

THE 32ND ANNUAL GRANGE CONVENTION

Oregon State Grange Meets at Forest Grove Next Week

WILL HOLD SESSION THREE DAYS

State Lecturer A. T. Buxton Promises an Eventful Session

Editor Argus: The Thirty-Second Annual Session of the Oregon State Grange will convene in Masonic Hall, Forest Grove, Tuesday, May 23, at 10 in the morning.

All business sessions of the Grange will be open to all members of the Order in good standing Tuesday evening there will be held a public reception in Marsh Hall to which the general public is invited.

Wednesday evening will be devoted to a contest in Degree work by trained degree teams from various subordinate Granges, cash prizes being offered by the State Grange.

Thursday evening the higher degrees of the Order will be conferred upon all Fourth Degree members who may make application.

HILLSBORO DAY AT FAIR

Hillsboro Day, Forest Grove Day, and McMinnville Day will be celebrated at the Lewis & Clark Exposition on June 6, and the visiting delegations will assemble in the Oregon State Building at 11:00 a. m.

Bone, shells and grit, at Greer's. Peter Jacobson, of Lenox, was in town this morning.

Hon. W. H. Wehrung, who is now attending his duties at the Lewis & Clark Fair, states that the commission expects to have the big Fair ready for visitors on the opening day—June 1. Vice President Fairbanks is to start the wheels going.

The oyster season is gone—and now comes the ice cream months. We keep the famous Hazelwood, ice cream soda, confectionery, cigars and tobacco. Give us a call. Palmette's, at Pacific States Central office, Second Street.

Erwin Ritter, assessor in the field for the Bethany-Phillips section, was in Saturday, and reports that he has finished assessing, and has but little more work to do on the census.

If you are going to paint your house or barn, read our display advertisement on Kinkob paint. Just what you want, and a money saver, and a paint that will last.—Patterson & Son.

Beaverton residents report a snappy little frost down that way last night, and some little damage was done. Here in Hillsboro nothing was injured to amount to anything.

O. G. Wilkes has succeeded to the proprietorship of the Independent telephone line, and Fred Olson takes the ice cream and confection store, on Second Street.

W. W. Paine, of Glenoec, and who spent 15 years in the stock business in Klickitat County, Wash., was in town this afternoon.

Smokers like the Schiller and the Excellence. These cigars are of the best stock. You can't fool an authority on a good cigar.

The Masonic Fraternity will hold an interesting meeting this Saturday evening, and there will be work in the first degree.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Robinson, of near Laurel, were county seat visitors yesterday.

J. N. Swift, father, complained to the State of Oregon that J. W. Swift trespasses on the farm of the former, near Dilley, and a warrant was issued and the defendant brought to town last evening.

The defendant last Fall brought suit against his father asking the circuit court to give him $1200 for work alleged to have been performed at the instance of the old gentleman. The jury promptly returned a verdict saying that the young fellow had been paid all that he had earned.

Judge T. A. McBride, who holds court here every March, July and November, is mentioned as a possible successor to the late Judge Bellinger, U. S. District Judge. Judge McBride ranks first as a lawyer, and the Argus would be more than pleased to see Roosevelt appoint him. McBride is a splendid lawyer, and would lend dignity to the bench.

W. F. Nelson, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Joseph Downs, has nearly completed his contract of building the state portage road at Celilo, and the road will be opened May 30. Thus marks the finish of a great project, and Eastern Oregon has at least realized a partial open Columbia River.

For Funds to Procure Street Signs for Hillsboro

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 24TH

"The Iron Hand," by Local Talent, at the Opera House

On May 24th local talent will stage a drama at the Hillsboro opera house, the net proceeds to go into a fund to furnish painted street signs. The drama has four acts, is entitled "The Iron Hand," and the cast of characters is as follows:

Oliver Montford, who knows neither fear nor pity. C. C. Cate, Harmon Vanborn, a wealthy young artist. H. T. Bagley, Jack Minton (afterward known as Percy Plantaganet). C. H. Mitchell, Old Ikey. "Der most honestest man". W. F. Adkins, a servant. Bella, Jack's sister, afterward Mrs. Vanborn.

Act 1. At Montford's. The accusation. "Stop her. She stole the money." Act 2. At Vanborn's. The departure. "Go, and never let me see your face again."

Act 3. Old Ikey's den. The duel. "I'll fasten this murder on your guilty soul." Act 4. At Vanborn's. Reunited. "Free forever from the power of his iron hand."

John Spierzings, one of Greenville's reliable citizens, was a county seat visitor yesterday, and made the Argus a pleasant call.

H. L. Halvorsen and Miss Nora Anderson, of near Farmington, were granted a marriage license by County Clerk Goldman, May 13.

