JAPAN HOLDS STRICT CENSOR ON NEWS

Koroki Was Killed Over a Month ago

NEWS HELD OVER A MONTH

Was Struck by Splinter of Shell, October 8

The Japanese censorship over news going out to the world is well exemplified by the fact that Koroki was killed by a splinter from a flying shell, October 8, and the news of the death only reached the outside world last Saturday.

The Russians had a dispatch that such was the case four weeks ago but the Japanese denied it emphatically.

The two big armies have been entrenched near one another for four weeks, with only a little skirmishing on each side, and neither army seems willing to make a general assault on the other. The death of Koroki seems to have demoralized the Japanese army, and the soldiers do not seem to have the faith in N. dzu that was given the dead general.

The government is rushing work, day and night on big guns for the Navy and fortifications.

The number of saloons put out of business by the dry county and precinct vote last Tuesday is 105.

Grover Cleveland went hunting the day after election. He had better luck than before the election.

Two sisters in New York City, losing their furniture, suicided and died in each others' arms, taking the gas route.

The Russian battleship Gromoboi struck a rock in the Vladivostok harbor, last week, and is again laid up for repairs.

Argentina is to spend $15,000,000 in building up her navy, supposedly in view of possible hostilities on the part of Brazil.

The railroads are preparing to meet the big immigration to Oregon in the spring, and rates will be made as low as possible.

The Socialists polled four per cent of the total vote in the recent election, according to Debs' statement in the New York World.

John H. Hall, of Portland, has again been appointed as U. S. District Attorney for Oregon. Brownell and Judge Moreland are thus left out in the cold.

Grant county citizens are preparing to run down a gang of cattle rustlers, and they are arming and joining the sheriff's posse. They have decided to end the reign of terror there.

Mrs. Weber, her son and her daughter, were burned to death in their residence at Auburn, Cal., last Thursday night. It is thought that they were killed and the house fired to conceal the crime.

Two cattle rustlers were caught skinning a steer by two cattlemen and a pitched duel, with revolvers, ensued, the two rustlers intruding themselves behind the carcass of the animal. One of them was killed and the other surrendered.

Sensors Mitchell and Fulton will endeavor to have Congress give the following for Columbia river improvement: south jetty at mouth of river, $1,320,000; river below Portland, $625,000; Celilo canal, $750,000.

National Chairman Oliver Stewart and John G. Woolly, the big prohibitionist are having a newspaper war, and charges of bad management are being hurled back and forth against the former, who says he will sue for libel unless things are straightened out.

Frank Natter, a Heppner saloon man, was killed Saturday night by former Marshal Cresswell. The two had trouble and Natter caused Cresswell's arrest. Natter then followed the arrested man to the Recorder's office, where the altercation was renewed and Cresswell shot Natter three times. Natter was a brother-in-law of Thos. Rhea, well known as a pioneer stockman.

Mrs. Peter Brown, of Molalla, was murdered in her home in the mountains, about four weeks ago, and there was evidence of a terrible struggle. Her husband, who was away at work, found the body, last Friday.

LOCAL and COUNTY

Geo. W. Kelley was down from Vinelands, Monday.

A fresh lot of bulk pickles both sour and sweet at Groer's.

J. C. Crocker, of near Mountaine, was in town Saturday. Mr. Saturday.

Papeteries stationery—the neatest out—for ladies, at The Delta Drug Store

A W. Smith, Tigardville's rustling real estate dealer, was in town Saturday.

If you contemplate buying a suit of clothes come and see us—Schulmerich Bros.

J. H. Wescott, of Gaston, was down Monday evening, an attendant at the K. of P. meeting.

Thos. Withycombe, of Farmington, was in town Saturday. Mr. Withycombe now has a real estate office in Portland.

A delicate perfume is the mark of good breeding—buy Hibbert's odors, at The Delta Drug Store.

Adolph Hansen, formerly of Bethany, this county, is engaged in the furniture business at Baker City.

Mrs. R. M. Stephens, of Forest Grove, aged 42 years, died November 11. The family but recently come from Kansas.

We carry the swellest line of gentlemen's and ladies' dress shoes to be found in the town. Come and see them, at Dennis'.

Mr. John Raynard, of Laurel, and Miss Grace Crabtree, of Yamhill county, were married in Portland, November 7, and will reside at Laurel.

Next Thursday and Friday, Nov. 24 and 25, Dr. Lowe, the well known oculo optician, will be at the Hotel Tualatin. Dr. Lowe has been to Hillsboro for over 15 years.

Fred J. Sewell has been doing office work for the Oregon Condensed Milk Company for some time. The company is now doing business direct with the retail trade of the Northwest.

You must have groceries—why not drop in and see our staple line, the finest ever brought to the city. We buy nothing but the best, and that is what you want. Fruits in season.—John Dennis.

Scott Cornelius, Clatsop county's assessor, and who sowed oats here as a boy, was up from Astoria the first of the week, and went up to Gales Peak to look eastward to see how the country looked after it was swept by the Roosevelt majority.

