The conundrum now before the people of Portland is: Who is to be longest remembered by the Portland public, Dr. Toy, or San Toy?

The resolution of the Hillsboro council to have necessary sidewalks built, and to have old ones put in a state of good repair, should meet with popular favor. There is nothing that so lends to the good appearance of a town as good sidewalks. Now that the cattle are prohibited from running at large our walks can be kept in better condition than formerly.

If President Roosevelt will call an extra session for the purpose of tariff revision and railroad rate legislation, and pass it up to the senate, we shall discover which element controls that august body, the corporations or the people. And, if the senate shall refuse to grant proper remedial legislation, Roosevelt will invoke everlasting benedictions if he will take the criminal provision of the Sherman law as a cat-o-nine-tails, and wield it over the backs of recalcitrant corporations. Here is a chance for the president to emulate a homespun man yclept Andrew Jackson, who once had a little seance at a place called New Orleans, situated at the mouth of a river in the Southland.

PROBATE.

Will of late Nancy Williams filed and proved, and Jerome Palmater qualified as executor. Estate has probable value of $175. The will directs that her burial expenses be paid and the residue shall go to Chester Williams, a grandson, and Mona Williams, a grand daughter. It is understood, however, that the county has a claim which will come first.

Estate of Henry Haas, late of Sherwood, appraised at $4515.

Estate of Wm A Britton, late of Forest Grove, valued at $2385. Widow allowed $10 per month during settlement of estate in probate.

Mrs E W Paget appointed administratrix estate of E W Paget, deceased, late of Gaston.

Executors of estate of Fedde Carstens, deceased, authorized to make a distribution of $2800 amongst heirs of deceased.

The Argus gives all the news of the county. One dollar per year.

Jos. Rooks and wife, of Vine-lands, were in the city this afternoon.

N. H. Sheidel has sold his 30 acre farm north of town for $80 per acre—$2400.

Nile Bennett has purchased a half interest in the Pope Photograph Gallery.

Mrs. E. W. Paget, whose husband died in Portland, recently, was a visitor at probate court this evening.

Mrs. E. M. Christensen, who owns the Martin Smith ranch, at Lenox, is now residing at San Francisco.

Mrs. Louisa Elwell, of Portland, is this week the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Tucker, of Main street.

There's not very much talk about the motor line, but those on the inside say that the road will soon start construction.

Will Schofield, in business at Astoria, was in town today, accompanied by his father, Hon. Benj. Schofield.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, formerly of this city, have purchased property at Clackamas, and settled there.

Hon. G. W. Marsh was in from Centerville last evening. Mr. Marsh just recovered from a severe attack of lagrippe.

Paul C. Long, a brother of the Argus publisher, starts soon for a summer's stay in the Josephine mining district, prospecting.

J. S. Loring, who resided on the Steeples place, east of town, is now comfortably located, with his family, at Spokane, Wash.

Rev. Brumbach, of McMinnville College, will occupy the pulpit in the Baptist Church next Sunday morning. Everybody invited.

The telephone line out by the Connell place, R. B. Collins and Loui Manning, is being built today and in a day or so the boys will be able to talk to the city.

S. A. Traylor, who owns property around Beaverton, was in town yesterday, out from Portland, paying taxes. While here he subscribed for the "old reliable," the Argus.

In the neighborhood of $120,000 will have been collected in taxes around. After that date taxes will be delinquent and those failing to pay will be required to put up a penalty and pay one per cent. per month until paid. Quite a number are taking advantage of the half-payment plan.

President W. N. Ferrin, of Pacific University, and Mayor Johnson, of Forest Grove, were in town Saturday, attending the argument in the injunction suit brought by the city against His Honor, the Mayor, and Bud Watson, asking the court to declare that the charter of that city forbids the granting of a saloon license.

