Mrs. Dora J. Elliott, for years engaged in teaching in the Hillsboro schools, now residing in the Horse Heaven wheat district, just southwest of the confluence of the Snake and Columbia rivers, in Washington, was down the first of the week, and called in this city. Mrs. Elliott has a homestead up there, and her daughter, Miss Annette, who is a graduate of this and the Portland High School, is with her. Next year Mrs. Elliott will have in 120 acres of wheat. This season Miss Elliott harvested 160 acres with a six-horse team, driving the six from the hurricane deck of a saddle horse. The wheat specimens left by Mrs. Elliott prove that the section is going to "make good" as a producer, the Fife, Blue Stem and Italian hard wheat, from which macaroni is made, growing to good advantage.

A Hillsboro young man attended the fair, recently, and went out to the first stop west of town, with his girl, on the passenger commonly known as the "Owl." The train stopped with the steps right over a cattle guard, and the young swain jumped down to help his company to terra firma, when she went through the cattle guard, the force of gravitation also forcing the young fellow along. They contended with about three feet of water and were soaking wet. The moon came out an hour later and the young fellow was seen sitting on the long bridge, waiting for his socks to dry—hanging over the railing.

The Cowlitz County, Wash., Advocate, published at Castle Rock, has just issued an edition descriptive of the county, in magazine form, that is a credit to the people of that community, and it is a safe wager that no matter how good the pay was for the effort that it was not sufficient to repay the time and expense of the publication. The work was metropolitan and well arranged, and should result in good for the section. H. F. Wilcox, of the Cowlitz Advocate, issued the paper, and J. M. Blaine, an experienced writer, furnished the copy.

UNSEEN DANGER IS ON OUR TRACK

From the time of our birth till we lie down for the last time. The best defense from the dangers of disease is vigor of body and activity of the natural functions. The head of action is vigor of body and activity of the natural functions. It must not be stimulation for that give but temporary effect, and the reaction is more than depressing. Take a tonic—one that will re-establish normal digestion and assimilation and prove a reconstructive rather than a promoter of waste. This will give you a fair chance to put in motion normal work of repair and tissue building.

Such a tonic was given in Nature's Laboratory, hidden in the ground and brought thence forty years ago by Dr. R. V. Pierce, who has made the treatment of lingering disease his life-long study and care.

He uses electric extracts instead of alcoholic ones, exactly proportioned and combined by processes of his own invention, first used in his private practice and now given out freely to the world in his "Golden Medical Discovery," which is composed of Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Blood-root and Mandrake root.

Mrs. A. T. Jones, of 223 Hayes Street, San Francisco, Cal., writes: "As a child I was delicate and great care was taken of me because some of my relatives had died of consumption, although my father and mother were healthy. I grew up with only the ordinary diseases of all children, but about two years ago I contracted a severe cold, which would not yield to such home-treatment as was handy. Doctor's were tried, but after three months of this treatment I was only worse. Then I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and an angel to say that three bottles not only cured me of the cold and cough, but made me feel better than I ever had before. I will always have a bottle of this medicine in the house."

These tiny, near-rooted antibiotics granules regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Do not upset the "acid habit," but cure constipation. One or two each day for a laxative and regulator, three or four for active cathartic, always in favor. Put up in vials; always fresh and reliable.

C. T. CROW ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

C. T. Crow, who was divorced from his wife several months ago, arrived in town, Saturday evening, from The Dalles, and about the first thing he did was to go out to his ex-wife's place to raise a disturbance. Mrs. Crow had heard of his being here and had gone to Mr. Walker's for safety. Crow went to the house and went through all the rooms, finally finding a young man by the name of Martinson, who is boarding at the Crow place while he is watching the Wakefield machinery, used on the Tillamook railway, bridges, and after a few words, Crow left and went to the Walker place, where he proceeded to round things. The officers were called up by phone, and Justice H. T. Bagley started out and met him coming in. Crow again went to the home of his wife, Monday evening, and while in the presence of his wife and son, jabbed a knife into his left arm. His arm was tied tightly and Dr. F. J. Bailey summoned. The physician sewed up the artery, which was a minor one, and brought the ex-husband into town. Sheriff Connell Tuesday evening gave Crow a ticket to The Dalles, and he left on the night train.