Peter Grossen, of Phillips, has bought and moved to the F. Wolf farm near Lennox, and was in Monday to see if he could not get into Dist. No. 1, so his children would not have three miles to get to school. The farm is in the Helvetia district.

Those having jewelry, watches and clocks to be repaired should take them to E. L. McCormick's new jewelry store where you will be taken care of properly and promptly. All work guaranteed. Main street opposite Delta Drug store, Hillsboro, Ore.

Eye strain is responsible for a very large per cent. of brain fog, apparent stupidity in children, irritable, and those terrible headaches whose periodical occurrence make life miserable. Dr. Lowe's repression glasses relieve the above by relieving the cause. Consultation free.

Neighbor John McCallen was up from Cedar Mill Friday, and brought in some fine specimens of Burbank "apuds" which weighed 3 and 3 1/2 pounds each, grown on high land close to the Portland mountain. John is thinking of putting in ten acres of hops on his ranch next season.

Edith Hamlin, wife of J. E. Hamlin, alias J. H. Burko, committed for 6 years for forgery—and who was caught and held by the present deputy sheriff, F. T. Kane, at Forest Grove, when he was cashier of the Hines' bank, has been granted a divorce by the Multnomah county judge. Mrs. Hamlin was here when Burke received his sentence, and wept bitterly when Judge McBride pronounced the terms of years of incarceration. This seems to be a case of where "Absence Makes the Heart Grow Fonder" is up against a Roosevelt cyclone. But such is life.

PANEL IS SELECTED FOR CIRCUIT COURT

Sheriff Connell and Clerk Godman Draw List Friday

FARMERS ARE WELL REPRESENTED

Drawn From all Parts of the County Court Convenes November 28

County Clerk Godman and Sheriff Connell last Friday drew the jury list for the November term of Circuit Court, and the summons to the panel will be sent out this week. The county is well represented—from Buxton to Middleton and Beaverdam to Gaston. The jurors are 31 in number, leaving 24 for trial jurors and 7 for the grand jury, if one shall be selected. It is more than likely that a grand jury will be selected this time, although there is nothing mandatory about this. The jury:

TILLAMOOK LAND.

The undersigned will exchange for Washington county land, 100 acres, 10 cleared, house and barn, several hundred dollars worth of chittim bark on same; will make ideal stock ranch; 7 miles from Tillamook; 7 miles from Bay City. Also 22 acres at Ray City, Tillamook county; 20 acres of this is cleared; fine buildings; good for stock and dairy; close to creamery. Or, will sell both properties for part cash; easy payment, the balance—Hollubuck Bros., Hillsboro, Oregon.

If you contemplate building a barn, a house, or outbuildings, remember that Groner & Rowell have a large yard of rough and dressed lumber at their mill at Scholls. Figures cheerfully given on estimates. We deliver lumber everywhere if quantity is sufficient to make a load. If you are going to build, drop us a card. Sales yard at Scholls, nine miles south-east of Hillsboro. We also have a nice line of drain tile; also building blocks for foundations and for cellars. Find a fine lot of brick.—Call us up on the Independent telephone.

Another farmers' telephone line is about to be built out north of town, the parties to have in instruments being Richard Beamish, R. B. Collins, Mr. Frost, Louis Manning, Herman Kanna, Peter Gottlieb, Wm. Ross and Wm. Jolly. The officers of the new company are, Louis Manning, president; Wm. Ross, secretary and treasurer. The poles will be set as soon as the fall work is over.

S. A. D. Meek, a prominent Mountaine farmer, was in the city, Monday.

J. C. Brach, of Glencoe, was in town Monday.

Thodore Vandehey, of Verboort, was in town Monday.

Paul C. Long, of Portland, was a visitor here, Sunday.

Jacob Hillbrand was in from Phillips, Friday.

Dr. Lowe, the eye specialist, will be in Hillsboro, November 24 and 25

The Argus gives all the news of the county. One dollar per year.

Hon. A. B. Flint was up from Kinton Saturday last, on telephone business.

Born, Friday, Nov. 11, 1904, to Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Peters, of Cornelius, a daughter.

The heavy rains will likely put a stop to ploughing, but the farmers are not troubling much, as they have already sown a large acreage of wheat.

There will be a shooting match for beef, mutton, turkeys and chickens, at the Forestal place, one and one fourth miles northwest of Cedar Mill, on Thursday, November 24—Thanksgiving shoot. All marksmen invited. Come and shoot. Lunch at the noon hour.

Typhoid fever is prevalent in one or two places in town, and a prominent physician advises that residents use paris green with which to sprinkle toilets and refuse deposits in their yards, as a preventive to spreading by flies. Paris green will kill the flies and their egg deposits, and these insects do more to spread typhoid than one can imagine.

Farm of 89 1/2 acres 1 1/2 miles from Cornelius; little farther to Hillsboro; 50 acres cleared, 32 of which is best beaverdam and swale; good six room frame house, large barn; all necessary buildings; orchard and berries; plenty of water; $60 per acre. All kinds of land tracts of all sizes; town property in Cornelius, Hillsboro and Forest Grove; right prices.—R. W. McNitt, Real Estate, Cornelius, Ore.

