THE HILLSBORO ARGUS.

VOL. XIII. HILLSBORO, OREGON, MAY 24, 1906. NO. 10

MARY RAMSEY WOOD ON HER 120TH YEAR

Mental Powers are Brighter Than for Some Time

LARGE DELEGATION VISITS, SUNDAY

Remarkable Woman who Bids Fair to Live on For Years

Sunday, May 20, 1906, marked the 119th anniversary of the birth a woman supposed to be the oldest female in existence. She resides, with a daughter, in Hillsboro, on First Street, adjourning the Crescent Theatre, and if appearances are any indication, is good for several more years on earth.

Mrs. Mary Ramsey Lemons Wood was born May 20, 1787, at Knoxville, Tenn. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1799, and was married to Jacob Lemons in 1804, the issue being four children, as follows: Mary Jane Lemons, born in 1806, died 1904, Isaac Lemons, born 1809, died 1866, Mrs. Nancy Lemons Bullock, born 1816, died 1868, Mrs. Catherine B. Southworth Reynolds, born 1830, still living.

Mrs. Lemons removed with her first husband to Alabama in 1837, and to Georgia in 1838, where Mr Lemons died the following year. In 1849 she removed to Missouri, and in 1852 crossed the plains to Oregon, settling in Washington County. She rode a bay mare, a favorite animal which she called "Martha Washington Pioneer," the entire distance.

May 28, 1854, she was married to John Wood, who built and managed for a number of years the first hotel in Hillsboro.

She is descended from English ancestry, her parents first settling in the Carolinas, and afterward removing to Tennessee.

Her father, Richard Ramsey, was a brickmaker, and built, it is said, the first brick house in Knoxville, Tenn. He dropped dead from heart disease.

Her mother died at the age 110. The day before, she walked five miles, knitting all the way, as was her custom.

Mrs. Wood weighs about 130 pounds, and is about 5 feet 3 inches in height.

Grandma Wood lives with her daughter, Mrs. C. B. Reynolds, who gives her every care and devotion. Mrs. Reynolds says: "Grandma cared for me when I was a child, and it is a great pleasure to me to return the kindness of years."

MRS. F. C. PAULI

Mrs. Anna Matilda Pauli, of southeast of Hillsboro, died at the family home, Monday, May 21, 1906, while asleep. She had been a sufferer from paralysis for several years, and, Monday afternoon, fell asleep to awaken no more. When the bed was approached she was found to have passed to the silent beyond. Deceased's maiden name was Anna Matilda Leuzler, and she was born in Doylstown, Pa., Feb. 13, 1847. She was married to Franz Carl Pauli, in Washington County, Kansas, Feb. 28, 1872. She was converted at a camp meeting near North Amherst, in 1859, and joined the Evangelical Association. Later she joined the United Evangelical Church, and always lived a consistent Christian life. The husband and three children mourn her loss: Mrs. Grant H Downing, Vernonia, Ore, Mrs. H. D. Schmeltzer, Hillsboro, and Franz C. Jr., at home. Four children passed on before her.

The funeral took place from the family home, Wednesday, at 1:00 p. m, Rev. H. L. Pratt, P. E., of Portland, officiating, and interment was in the Hillsboro cemetery.

MISS SADIE SMITH

Miss Sadie Isalena Smith, of southeast of Hillsboro, died May 18, 1906, at the home of her parents, her affliction being of tuberculous nature. Deceased was born in Mitchell, South Dakota, September 27, 1886. At the age of one year she moved to California with her parents, the family settling at Los Angeles. In 1904 they moved to Hillsboro. At her death she was aged 19 years, 7 months and 21 days. She leaves to mourn her loss, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith, a sister, Mrs. A. F. Tingstrom, Tahoe, Cal, a brother, Albert J., Los Angeles, and brothers Frank and Clarence, and a sister, Miss Pearl, at home. Deceased was of genial disposition, and was a universal favorite. The funeral took place Sunday, and interment was in the local cemetery.

J. M. Grosar, the Climax Mill man, will at once commence the erection of his brick, just north of the Second Street livery. He will put up walls a foot thick, and at present thinks he will build but one story high. He may build the other story this season, but if not, he will leave the first story so that the other may be added at any time. Walter Baldwin, the Forest Grove contractor, will commence on the building in a few days, and work will be hurried so as to have the place ready for occupancy before the fall season.

Schulmerich Brothers will sell farm implements as follows: 14 inch steel beam plows, $14 50; 12 inch steel beam plows, $12 50; 50-tooth peg harrow, $12.50; 14-inch sulky plow, $45; two horse disc harrow, $25.50; 1¼ steel axle wagon complete, $50. Buggies, backs, wagons of every description. We also carry a complete line of hardware, tinware, stoves, ranges and will undersell Portland on these articles.

Richard Stanton, the eight year old son of A. N. Stanton, of the Holly Farm, southwest of town, suffered a partial dislocation of a shoulder, last Saturday morning, while attempting to put oil on a wagon. He had raised the wheel and taken it partially off, when it fell against him, throwing the little chap down. Both shoulders were somewhat bruised. Dr. A. B. Bailey went out and attended to the lad.

The Oregon Pioneer Association will hold its annual meeting in Portland, at the Armory, corner Couch and Tenth Streets, June 14 All persons who came to Oregon prior to 1859 are eligible to membership. Begining with June 11 badges may be procured from Geo H. Himes, top floor city hall, Portland. The railroads will give reduced rates, the trip for one and one-third fare, for the round trip.

John W. and Chris. Johnson, of northeast of Glencoe, were callers at the Argus office, Saturday. They are going to build a new school house in their district, and their advertisement for bids appears in another column. Contractors should look the advertisement over. Jos. Allison drew up the plans and specifications, and they can be seen at this office.

