HOW IT IS DONE

A Chicago Federal judge has decided that the trust people can not suffer criminal prosecution, as they only surrendered their books from a supposition that Garfield could make them turn them over. As these books contained the evidence that would convict them the judge holds that under this circumstance it can not be used as evidence against them, personally, and they are accordingly immune. The trust, however, can be prosecuted, says the judge. This means that the corporation may be fined, but the individual members of the firm can not be imprisoned. Here, certainly, is a fine distinction, and it should apply to poor as well as to rich violators of the law. If this be good law then thieves should incorporate, and only their incorporation could be liable to fine for theft, as the person would be immune, even with stolen goods found in possession of the defendants.

The same proposition is bound, sooner or later, to find its counterpart in railroad circles, and, as the Argus has repeatedly held, there is but one way to do away with the hardship worked on the small shipper, and that is to have government ownership of railways.

Quite a number of the local friends of Senator C. W. Fulton are quaking in their boots over the possibility of his not being returned to the United States' upper branch of Congress. They aver that one W. S. U'Ren, of Clackamas County, is next in line. U'Ren, like Bourne, was a populist in 1896, and he was wont to say, along with Jonathan, his political Napoleon, that all a man needed to get office in Oregon was to get on the Republican ticket no matter if his theories were counter to republican declarations. It is whispered that wires are being laid for U'Ren to take a fall out of the Clatsop county statesman at the next primaries. With Jonathan's sack behind him, and with U'Ren's persuasive abilities along the line of campaigning, if he shall enter the race it will not surprise the natives to see Mr. U'Ren run like the "devil" in the next shake of the political earthquake.

John D. Rockefeller, a patriot of 1896, is now in Europe, to avoid criminal summons; many of the life insurance patriots of the same period, who spent widow-and-orphan money in 1896, are in disgrace; many of the prominent country-savers are in prison or under indictment—and W. J. Bryan, whom these patriots downed with their money, and who was then regarded as a dangerous lunatic, is still at large, and not confined in a padded cell. It is expected that Bryan will visit some of the prisons when he returns and look at some of his detractors who saved the national honor of 1896—but in so doing lost their own.

Nothing has been heard of the electric line from Portland, lately, but it appears that E. H. Harriman is still striving to give this county a better passenger service. Perhaps that gentleman will build us an electric line himself if the United Railways fail to move in the near future.

Canned meat sales have fallen off fifty per cent. since the muck-raker took a fall out of the packing houses. Perhaps President Roosevelt will apologize to the men with the pen.

The railroad rebaters are laughing up their sleeve at the alleged rate bill. It will take a small shipper clear to the U. S. Supreme Court before he can get justice—and very few will avail themselves of that privilege.

Portland's growth, this year, from a standpoint of building, is phenomenal. Portland is just awakening to her commercial supremacy, and with the decline of the mossback the city will come into her own.

Poll Parrot papers allege that Chamberlain used Roosevelt's name to get votes at the recent election, and it is notorious that they all used Roosevelt's name to defeat Chamberlain. The question now is—was Roosevelt endorsed, and would he have been endorsed, no matter how the election resulted?

Congress will soon adjourn and the Congressional Record will suspend publication until next Fall.

Wouldn't it be a joke if Bob LaFollette, of Wisconsin, should get the Republican nomination for the Presidency, as revenge and retribution on Fairbanks, who failed to see the cantankerous "Bob" in the Senate, the other day?

SAFETY AND PROFIT

Safety and profit are the two important things to consider in selecting a bank. Money is such a hard thing to get and so hard to keep, that it is folly to place it where it will not be safe. Thus those who are saving money naturally wish it to earn more money. Therefore, the financial institution which combines safety and profit is a desirable depository. Such is offered by the Hillsboro Commercial Bank.

SUMMONS

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON, FOR WASHINGTON COUNTY

L. R. Wilhoit, Plaintiff,
E. L. Wilhoit, Defendant.

To E. L. Wilhoit, the above named defendant:

In the name of the State of Oregon you are hereby commanded to appear in the above entitled cause, on or before the expiration of six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, the first publication thereof being on the 28th day of June, 1906, to-wit: On or before the 16th day of August, 1906, and answer the complaint therein filed against you. And you will please take notice that if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in her complaint, to-wit: For a decree dissolving the marriage and marriage contract existing between you and the plaintiff, upon the grounds of desertion, and for the costs and disbursements of this suit, and such other and further relief as may be equitable.

This summons is served upon you by publication by order of Honorable L. A. Hood, County Judge of Washington County, made and dated on the 28th day of June, 1906, and which order requires publication thereof in the Hillsboro Argus, once a week for six consecutive and successive weeks, beginning with the issue thereof dated June 28th, 1906, and ending with the issue thereof August 16th, 1906, and that you appear and answer on or before August 16th, 1906.

Geo. R. Bagley, Attorney for Plaintiff.

REFLECTIONS WHILE TEN DAYS IN A DARK ROOM, AND SIGHTLESS

(WRITTEN FOR THE ARGUS BY W. W. HOLCOMB)

Eternal darkness everywhere surrounds the sightless man That fate condemns to daily woe, since Time her flight began; The grand old bard, who epics wrote, preserved his stately mind, Yet age and want cruelly yoked him to the poor and blind.

Eternal darkness everywhere, above, about, around; A midnight blackness day by day, and knowledge but a sound; The starry night, the sunny day, face of friend or foe, Dark, black, all is black, and blind where'er we go.

Eternal darkness everywhere, forever day and night, Great God, what boon it is to have the glory of the sight; To see the beauties of this world, and those most near and dear, And walk the streets or mountains climb without a single fear.

Eternal darkness everywhere, but sunlight for your friends; Dark to-day—tomorrow black, midnight that never ends; From such a fate deliver me, O Lord of life and light; Why should I fight a vainless fight, against eternal night?

Eternal darkness everywhere, a rayless, sightless doom; The mind alone upon her throne can pierce the awful gloom; But when the mind in ruins falls, and shattered reason dies, Then welcome Lord, the silent grave, the mystery of the skies.

NOTICE

We will begin Evangelistic Inter-denominational meetings at Banks, in the Tabernacle, to hold three or four weeks. Everybody invited to the Gospel Feast. Read Matt. 25 chapter. Dr. Eaton and wife, Evangelists.

We just closed a 10 days camp meeting and conference at Gaston, with good results. Five were baptized, and believers built up, and funds to meet all expenses and money in the treasury.