The windstorm of Monday night caused quite a general shaking up, and many fences were blown down, and some timber suffered. Owing to the fact that the ground was so thoroughly soaked the damage to the timber, however, was not extensive. The lights in this city were turned out about midnight, on account of the velocity of the gale, as it was feared that the machinery might suffer at the power house.

The farmers of Vinelands, on the ridge beyond Glencoe, are trying to get telephonic communication with the outside world, and several have agreed to make arrangements to have phones put in their homes. This, with the rural route now at their doors, will put them in a ready touch with all points of the county.

The National Grange met in Portland yesterday, and Washington county is well represented. B. G. Leedy, of Tigardville, Grand Master of the State, and his wife, are doing the grand for the Web-footers, while W. J. Wall has charge of the Washington county exhibit of agricultural and horticultural productions. Many have attended from all parts of Washington county.

Frank Wesenbeck, superintendent of the J. M. Russell Hop Company's big 100-acre hop farm, at Reedville, and of which A. J. Ray is manager, was in town Friday, and states that the company has purchased 100 acres from the Field & Reed farm company, and will this fall plant it to hops. This will give the company 200 acres of hops, and they will build another hop house, and enlarge the old one. Seven teams are now ploughing up the prospective yard.

Alfred Luelling, who in the '60's was county clerk of Washington county, and who also resided at Greenville in the early day, died at Oregon City last week. Many old pioneers here remember him. Luelling was one of the first to start a nursery in Oregon. He came to the coast in 1857, and was 72 years of age. Years ago a brother visited him while he lived here, and he was in a grove near the cemetery. Deceased's son was also county clerk here, and the late J. W. Morgan was his deputy.

Emile Hering, the 17 year old son of the Gaston sawmill man, was drowned Monday morning about 8:00 o'clock, in the Callahan & Hering mill pond, about 4 miles above Gaston. Several witnessed the young man when he fell into the water, but there was no boat handy and by the time they were at the place where he fell in, the body had sunk for the last time. There was nothing handy and the rescue work was therefore hindered. The body was recovered three hours after the drowning, and the funeral took place Tuesday. Coroner Brown was notified, but did not think an inquest necessary, as there were witnesses to the death.

MRS. GRAN, WIDOW, STILL HOLDS TO STORY

Says That Some Rascal is Trying to get her Money

EXHIBITS A THREATENING LETTER

Was up to Hillsboro, Monday Night, to see Officers

Mrs. Ada Gran, a widow, of Sand Spit, near Sherwood, still insists that some rascal is trying to rob her, and exhibits a threatening letter, demanding that she place money on the railroad track near her residence. She has her suspicions as to whom the party is, but other than the letter, has no evidence that would warrant an arrest. Mrs. Gran states that she is dissatisfied with the way the officers handled the case, and says that Robert and Larsen did not wait long enough or they would have caught the intending thief.

The officers still think that Mrs. Gran is somewhat excited, but even if she is right, there is not sufficient evidence, as yet, to cause the issue of a warrant. The man whom she suspects of sending her the letter, and attempting to get her money is a Sherwood man who has been in trouble in the past.

Mrs. Gran left for home Tuesday with an idea that officers should act, even on evidence that would not implicate any one, and would only make costs without results.

Dr. J. P. Tamiesie, of this city, is the first in the county to avail himself of the parasite, a "special nitrogenic bacteria," furnished by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, to use with the sowing of alfalfa. This parasite is necessary for the growth of this forage plant, and the germs are sent free to any one making application to the department. The germ draws the nitrogen, so necessary for the plant, as nitrogen that is the large per cent. of its growth—in fact it is the real feeder. While the state chemist advise sowing alfalfa in the Spring, the government advises sowing in the Fall, and this Dr. Tamiesie has done, on his ranch north of town. The government will send packages of the germ free, with directions, and one package will inoculate 5 acres. The germ is placed in water, and in this the seed is dipped before sowing, or, in case the seed is already sown, it can be mixed with earth after the solution is made, the water drained off, the earth dried, and then sown on the field. An experiment recently showed that where the solution was not used and 500 pounds of alfalfa were grown, a like area, with the use of the germ, produced 6,000 pounds. The germ helps to make the plant take deeper root, and this is the life and strength of this forage plant. Dr. Tamiesie has found in his experiment that alfalfa sown later, by two weeks, where the solution was used, gave a better growth than the older sowing did, where it was not used. He believes that the government is right about Fall sowing, as the plant has a moist soil for the roots to penetrate, and alfalfa must go down from 6 to 12 feet to make a success; should be mowed when six inches high, when first coming up, to force the roots downward. The plant must not be sown on land subject to overflow, or it will water-kill, and sheep and goats must not be pastured on the meadow. The crop will stand 20 years without change, and is a great producer, making the finest dairy feed imaginable. Dr. Tamiesie predicts that when alfalfa is proved a success, which it will be later, land will be worth $100 per acre, in this section. Those wishing this parasite can get it by addressing the Dept. of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry, Lab of Plant Phys., Washington, D. C.
