THE HILLSBORO ARGUS.

VOL. XI. HILLSBORO, OREGON, JULY 14, 1904. NO. 18

THE OREGON EXHIBIT AT THE BIG FAIR

Display Shows the Standing of Schools.

OREGON THIRD STATE IN UNION

From Point of Literacy Only two States Excel.

World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, Mo., July 14. Oregon's educational exhibit occupies space between two main aisles in the Educational and Social Economy Building, and thus presents plenty of display surface to visitors. Every inducement is made to sightseers to enter the exhibit and investigate the work done by Oregon students, so that they may have a correct idea of the standard of education in the far western state and just what advantages their children will receive should they move there.

One of the first questions asked by prospective settlers is "What sort of schools have you in Oregon?" Easterners are especially afraid that they will land in a country without educational facilities. A visit to the Oregon exhibit soon sets them right, and gives them plenty of information as to what Oregon has to offer in that line.

Educators from all over the country have visited the display on education and are of the opinion that Oregon students do as well as any students in the country. This is proven by the fact that in point of literacy Oregon stands third highest of all states in the Union, 99.55 per cent. of her people being able to read and write. The lowest state on the list is Louisiana where but 65 per cent. of the people are literate.

Oregon's display embraces all departments of the public school system as it exists in the state, and also shows what is being done by many private institutions. Bound volumes of students' work and a variety of manual training handiwork occupy prominent positions in the exhibit.

LaGrande will soon be the county seat of Union county.

A big cloud burst caused great damage the last of the week, near Prineville, Crook county.

Mrs. Ed. Stephenson, of Yamhill county, was drowned in the Yamhill river, near McMinnville, Saturday.

The rivers in the vicinity of Kansas City have been on a rampage, and occasioned a great loss of property, both in the farming regions and in the towns.

I. H. Taffe, who was awarded $15,000 for the right of way for the state portage road at The Dalles, has sued the city for $40,000 for a broken leg, sustained by virtue of a defective sidewalk at that city.

I. H. Taffe, of Celilo, was given $15,000 for the right of way as the jury's verdict in the condemnation proceedings at the circuit court session at The Dalles last week. He threatens to appeal to the highest court in the land. The land in litigation is for the right of way for the state portage railway at Celilo.

TRACTION ENGINE RUNS OFF A GRADE

Lands on its Side in Ditch, but no one Injured.

BELONGS TO A A WALKER, GASTON

Wrecked on East Approach of Long Bridge, West of Town.

A traction engine, belonging to A A. Walker, of above Gaston, was run off the grade on the east approach of the long bridge, one mile west of Hillsboro, last Saturday, and fell five or six feet, landing on its top, lodging where it required a great deal of work to get it extricated from its position. At the end of the bridge the approach is rather narrow, and the driver ran too close to the edge. The ponderous machine's right wheels went over the grade, and this gave it an impetus which threw it in the ditch. The driver jumped and escaped from serious injury. The engine belongs to a baling outfit, and was going to Cedar Mill to work at hay baling.

J. H. Cornelius was down from Cornelius Tuesday morning.

B. F. Purdy was down from Gaston Monday, an interested spectator at the sheriff's sale of the Gaston mill property.

Mrs. Kirkwood, of Syracuse, N. Y., where her husband has the chair of Botany at the University, is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hoyt.

For sale at a bargain: A Champion binder, run but two seasons, and in good repair. Six foot cut—E. E. Lyons, 2 miles northeast of Hillsboro.

August Tews, the tailor, left last week, accompanied by his family, for an extended trip over in the Tillamook section, where he will fill out his vacation hunting and fishing.

J. B. Tillotson, the bridge builder from Albany who has built several bridges in this county, has been sued for $10 000 damages by his book keeper, A. L. McFadden, who alleges that Tillotson had him arrested last winter for alleged forgery of his name to a check. McFadden was acquitted in the Multnomah circuit court, and now he sues for vindication.

Andrew Stewart departed Saturday for Athena, Umatilla county, where he has a threshing outfit, and has threshed for a period of two years, this being his third in the field. Andrew says he can make all kinds of money in that business in the wheat belt, and that he made enough money in two seasons to pay for his outfit Here's luck to him, anyway.

Clerk T. S. Weatherred, of Hillsboro Camp No. 500 last Saturday received the check for $2,000 paid on the death of late Ex county clerk J. W. Morgan, one half payable to Mrs. Morgan and the other half payable to her as guardian of the only son, Edwin. This is very speedy settlement, as the demise occurred on Wednesday evening, June 1, and proof of same was sent a few days later—just a trifle over 30 days from the date of the notice until the money was placed in Mrs. Morgan's hands.

GASTON MILLS SOLD BY SHERIFF CONNELL

J. A. McCune, Mortgagee, buys in the mill and Rights.

SIX THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED

Is the Purchase Price. McCune's Judgment Calls for More than sale Price

The big Gaston flouring mills, water rights and warehouse, sold Monday morning at sheriff's sale to J. A. McCune, the mortgagee, for $6,500, which was slightly in under the judgment given Mr. McCune in the circuit court. Benton Bowman bid in the property for Mr. McCune, acting for Attorney S B. Huston, who had the case in circuit court. This is one of the finest properties in the Willamette Valley, but the farmers of that section have gone out of the wheat raising business. It is thought that the machinery will, after the matter gets entirely out of the courts, be dismantled and shipped to Eastern Oregon, or some point along the line of the O R & N., where wheat can be found in plenty to grind for the export trade.

No other bid was made on the property, Mr. Thompson, who owns an interest in the mill, not being present, nor were any of the other stockholders.

ED. H. NORTHRUP.
B. P. Cornelius, Auctioneer.

Chas Barber, who has about 70 head of horses in the Cold Spring country, out from Pendleton, Umatilla county, has gone back to Eastern Oregon, after a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Barber, of this place. A rustler stole about ten head of his horses, and the pursuit brought him to Portland. The thief was caught at Pleasant Home, near Troutdale, and two of the horses were found at White Salmon, where he had sold them to a liveryman. Two of the horses were not found, and he would not volunteer the information of where they were, although he told them of the animals at White Salmon. The rustler was taken back to Umatilla county, where he will stand trial. Several years ago Mr. Barber and his brother Frank, now deceased, went to Umatilla county and started out with a small bunch of mares, and the herd now reaches the 70 mark, and the youngsters are well bred and fine looking horses.

If you contemplate building a barn, a house, or outbuildings, remember that Groner & Rowell have a large yard of rough and dressed lumber at their mill at Scholls. Figures cheerfully given on estimates. We deliver lumber everywhere if quanitity is sufficient to make a load. If you are going to build, drop us a card. Sales yard at Scholls, 9 miles southeast of Hillsboro. We also have a nice line of drain tile; also building blocks for foundations and for cellars. Find a fine lot of brick—Call us up on the Independent telephone.

Last Thursday evening Rev. McCracken, of Oakdale, Linn county, while riding a bicycle in the vicinity of Scholls, at the D. B. Emerick place lost control of his wheel through the brake failing to work, and was precipitated against a bridge. The left collar bone was broken. The minister returned to town with Dr. Linklater, who set the fracture. Mr. McCracken, who has been trying to increase his income by taking orders for enlarged pictures, left for his home the next morning.

Dairy stock is low price these days, owing to the shortage in feed, good cows going for only a little over half what they brought two or three years ago.
