

E. J. Lyons went to Salem last Sunday.

Geo. Hathorn, of Laurel, was in town the last of the week.

Herman Bronner, of Tigardville, was in town Saturday.

E. D. Mead, of Buxton, was registered at the Tualatin Saturday.

Born, July 4, 1905, to Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Marsh, of Centerville, a daughter.

Thos. Murphy, of Mountaineer, was in town Saturday, and reports having well in hand up in his section.

T. J. Harris, of Tillamook, was in town Monday, being over here to personally see what the proposed railway is doing.

Geo. Haase, who with Bert Cady is logging for Johnson Bros., was in town Monday, enroute to the Cornell celebration.

Another surveying corps came out from Portland Monday evening to assist Chief Engineer Davis on the Tillamook line.

Ervin Burkhalter, who purchased the Hare place, in South Tualatin, and Dan Burkhalter, of Farmington, were in town Saturday.

Agent Hinshaw reports that the Sunday train, morning and evening, on the Sheridan run, are as well patronized as the week day trains.

Born, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Powell, of Hillsboro, to Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Reynolds, of Wilson Creek, Wash., July 2, 1905, a son.

Miss Maude Tucker was in the city the last of the week, visiting her grandparents, Messrs. and Mesdames S. D. Powell and Thos. Tucker.

C. A. Peterson, who was postmaster and storekeeper at Buxton a few years ago, was a county seat visitor Saturday, talking railroad business.

Mr. and Mrs. Bentley and Miss Mabel, their daughter, of Spokane, have been guests of the Bowbys, of South Tualatin, and the Pittmans, and Adams, of this city.

John Vanderwal has just finished assessing the district to the north and west of Hillsboro and is now returning to the census of the full township enclosing Greenville and Glenoco.

Mrs. Susan B. Anthony, a noted leader, nationally, of the woman suffrage idea, was in Portland last week, attending the national meeting of suffragists. She is a cousin of Mrs. W. D. Hare, of this city.

J. W. Bailey and son, Paul, went to Newport this week, where Mr. Bailey has rented a cottage for the season. Mrs. Bailey, Miss Eva and Thomas will soon occupy the cottage for the summer.

W. G. Hale, a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Hale, of West Hillsboro, returned Saturday from Harvard College, where he is taking a course in law. Mr. Hale has been very busy greeting his many friends. He will remain here throughout vacation.

Hull Townsend, a 14 year old boy residing at Bethany, and a former resident of Centerville, killed a bear the other day, brain weighing 185 pounds. The boy received $30 for the carcass of his bearship—a very good day's work for the lad.

E. J. Lyons is the owner of a fine colt, sired by Lovelace, its dam being Snowbird. W. McQuillan, of southeast of town, is also feeling very proud of a colt sired by Vinmont. Each one expects a colt out of Homer Davenport's Hal B., next season.

Miss Downing, of Progress, and who is one of the county's successful teachers, suffered an operation of the ear this week, and Dr. F. J. Bailey found a piece of medicated cotton lodged on the drum, imbedded deeply. She had been suffering for two months with the obstruction and did not know where the trouble lay.

The weather bureau reports that there is a deficiency of 11.85 inches of rainfall for the season commencing last September. Notwithstanding this, Oregon has fine crops, and a big yield is expected unless the aphids and the hoplouse get in their deadly work. So, after all, it is not a matter of how much rain, but a matter of when it comes, to insure good crops.

Tuesday was a dull day in Hillsboro, the banks, court house offices and most of the business houses being closed, and business practically suspended. Outside of train arrivals hours Postmaster Cornelius kept the post office closed. Hundreds of teams passed through town enroute to the Cornell celebration and that was about all to jar the monotony of the county seat.

Grandma Townsend, aged 74, and residing with her daughter-in-law, the widow of the late J. C. Townsend, fell on the hillside in front of the Townsend home, three miles east of Bethany, one day this week and suffered a dislocation of the shoulder. The woman can give no account of how she sustained the dislocation, but it is supposed that she had a paralytic stroke, as she was subject to this, and fell. She was found unconscious after the accident and Dr. F. A. Bailey was called to reduce the dislocation.

Miss Lulu Palmateer is home after an extended convalescence in a Portland hospital.