Ora Cook was in town from Corvallis today, and states that Frank Suess started this week for Salt Lake, where he has signed with the Salt Lake mine. Suess' many friends here hope that he will "make good"—and that he will be the opinion of all who have seen him behind the bat.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Imbrie, J. A. Imbrie, T. S. Weathered, and others have returned from the Woodmen blowout at Portland. W. F. Hollenbeck, Fred Hollenbeck, S. A. D. Meek and Frank Holcomb, were present from Glencoe Camp; R. L. Wann, Louis Kennedy and E. J. Moore were among those present from Cedar Mill.

Contractor T. P. Goodin was in from West Union yesterday, accompanied by Walter Cate. Mr. Goodin will soon start building a fine barn for Frank Imbrie, on the old Imbrie homestead. The structure will be modern in accommodation, and will be octagon in shape.

Montgomery McKinney, a former resident and pioneer of this county, returned the first of the week after spending the winter in the Big Bend country. He has bought a ranch on Columbia Slough, and will make his home there in the future.

A. A. Mead was appointed court bailiff by Judge McBride, and A. A. has been very busy guessing as to the outcome of cases. So far he has called "the turn" on everything.

Smokers like the Schiller and the Excellencia. These cigars are of the best stock. You can't fool an authority on a good cigar.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES

The Russians and Japs may again fight in a few days at a place called Spingai, where the Russians are strongly entrenched. The Czar will listen to no peace proposals that means a surrender of territory or a cash indemnity.

At the request of Taft all the canal commissioners have resigned and the Panama scandal is averted.

How an Infant School Was Founded
It is well known that the Society of Friends objects to all war. This conscientious feeling has sometimes placed individual Quakers in an awkward position.

For instance, during the war against the first Napoleon a ship that was partly owned by a Friend captured a Dutch vessel. The long continuance of the state of war prevented him for several years from compensating the owner and sailors of the seized vessel in accordance with his principles. In the meantime he invested the money received as his share of the prize, and when at last peace was declared he paid it over, with interest to date, to those who had suffered by the capture of the vessel.

Not being able to find them all, he founded with the rest of the money a free infant school in Amsterdam, this being the port from which the Dutch ship had sailed. The school was the first of the kind set up in the city, and it was housed in a building called "Holland's Welfare," which was the name of the captured vessel.

Willing to Amend It.
There was once in New York an Irish tailor whose eccentricities threatened to bring trouble to him, but whose wit always saved him. One morning a Mrs. Murphy came into his shop and found him working laboriously with a pencil and a piece of paper. She asked him what he was doing, and he replied that he was making out a list of the men on the block whom he could whip.

"Is Murphy's name there?" inquired that man's wife. The tailor confessed that, like about Ben Adams, Murphy's name headed the list. When Murphy heard of this he came to the shop with belligerence in his eyes. He inquired if the report was true. "Sure an' it's true. Phwat of it?" returned the tailor. "You little grasshopper," said Murphy, "I could commit suicide on yes wid me little finger. I could wipe up de sure wid yes wid me hands tied." "Are ye sure about that?" asked the tailor. "Sure I'm sure about it." "Well, then," sighed the knight of the shears regretfully, "I'll scratch ye aft the list."

Reliability Is Wanted.

The great prizes of life do not fall to the most brilliant, to the cleverest, to the shrewdest, to the most long headed or to the best educated, but to the most level headed men, to the men of soundest judgment. When a man is wanted for a responsible position his shrewdness is not considered so important as his sound judgment. Reliability is what is wanted. Can a man stand without being tripped, and if he is thrown can he land upon his feet? Can he be depended upon, relied upon, under all circumstances to do the right thing, the sensible thing? Has the man a level head? Has he good horse sense? Is he liable to fly off on a tangent or to "go off half cocked"? Is he "faddy"? Has he "wheels in his head"? Does he lose his temper easily or can he control himself? If he can keep a level head under all circumstances, if he cannot be thrown off his balance and is honest, he is the man wanted.—O. S.
