F. W. Schulzeis, of Bethany, was a caller at the Argus office, Tuesday morning.

Milos Burston, whose father took up the donation claim comprising a section of land at Leisyville, part of which is the Leisy place and the Wm. Bagley Sr. ranch, arrived down from Idaho Sunday and was greeting his old pioneer friends. Mr. Burston left Washington County about 40 years ago, and he finds but a few of the old timers left. He spent a portion of the day, Sunday, talking with Kenyon Crandall, pioneer of 1852, and the two, who in the fifties went mining together in Southern Oregon, had a great time talking over a horse race they had an interest in, together, in the early days. Crandall had a little filly that could go some, and another pioneer had a horse that he thought could race. After weeks of chasing Crandall for a race for $250, he and Milos Burston put up the money, and the race was run over on the McKay place, near Glencoe. Bill Johnson, who was killed by "Tang Smith," rode the Crandall mare, and Kok Enyart, who had bet the $250 that the horse would beat "turned" the Crandall filly, showing that pioneers had confidence in each other, even if they did bet oppositely. The Crandall filly won the race by a big distance. That was "fifty years ago," and fifty years is some—but to those two old boys, it was yesterday. Mr. Burston remains in the valley but a short time.

W. F. Nelson, who is wedded to a sister of Mrs. Jos. Downs and W. E. McCourt, of Hillsboro, is vice president of the Great Southern Railroad Company, which has just finished laying 30 miles of rails, from The Dalles to Dufur. Twenty-two miles more of road will be built before winter sets in. This line is destined to tap the rich central Oregon region. Mr. Nelson was the contractor who built the portage road for the state, and he is making a financial success of his railroad operations. He has visited in this city several times.

While you are looking for a fine range do not fail to drop into Cave's pioneer hardware store and take a look at the Moore range, the finest in the market. Considering quality and value these ranges are the cheapest in the market. We carry all kinds of fine heaters, also. Give us a call.—Cave's Hardware Store, Main Street.

S. B. Huston returned the last of the week from his trip down the Valley, and it is said that he now finds but two candidates in the field against him—C. B. Moores, of Salem, and Toozie. Each of those candidates are making a fight for Marion County, as both belong to the warhorses of the capitol county. Mr. Huston still thinks that he has the best chance to get the nomination of any republican in the field.

From this date all who buy $1 worth, or more, in my hardware store, will get a rebate of 10 per cent, and on purchases of between 50 cents and $1.00, a rebate of 5 per cent. will be given. This applies to everything except oils and white lead. We are going to close our business, and here is a chance to save from 5 to 10 per cent., and our prices meet all competition.—A. C. Archbold, Second Street. Independent phone No. 454.

A special agent of the Interior Department, who has been unearthing land fraud business, and who has been working on the present cases now at bar in the Federal court, was out Monday, going over some of the descriptions which have been homesteaded, and looking in to history to see if Uncle Sam has been treated fairly by homesteaders and prospective homesteaders.

The call for a 50th anniversary of Co. D, of the Indian war veterans is timely, and Lieut. Myers should get a good attendance of the remnant that fought the Indians in the early days. Every veteran who knows of a comrade in the distance should write him at once, inviting him to attend.

Dennis has received his new stock of shoes,—the American Gentleman and American Lady, the finest in the market. Come in and see them. The latest models. These shoes are advertised in every prominent magazine and newspaper in the world.

For sale for seed: Choice lot of Winter oats and oat seed. Will also sell five Merino Bucks, from the Baldwin Land & Sheep Co., flock of Hay Creek, Ore.—Wesley W. Paine, Glencoe, Ore., address, Hillsboro, R. F. D. 3.

P. C. Long, who has been prospecting the Summer down in the Grants Pass district, arrived in the last of the week, to spend the winter in and about Portland. He was out the first of the week, the guest of his brother, of the Argus.

Will buy sheep, or fat cattle, for the market; also good horses. Address me at Beaverton, Ore., and I will call.—J. G. Haynes, Beaverton, Ore.

Two old timers on the Southern Pacific West Side line are Conductors Cline and Webster. Cline went on the morning and evening run past Hillsboro 23 years ago, and Webster has been running the Corvallis train for 21 years, since 1884. Other men may come and go, but these two keep steadily at their work. These two conductors are perhaps better known to Washington County than any railroad men in the Southern Pacific train service in Oregon.

Mrs. Selma Slater, of Brooklyn, Wis., and Mrs. C. E. Hodgson, of Belleville, Wis., have arrived to visit their sister, Mrs. A. W. Barber. In company with Mr. and Mrs. Barber they departed Tuesday for Newport, where for the first time they will see the ocean. They expect to remain several weeks.

Conductor Webster, who has been in charge of one of the passenger trains between Portland and Corvallis since 1884, has trimmed his patriarchal beard, and it has produced quite a metamorphosis in his personal appearance. This big word means, in this instance, "coltish."

"As the Twig is Bent The Tree's Inclined"

How is it with the young people of your household? Are they saving money? Have they learned to appreciate the value of the dollar? Are you endeavoring to instill into their minds correct ideas concerning thrift and economy? Are you seeking the opportunity to "bend the twig"? Would you like to listen to a plain suggestion? If so, here it is:

Send the young folks to our bank with the first spare dollar that comes into their hands. The next dollar should be treated in like manner, and the practice so continued until a fixed habit of saving has been established. A goodly bank account will soon result; the young folks will get an inkling of the ways of business, and, being thus "inclined" are likely to grow up into straight and thrifty manhood.
