo Domingo mahogany. Best quality felt and hammers throughout, choicest of ivory keys and genuine ebony sharps. Strings of finest music wire. Backs of instruments finished in choicest selected birdseye maple veneering, highly polished and handrubbed. Any of them fit to grace the drawing room of the most elegant mansion.

Many new and valuable improvements are embodied in these pianos. produces a richness and mellowness of tone, combined with purity and singing quality, together with the greatest durability, thus making them by all odds the very best instruments manufactured.

Five hundred Dollars is only a moderate price for these pianos. It is a price that who understands pianos would cheerfully pay. We are anxious to have them become universally known and appreciated. That is why we are making a special introductory offer of them, limited to the first three pianos sold in each county in our territory. Buyer who secure these pianos are getting the bargain of a life time. Write us for further particulars, and for prices on the make in less elaborate cases.

VANDERVELDEN-VANDUYKE.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at the Verboort Church, Wednesday, October 21, 1903, when Mr. William A. Vandervelden and Miss Anna Vanduyke were united in marriage. Rev. Father Verhaag officiating, assisted by Fathers O'Brien, of Portland, and Springer, of Verboort. A solemn nuptial high mass was performed by Father Verhaag, celebrant, and his assistants. Mr. VanDyke acted as groomsmen and Miss Mary Vandervelden as the bridesmaid. The bride was accompanied to the church by 131 relatives, and the wedding was celebrated before the largest wedding party ever witnessed in this section. The presents were many and beautiful. The groom is interested in the mercantile business at Verboort and the happy pair will make their home at that place.

MOORE-VANDERZANDEN.

Married, at the Verboort Catholic Church, Tuesday, October 20, 1903, at nine a. m., Rev. Father Verhaag officiating, Mr. Hugh E. Moore and Miss Minnie Vanderzanden. Albert Vanderzanden was groomsmen and Dina Vanderzanden was bridesmaid. A nuptial high mass was celebrated by the officiating Father. The newly wedded couple were presented with many handsome presents. They will reside in Verboort, where they have a large circle of friends.
