

LIQUOR QUESTION IS UP TO FOREST GROVE

Legality of new Prohibition Ordinance Attacked.

WARM FIGHT PROMISED IN COURT

Alfred G. Watson, Arrested for Selling Liquor, Jailed; Sues for Habeas Corpus

The "old, old, story" is up to Forest Grove, and the liquor question, like Banquo's ghost, will not down Alfred G. Watson, formerly of Greenville, was last week arrested and jailed, charged with selling malt, spirituous and vinous liquors, contrary to an ordinance prohibiting said sale.

The marshal neglected to bring the prisoner into court Tuesday, and made no return, alleging that the prisoner had been given his freedom by Judge Root thereupon granted the writ and gave Watson his liberty. Watson was to have had his hearing before the recorder at Forest Grove Tuesday afternoon, but as he was here, nothing could be done.

Hillsboro people who are interested in the proposed motor line, and who have considerable property interests along the survey, are taking hold of the proposition to see if something cannot be done, between Washington county and Portland, to finance the road. They are moving carefully, and expect to accomplish something Senator Swack, who was out the first of the week, thinks that the road can be put in commission if the franchise can be held a while longer.

Old Adam Fulton, the old veteran who was jugged here for so many months, is now broke in Portland. Fulton lays his financial misfortunes to a son in Idaho, but it is more probable that his penitential condition is due to his desire to fight all the mountain dew out of existence and thus force Carrie Nation out of work. Fulton gets a liberal pension, and unless he is taken very ill, can support himself with it, and it will not be necessary to keep him at the poor farm.

Thos. Wilkes, ex-county surveyor, writes his brother, J. B. Wilkes, that he has been transferred from Denver, Col., to Phoenix, Arizona, where he has a better position at a better salary. Mr. Wilkes has a government position under the surveyor general. He writes that Phoenix is no such place for the cure of tuberculosis as it has been advertised and that those who go there for relief would be as well off in any dry climate. Aside from this the temperature is very changeable down there, alternating from heat to cold and vice versa, in a manner that is not particularly beneficial to consumptives.

The tax rolls will be in Sheriff Sewell's hands by Monday evening and on Tuesday morning taxes will be received. A large force will be in the office so as to take care of the rush which is likely to result for the first fifteen days in order to secure the three per cent. rebate. A night shift will be employed to keep up with the correspondence and money order mail, so that the ledger can be kept up from day to day. Sheriff Sewell has filed his additional bond as tax collector, and all is in readiness for active work. Nearly all the receipts are written up in "blank" so that promptness will be a feature of the collection. Those who do not wish to avail them-selves of the three per cent. rebate can pay half their tax by April 4, and the other half next fall without extra cost.

August Tews, the tailor, has just received a fine line of spring and summer samples, of the best ever shown in town. Also a fine assortment of ladies' dress goods. The prices are very low for the qualities offered. Call and inspect them before you buy your spring and summer wear.

The first annual banquet of the Board of Trade of Forest Grove, was held Monday night at the Loughlin hotel, in that city. There were 72 plates. The following is the program of toasts: Toastmaster, W. H. Hollis; "Washington" Professor J. R. Robertson, of Pacific University; "February 22 at Manila," Charles Craft, of Portland; "Our Educational Interests," Superintendent C. F. Clapp; "Our New Industries," Walter Hoge; "Our Pioneers," Thomas Roe; "Our New-comers," E. S. Calander; "The Ladies," Thomas H. Adams.

The ladies of the Congregational Church are preparing to give a humorous entertainment soon. Prof. and Mrs. Chapman of Pacific University will furnish vocal and violin selections. Watch for the date.

Phil Baughman, of North Hillsboro, died last Friday from an attack of pneumonia. Deceased was a native of Iowa, and came to Oregon in the early nineties. His wife died about two years ago. Mr. Baughman's health has not been good for some time. The funeral took place Sunday, the funeral services being held in the Congregational Church, and interment was in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. He leaves six children to mourn his loss. Deceased carried $2000 in the United Workmen.

Come in and see these bargains before they are gone.

Notwithstanding we have had plenty of rain, we have Sunday evening, short something like an inch of water, over the average rainfall. But here in Oregon an inch or two of rain does not amount to much, and the chances are that the general average may be over-taken before many weeks. Last year at this time many had planted early garden, but very few have done anything with gardens so far this year.

Dennis has the plow shoes for you. Come in and buy a pair and don't forget to ask for an estimate card. You may be presented with another pair, provided you are a good guesser. All kinds of shoes at reduced prices, to make room for the biggest spring stock ever shipped to his store.—Dennis, corner Second and Main.

At the recent teachers' examination held in this city the ingenuity of an applicant was manifested in the framing of a sentence. The words "seer," "sero" and "sear" were given and a sentence with each as the subject was required. One writer, who evidently did not know the meaning of "vere," wrote "Sere is a word of four letters."

Morning services, 11:00 a. m., at the Baptist Church, Sunday Feb. 28, "The Spirit, and its Work;" evening, special services, "Fraternity," upon request by Woodmen of the World. The Woodmen will attend in a body. Everybody invited to these meetings.—J. F. Day, Pastor.