Those wishing ornamental shrubbery, nursery stock, flowers (such as carnations, China asters, etc.,) should call on E. R. Morton, either at Hillsboro greenhouse grounds, north of the court house, or at the Beaverton greenhouse. Also have fine stock of celery, tomatoes, cabbage, cauliflower and other plants.

Max Burgholzer, of Timber, and who has been field assessing in the northwest portion of the county, was in Monday, turning in his detail sheets. He has assessed all of the section so far as the actual residents are concerned, and has only the non-residents to place on the tax roll.

People who want next Winter's wood should place their orders early this Spring, as the demand for shipment to Portland will be stronger this season than ever before. Orders placed now may prevent inconvenience next Fall.—H. D. Schmeltzer, Hillsboro.

Cornelius closed a very successful eight months school, last Friday, S. C. Sherrill being principal and the Misses Lund and Mooberry, intermediate and primary, respectively. The school held exercises Friday eve, under the direction of the two assistants.

Wanted.—Local Salesman to open and operate branch store in this town. We sell everything. Good rustler desired, with or without capital. Address W. D. Garman Company, 517 Chamber of Commerce Building, Portland, Oregon.

There isn't any question but what the News' Eve, of Forest Grove, has her optic on the Argus' Adam. Just wait, Dear, until we find that Eden and all the world—even our friend, Lieut. W. H. H., and he is dearly beloved—will be blotted out.

Clearance sale on skirts, cloaks and children's suits. These articles will be sold at cost to make room for our Spring stock. Anyone needing these articles will save money by calling at Schulmerich Brothers.

Judge W. W. Holcomb, of Los Angeles, and who is visiting with his mother and family of brothers and sister, near Bethany, was in town last Saturday. He is up for his health, his eyes being one of the causes of trouble.

The undersigned has a nice assortment of flowering plants, shrubs, etc.; also cabbage and tomato plants; also full-blood Brown Leghorn eggs for hatching purposes —Mrs. Agnes Campbell, Hillsboro

Gustav Bronner, of Tigardville, was up Saturday, on road business.

GOV. CHAMBERLAIN COMING ON JUNE 1

Will be at Forest Grove May 31, in Afternoon

TWO SPEECHES FOR THE COUNTY

Champion of Good Government Will Visit County

Governor George E. Chamberlain, one of the best governors the state ever elected, will make two speeches in Washington County. He will address the people of Forest Grove and vicinity Thursday afternoon, May 31, at 2:00 o'clock, and will speak at Hillsboro at 2:00 p. m., on Friday, June 1. Citizens of the county are invited to appear and hear what the Governor has to say of his administration. Gov Chamberlain is easily the foremost speaker in Oregon, and his administration has been such that all citizens speak of it with pride It is noticed that his adversaries do not attack his ruggedness of purpose, and his strict integrity. Come in and hear the "veto governor."

Know What you are Doing

Farmers, did it ever occur to you that it would be satisfying to know just what you are doing, from year to year; where the leak is; which branch of your farming is eating up the profit of another branch? Unless you know this, you can hardly make a success. If you do know this you can easily rectify errors of the past and get on safe and profitable ground. The Argus publisher recently had the pleasure of looking over the Central Publishing Company's "American Log Book" for Farmers, and in this volume is found a perfect system of book keeping, easily adapted, which will carry your accounts of expenditures and receipts, for twenty years to come; with yearly balances for the various departments of the farm; for your dairying; for your grain crop; for your fruit yield; for your stock; your expenses of all kinds, under their proper headings, and every feature of your farm transactions. It also includes a number of receipts for sickness in stock and poultry; a fine compendium of legal forms, such as you are likely to use on a farm at any time; blank notes, blank deeds, blank bills of sale, contracts; and every possible legal document that you might be likely to use. It also gives explicit directions for the care of stock and poultry, and this information is gleaned from the best American authorities

Here is a work that is neatly and substantially bound, and gives you an accurate idea of your month's business; year's business, and twenty year's of business. The work is comprehensive, and a fourteen year old boy can keep it correctly. The book is sold at a price that is astonishingly low. You will be called upon in a few days, and the Argus bespeaks for the visitor a respectful consideration. It will be worth your while to look it over. This provides a way to make your business efforts a matter of record, and no progressive farmer should be without one. The Central Publishing Company has offices on Pacific Avenue, Forest Grove, and over 100 farmers and business men have already purchased the system.

P. R. & N. RAILWAY IS BUILT TO BANKS

Steel Laid to the New Town Monday Morning

REGULAR TRAIN SERVICE SOON

Wakefield, of Portland, Gets Bridge Contracts

Banks appears on the railroad map of Washington County, the P. R. & N. Railway having Monday morning reached the town with its steel, and the first train out of the city to Hillsboro carried A. A. Mead, of Buxton, and Ben Dooley, of Banks The little town is on a steady boom, and its business men see a great future.

Wakefield, the Portland contractor, has received the contract of building the four or five bridges between Banks and Buxton, and has started a crew to work. The Company expects to reach Buxton in five or six weeks—probably by July 4.

Knights of Pythias

Grand Chancellor M. F. Davis, of Union, Ore., visited Phoenix Lodge No. 34, Knights of Pythias, at their Castle Hall, Monday evening, in official capacity, and about fifty knights greeted the head of the Domain of Oregon. There was work in the second rank and the Grand Chancellor highly commended the way in which Phoenix did the work Mr. Davis addressed the body in a lecture that has never before had its equal in an official visit, so far as practical advice is concerned. He advised the Pythians to own their own Castle Hall and become a part of our commercial world. This, he said, would lend a solidarity to the institution that no other effort would bring about.

Grand Chancellor Davis went to Cornelius Tuesday night, for an official visit, and will also visit Forest Grove, this week.