Shingles and roofs painted with our Black Diamond Roof paint will prevent moss and fungi. Sixty cents per gallon.—Patterson & Son.

Wesley Boscow will next year be a full fledged hopgrower, and his yard just outside the city limits is in fine condition, although no crop will be harvested this season.

Woven wire fence is cheaper than lumber. We can sell any kind of a wire fence in the market. Sole agents for the American Steel and Wire Company.—Schulmerich Bros.

The Hillsboro Ladies' Band has two new members, Mrs. W. J. Wall and Miss Blanche Rice. This makes a membership of seventeen. Both bands will play for the Decoration Day services.

L. T. Sinclair, who recently sold his place, located near the North Pacific Tile Factory, on the plains, leaves in a few days with his family, for North Yakima, where he expects to locate.

We have the largest stock of furniture in the county, and if you want good values for your money let us make a sale to you. See our special cash price iron bed for $1.95.—Patterson & Son.

The Oregon Condensed Milk Company, besides many daily shipments in response to their retail trade, this week shipped one carload of cream to Portland and two carloads to Puget Sound points.

Schulmerich Bros. have received from the factory the largest assortment of buggies, hacks and bike wagons ever brought to the county, and now have them on exhibition at their warehouses. Call and get their prices.

Thos. Philbin, who has been at the poor farm for a few days, left for his home north of Glenoec, this morning. The old gentleman said he could not stand to be idle, and that he would be all right as soon as he was at work. Thos. expects to find a coal mine on his ranch.

Go to Greer's for seeds.

Wm. Hostetler was a Portland visitor yesterday.

Bran, $20 per ton; rolled barley, $26 per ton.—Climax Milling Co.

A. W. Scott, of Reedville, was a county visitor last evening.

Peter Nelson, the West Union rancher, was in town yesterday.

P. J. Krieger, of near Centerville, was a Hillsboro visitor yesterday.

Just received—fresh Golden Cheddar Cheese.—H. Wehrung & Sons.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. James were in from their home on Baseline, last evening.

Are you a smoker? Then call for the Schiller or Excellence—Oregon manufacture.

Ralph D. Miller and wife, of Oregon City, are in the city, guests of Mrs. Miller's sister, Mrs. L. M. Hoyt.

The latest designs in lace curtains, portieres, Indian couch covers, blankets, etc.—Patterson & Son.

John Spierzings, one of Greenville's reliable citizens, was a county seat visitor yesterday, and made the Argus a pleasant call.

ALBERT IVES PLACED IN BAD PREDICAMENT

Arrested for Unlawful Cohabitation with Mrs. D. Smith

HEARING SET FOR NEXT TUESDAY

Prosecution Allege They Have Lived Together for Years

Constable E. R. Sappington went to Glenwood Monday and placed under arrest one Albert Ives, a well known young man who resided for several years around Forest Grove.

The warrant charges the defendant with unlawful cohabitation with the widow of Darling Smith, late of near Forest Grove, and who left an estate worth from $18,000 to $20,000.

Ives and Mrs. Smith built the Farmers' feed sheds on Pacific Avenue, Forest Grove, a few years ago, and they traded the property to R. M. Varley for some Cornelius property and a ranch near Glenwood.

Connected with the arrest is the fact that Darling Smith's will provided that the widow was to have a life interest in the real estate as long as she remained unmarried; and that if she married, the property was to descend to the four heirs.

It is hinted that Ives and Mrs. Smith were married while on a trip East about six years ago, but the truth of this is known only to the defendant and co-defendant. Judge Bagley fixed Ives' bonds at $600, and the hearing was set for next Tuesday.

E. B. Tongue, deputy district attorney, appears for the State, and M. B. Bump is defending.

SCHOLLS BEATS NEWBERG

Scholls beat Newberg in a nifty game of baseball last Sunday at Newberg and fully 500 witnessed the game. Newberg scored but twice, while Scholls captured eight runs. Newberg passed a man over the plate in the first and the Newbergers went wild—but their tune soon changed when Scholls batted seven over in the third inning. The lineup was:

- Scholls Newberg
Hickenbottom.....Stutzell
W. Getter.....Ryan
E. Sutherland.....B. Grath
Chapman.....Kincaid
Ratcliff.....Parrett
McFee.....Hamett
Heaton.....R. Grath
Wallan.....Hembree
E. Getter.....Heater

The Scholls' nine challenges any team on the West Side—and the Argus mentions this to the married men of Hillsboro and Forest Grove.

Hot Lunch For Farmers

I have opened a lunch counter in the Gem Saloon and will furnish hot lunches and short orders, on a minute's notice. Give us a call. DAVE'S LUNCH ROOM, in Gem Saloon.

