W. J. Benson and wife were Portland visitors yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carstens, of Manning, were in the city yesterday.

Call at our store and taste our syrup made of Maples Extract.—J. A. Messinger, Second St., Hillsboro.

C. W. Rollins, the salesman for a big St. Louis hat company, was home this week for a few days.

To generate mental and physical agility buy good groceries. We keep the best.—H. Wehrung & Sons.

D. H. Pierce, accompanied by his son, Edgar, of Harriburg, visited with his daughter, Mrs. W. P. Tucker, Tuesday.

Grand Ball at W. O. W. Hall, Cedar Mill, Saturday night, September 30. Tickets, including supper, $1.00.

Before purchasing a piano or organ have a talk with E. L. McCormick. For quality and price he cannot be beaten.

J. A. Imbrie is taking his annual vacation this season out in the Cate hopyards, where he is general superintendent.

Hoyt has just received the finest assortment of ladies' back combs and hair pins, latest styles. Call and see them.

Henry Mathee, of Laurel, was in town yesterday and states that hop picking will be finished in his section by the middle of next week.

Pacific Monthly—the finest Coast Magazine, $1.00 per year. Argus and Monthly for $1.50. Get your Winter reading now.

Miss Wilma Waggoner, of this city, has again assumed her position as assistant instructor in Pacific University's conservatory of music.

The subscribers of the Hendricks' bridge, north of Cornelius, have paid $127 into the county treasury to help pay the cost of the structure.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barr, of Gray River, Wash., arrived last evening for an extended visit with A. Sigler and wife, and to incidentally visit the Fair.

Miss Ethel Wright, of Grant City, Mo., is in the city, the guest of a relative, Clerk E. J. Godman. She will teach in the Cooper Mountain school this winter.

U. S. Hicks and wife, of California, are here, the guests of Mrs. Wm. Pitman. J. P. Hicks, formerly justice of the peace here, is now postmaster at Henley, Cal.

Forest Grove will send down quite a delegation to the development meeting at Eugene, Sept. 29 and 30, and the boys expect to land the next meeting at Forest Grove, next January.

Postmaster Cornelius has received orders that all rural mail boxes will be numbered. This order applies to all routes in the county, and will go into effect at once.

Clerk Godman issued 327 hunter licenses, and the number will be materially increased before the 10th of October, as the hunting season will cause many to get the necessary scrap of paper.

Paul Sterling, assistant to Agent Hinshaw, has returned from an extended trip to Southern Oregon, where he visited his parents at Drain. He went to work this morning, relieving Howard Baird, who had his place during his absence.

The bird season opens October 1, and then there will be shooting gaps in the country districts. They say that birds are very plenty this season and there will be plenty of sport unless the violators of the law get away with too many of the birds before the law opens.

S. E. Hoover has purchased the interest of Mr. Hanshaw in the Housley & Hanshaw butcher shop on Second Street, and will take possession on the first of the month. Mr. Hoover has been in the business here before, and it is no new experience for him.

Wm. Twigg, a real estate man of Ballard, Puget Sound, is here with his wife, visiting with Herman Collier and wife, of Scholls. Mr. Twigg is a brother of Mrs. Collier. The guests think that the Fair is one of the finest ever held, beating the eastern shows for timber and mineral.

The W. C. T. U. of Hillsboro will celebrate their twenty-first anniversary at the M. E. church next Sunday evening. The State President, Mrs. Lucia Faxon Addison, will be present to speak. Other special numbers of interest will be rendered. Everybody cordially invited.

Negotiations are now pending which, if effected will give the independent telephone system of this county connection with Portland. The local companies are making an effort to join with the automatic company, now putting in a system in the metropolis. If the junction is made it will mean a great benefit to the farmers who have the independent system in their homes.

PUBLIC SCHOOL OPENS ON MONDAY MORNING

Building is in Excellent Condition for Term

PLENTY OF ROOM FOR THE PUPILS

Attendance Will Doubtless be Light the First Week

The Hillsboro city schools will open next Monday morning, and the building is now in good shape to give ample room for the increase in scholarship. The painters and kalsomners are through with their contracts and everything looks clean and inviting. The attendance for the first week will doubtless be rather light, owing to the fact that hop picking will continue into next week sometime.

The corps of teachers, as stated two weeks ago, is:

B. W. Barnes, superintendent, and in charge of the Ninth Grade; Anna Chalmers, Eighth; Annette White, Seventh; Lucy Humphreys, Sixth; Ethel Norman, Fifth; Jennie Beamish, Fourth; Tennessee Weathered, Third; Rose Wilcox, Second, and Mrs. M. M. Pittenger, Primary.

PARLOR MILLINERY

A beautiful hat is not necessarily expensive; taste makes it attractive, not money. The latest fashions in ladies' and misses' hats are offered by Miss Lena Heese, at her home Parlor Millinery, on Third street. Hats re-shaped and newly trimmed, at small cost.

Call and see what may be had, at most attractive prices.

"ON THE BRIDGE AT MIDNIGHT"

"On the Bridge at Midnight," Klimt and Gazzo's famous scenic drama, for which the scenery alone cost $10,000 will soon be seen here. "On the Bridge at Midnight" is not a sensational melodrama but a genuine comedy-drama. It is refreshingly free from the cut-and-dried devices of ordinary plays and its scenic and mechanical effects are unrivaled.

The reproduction of a famous jackknife bridge in Chicago is what gives the play its title and the wonderful operation of this masterpiece of engineering is reproduced with thrilling accuracy.

The huge valves open and a vessel passes through. Wit and humor follow each other through the play like sunshine and shadow on a showery day until the devotion of a blind mother is finally rewarded and the part of Reddy, the mischievous urchin and lost child, is particularly mirth-provoking. And there are many other interesting characters. Opera House, Saturday, Sept. 30.

PUBLIC SALE

I will sell at the Five Oak Farm, 4 miles northeast of Hillsboro, at 10 o'clock, on

Chas. F. Henry, Owner.

B. P. Cornelius, Auctioneer.

THEATRE CONTRACT LET

There was a joint meeting of the directors and stockholders of the Hillsboro Amusement Association this afternoon, to consider bids on the erection of the new opera house, to be built on the corner of Main & First streets. The bids ranged from the one accepted, that of T. P. Goodin, for $2643, up to three thousand dollars. Mr. Goodin will commence building operations at once and inside 30 or 40 days a new playhouse will grace Hillsboro's business buildings—and it will be a credit to the town. All applications will be modern, and exits will be favorable in case of fire. This is a long felt want, as the man said when he bought a new felt hat, and it will be appreciated by the Hillsboro public.

The stockholders of the association are G. A. Wehrung, W. V. Wiley, J. W. and A. C. Shute, G. A. Patterson, J. W. Bailey, Dr. J. P. Tamiesie, W. O. Donelson and H. T. Bagley.

WHITTLESEY-MARSH

Married, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. H. Marsh, of Forest Grove, Ore., Sept. 18, 1905, Mr. Theodore Whittlesey, of Coos County, Ill., and Miss Winifred Marsh, of Forest Grove, Rev. Cephas F. Clapp officiating.

Last week's Argus made mention of a vine-weed which was choking clover to death on various county farms, the sample mentioned being brought in by C. E. Shores, of Mountaineer. Dr. Tamiesie sent it to Dr. James Withycombe, who reports back that the vine is called "dodder,"—and, by the way, it is a "doddering" bad bit of weed. The Doctor says that there are two ways to cover the infected spots with straw and burn; and the other way is to put coal oil on the places and burn. If the field is generally affected he says to prevent the stuff from going to seed, or plow the ground and sow to grain, and then re-seed.

The city council Tuesday night decided to plank Main Street between Second and Third; also two blocks from the Cong. church, east; and the block on Second, from Baseline, south; and a half block from Blaser's corner, south. They also decided to plank Main between Second and First, where planking was needed. Several new sidewalks were also ordered, and things are to move lively until the new work is completed.

Speaking of freight rates—W. Y. Smith, who came from Warsaw to Hillsboro in a freight car, in which he shipped his horse, wagon and effects, paid $281.45 for the 16 wheels that brought him from his Indiana town. Mr. Smith says that this was really more than the personal property was worth, but his horse just suited him and so he brought it along.

J. J. Kern, of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Relief Association, of Portland, was out today and called at the Argus office. Ferd Groner, of Scholls, and Sylvester Wilson, of Sherwood, are directors in this company. The Association has paid four losses this Summer, and their business is constantly on the increase.

R. M. Thompson, of Media, Ill., accompanied by a brother-in-law, H. C. Garrett, is here on a visit with Mrs. Mary Moore and family. Mr. Thompson is a nephew of the late Michael Moore, on whose donation land claim a big part of this city is located. They will remain the rest of the week.

Fred Ruffener and wife, of east of Glencoe, took the twin baby prize at the Exposition, this week, and they are very proud of the premium and what won it. Mrs. Ruffener returned from Portland this morning with the babies and prize, and was met by her husband at the depot.

Wm. Schulmerich, of Farmington, was up to the county seat yesterday, and in common with a number of the South Tualatin dairymen, has commenced sending milk to the Hillsboro condenser, where formerly they have been sending to Forest Grove.

The way J. W. Goodin is putting down timber on the Jackson Bottom Bridge is a revelation in bridge work, and a few weeks more, provided, of course, that the mills can get the material there, will see the big thoroughfare bridged.

A lady's black purse, or hand satchel, containing a bunch of keys and a stamp book, was lost between Hillsboro and the Cate hopyard, Monday. Anyone finding the same and leaving at this office will get a reward.

A horse belonging to Chas. Crocker, southeast of town, made a vicious lunge at his little daughter, Tuesday, and bit the little one's cheek. Fortunately no serious damage was done. The child was feeding the animal when attacked.

Van DeLaashmutt, of Witch Hazel, was in town this morning. Van has finished his hewed log bungalow, and it presents a handsome appearance from the Southern Pacific railway track.

Joseph Rector and wife, of McMinnville, and well known here, where Mr. Rector was superintendent of the water and light plant, passed through town Tuesday, enroute to Portland.

Farm for rent: A farm of 316 acres, near Glencoe, over 200 in cultivation, will be rented to right party. Apply O. G. Barlow, 201 West Park, Portland, Ore.

Beaverton Grange No. 324 is going to give a big Harvest ball on the evening of September 29th, and the invitations are being printed for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kizer, of Harriburg, were guests of Mrs. W. P. Tucker, this week. They are down to see the big Fair.

The residences of Mrs. Pittenger, W. E. McCourt and A. Niman are being rapidly completed by the carpenters.

George Hathorn, of Laurel, and who is one of the old timers of that section, was a Hillsboro caller yesterday.

John Dennis is hastening the completion of his house and barn on his dairy ranch just east of town.

Miss Mary Eagleton, of Portland, is here this week, the guest of Mrs. Pittenger and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Raffety were down from Mountaineer yesterday.

J. B. Wilkes was a Portland visitor yesterday.