The Argus gives all the news of the county. One dollar per year.

Assessor Wilcox will in a few days have the census of the entire county, and as soon as the various names can be compiled and tabulated the result will be made public.

Haase & Cady, logging for the Johnson Bros' mill, south of town, are working a crew of six men, besides themselves. Jos. Hinton, with his team, is also working for the boys, and the way they are falling timber looks good.

Michael Donhouser, of East Hillsboro, died May 15, from intestinal trouble. Deceased was born in Germany, Sept. 29, 1838, and came to the United States with his parents, when a child, settling in Illinois. When the Civil War came he enlisted with the Union army, and was disabled at the Battle of Gettysburg. He was married to Mrs. Mary Ann Bowman in 1879, and came to Hillsboro in 1888, Mrs. Donhouser dying ten years later. He was a member of the Hillsboro Baptist Church. Three children survive him: Mrs. Mary Sprow and David Donhouser, Eastern Oregon, and Daniel D., of Hillsboro. The funeral was held from the Baptist Church this afternoon, at 3:00 o'clock, Rev. McKee officiating.

Robert Morison, an extensive tea planter of Ceylon, arrived in Hillsboro the first of the week, and went out four miles north of town to visit his sister, Mrs. Eliza Ross, widow of the late Geo. Ross, the well known minister. Mr. Morison had not seen Mrs. Ross for 40 years. Coming across the Pacific Mr. R. touched at Australia, New Zealand and Honolulu, and he found the English language spoken at every point, a great tribute to the Anglo-Saxon tongue. He left today to cross the continent, and will embark at New York, for his home in Scotland. Mrs. Morison left for Scotland, enroute through the Mediterranean.

Michael Moore, who took one of the donations on a part of which Hillsboro is founded, is critically ill at his home on South Second Street, and it is not expected that he will live more than a day or so at the most. For many years Mr. Moore has been teaming around Hillsboro, but for the last year or two he has been unable to work. A few weeks ago he was stricken with paralysis, and the stroke has left him in a very bad physical condition.

The Hillsboro public school will close a week from tomorrow. The Board of Directors will start work on the new annex building just as soon as drawings can be made by M. Edee, and bids submitted. It is expected that the building will be completed by the time school starts next Fall, which will be some time in September.

Word comes from Forest Grove that Con McNameer, C. O. Rice and Will Billinger are about hors du combat as a result of the married men's ball game, Sunday. McNameer says it is worse than a trip to Alaska, while Rice says it is fortunate to be in the undertaking business so that funeral expenses will be light.

R. B. Porter, of Forest Grove, and a son of the late John R. Porter, the pioneer nurseryman, was in town yesterday. Mr. Porter's father sold Washington County the mammoth California evergreen trees which are in front of the courthouse, and planted them about sixteen years ago.

R. D. Straubal, special representative of the Lewis & Clark Fair, was in town today, arranging for Hillsboro Day at the Exposition. Accompanied by F. M. Heidel he visited Forest Grove, which will have the same date as Hillsboro and McMinnville, which will be June 6.

Judge T. A. McBride will be in the city Saturday, to close up business started at the March term of circuit court. It is possible that at this time a motion for a new trial will be argued in the case of Della B. Keen versus Susan Reynolds Keen.

It is stated that the Southern Pacific will soon inaugurate another Sunday train, going into Portland in the morning, and returning to the country districts in the evening. This will be quite a feature for people who wish to spend the day in the city.

The hop market still continues inactive, although the London market advanced two and one-half cents after the formation of the Oregon hop pool. Growers expect a raise in the very near future, however.

Walter H. Peters, formerly of Wineburg, Ohio, where as a boy he was known by C. Blaser, was in the city yesterday, from Seattle, the guest of Mr. Blaser and Wm. Hostetler. He is at present in business at Seattle.

E. W. Dant, the Reedville rancher and thrasherman, was in town yesterday, and states that not for years has the Winter grain looked so promising, and he expects the finest run of threshing this Fall that has obtained for fifteen years.

George Clark, one of the foremost expert accountants in this section of the west, and a member of the firm of Clark, Buchanan & Crandall, was a Hillsboro visitor, yesterday.

Mrs. J. W. Hutchinson, of Portland, and whose husband is one of Oregon's popular travelling salesmen, is in the city this week, the guest of Mrs. G. W. Schulmerich.

The Oregon pioneers will meet at the Armory in Portland, June 15, and many will attend from Hillsboro and Forest Grove.

Bert Cady and Jos. Hinton were in from the Johnson Mill, South Tualatin, this evening.
