The LION SALOON

E. J. LYONS, Proprietor

Screen doors, adjustable window screens.—G. A. Patterson.

Chief Engineer Davis, with the P. R. & N., is now camped over on the Salmonberry, a stream that runs into the Nehalem. He says there is fine fishing over there, and that the boys are living on trout.

Henry Villiger, of Forest Grove, and who is Mine Host, at the Colonial, at South Forest Grove, was in town Tuesday, and made the Argus office a pleasant call. Mr. Villiger thinks Washington County has a great future.

For sale: 20 acre land, 1 mile north of town; 4 acres beaverdam on place. Goes for $1,000. Inquire at this office.

Professor Powell will organize a boys' band and all persons wishing to have their boys learn music will please register at Hoyt's Store. Mr. Powell can get instruments at a reduced rate. For further information inquire at Hoyt's store.

J. C. Schulmerich, mayor of Banks, was in town Tuesday. J. C. says that Banks is going to incorporate at the next session of the legislature. Here's hoping that Joe will be the first mayor in fact, in case the new town gets a charter.

Smokers like the Schiller and the Excellencia. These cigars are of the best stock. You can't fool an authority on a good cigar.

J. M. Greear calculates to occupy his brick on Second Street, next door to the Emerson restaurant, by the middle of next month, and, perhaps, before. The roofing is now on, and he is only awaiting the gravel with which to put in the concrete floors.

For sale: one dwelling house, 8 rooms; one dwelling house, 9 rooms, one lot for warehouse on S. P. track, 40x89 feet.—Jno. Milne, Hillsboro, Ore.

J. A. Zimmerman, of Roseland Farm, was up Saturday, to see how that grandson was getting along. J. A. says that he has every tooth, and never had the toothache, and that to be called "Grand-dad" seems out of place.

For sale: Span mares, about 1100 each; perfectly sound and true; harness, good, and wagon 24, practically new; all for $275.—R. L. James, 2 miles west of Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Denison left Tuesday morning for Tacoma. Mrs. Denison will visit a few days at Sound points, while Mr. Denison will at once go through to Missoula and bring a shipment of buffalo for the Portland city park. While in the city they were guests of L. A. Long and wife.

Speaking of groceries—if you want the finest staple and fancy groceries to be found in the market, try John Dennis. We is after your trade, and once a customer, always a customer.

Jasper Keffer was in Monday, and says that the new sawmill, being located on the Thos. Otis farm, Glencoe, by J. C. Beach and Mr. Keffer, will be running this week. They will saw railroad ties, chiefly, and rough lumber. Their motive power will be a 20 horse power engine.

Taken up: Brown muley steer, top cut off left ear; light brown around nose; owner call, pay charges, prove property, and take same away. Owen Murray, Cedar Mill.

Joe W. Hayes, of Forest Grove, was down Saturday, rustling pickers for the Jos. Williams' hopyard, above Gaston. He says that 150 pickers will be required to handle the yard this season, and that Mr. Williams will have 100,000 pounds of the dried product. Mr. Hays will have charge of the yard and later on will buy hops in this territory.

Dennis has received his new stock of shoes,—the American Gentleman and American Lady, the finest in the market. Come in and see them. The latest models. These shoes are advertised in every prominent magazine and newspaper in the world.

Miss Lena Hesse left the Yellowstone Park Tuesday, and return to Hillsboro tomorrow. She was one of those chosen to go with the Oregonian excursion, and the young ladies have been having the times of their lives. Their trip there has been one round of receptions, and the girls all speak highly of the manner in which the Oregonian has conducted the excursion.

R. W. Montague, one of Portland's leading democratic politicians and attorneys, was in town Monday, attending circuit court. Mr. Montague took an active part in Gov. Chamberlain's election, but says that he can not yet understand why Withcombe was beaten, considering that he was a clean man, and there was no schism in the party.

E. W. Dant, the Reedville three-erman, was in town Tuesday, and says he will start up his machine next week. Fall wheat and barley are now being cut, and Mr. Dant says the warm wave in his section apparently did no damage. Mr. Gottleib, of north of town, however, says out his way there is no question but that the warm weather has done some small injury. The Lepeschat machine starts next week, also, and the other machines in the county will follow suit.

Hillsboro is to be congratulated upon one thing—whenever the business men of the town start in to get anything they generally land it. For instance, the condenser was promised them if they would raise a certain amount; it was raised, and the condenser was built, giving employment to a large number of people. Hillsboro was notified that with a right of way to Banks and Buxton a railroad would be built; the money was raised for the right of way, and the railroad has been constructed to Banks, and in a few days will be built to Buxton. J. C. Hare told the business men of the city if they would furnish a site he would put up a mill; the site has been subscribed for and the mill will be built before the rainy season comes, thus giving this city another payroll of not less than thirty men at good wages. A pull together and something is always accomplished.

The warm weather was broken Sunday night, that being the first cool night for some two weeks. Tuesday was cloudy in the morning, doubtless from ocean fog. The recent hot spell was the most continuous known here for some weeks, the thermometer registering 100 in the shade, very frequently. As a matter of fact there were no prostrations from the heat like there is in the east.

The O. & C. R. R. Company in 1885 sold the late Conrad Schaeffer 320 acres in the Wallace settlement, above Shady Brook, on the contract system. Payments to the extent of $483 principal and $234.60 interest, have been made, and the Company alleges there is yet due $1070.61, and they ask the circuit court to annul the contract and give the land back. The children of the late purchaser reside in Portland.

Attorney John M. Wall and family went up to Roderick Falls, on Galea Creek, the last of the week. Mr. Wall returned Monday morning, to attend court, but will soon return to remain there during the warm weather.

Maud Muller—Latest Edition

(By Ed. S. Sparks, Forest Grove)

Maud Muller, on a summer's day, Filled her balloon and flew away. It may seem strange that Maud no more, Raked hay, barefooted, as of yore;

But her dad struck oil, the reason why, Our sweet young Maud now sails the sky. A crowd had gathered to see her off, Some there to praise her, and some to scoff!

But Maud, with a chuckle, said, "Let 'er go, When it comes to flying, I'm all the show!"

The wind blew high, the wind blew strong, And carried Maud and her ship along. As onward she flew, she hummed a tune, "I hope I'll meet with the Judge to-morrow."

For sailing the sky alone—ah, me! Is not just what it's cracked up to be. Away in the distance Maud saw a speck, "The Judge and his aeroplane, by Heck!"

Then Maud she lingered, as maids will do, And watched the Judge as he toward her flew. A moment later, with buzz and whirr, The Judge had anchored 'long side of her.

Now, Maud pretended a great surprise, But a sly look stole to her hazel eyes— And so when the Judge said "Come, my dear— There's room for two in my 'aero' here!"

Miss Maud crept forth from her big balloon, And sat by the Judge all afternoon. To keep her safe from hurt or harm, Around her waist he placed his arm;

They flew to east, they flew to west, O'er canyons deep and mountain crest, And as they flew, the Judge the while, Spoke words to Maud that made her smile.

At last he gave the wheel a twist, And steered his 'aero' through a mist. "When 'er we pass a cloud like this, The toll, dear Maud, must be a kiss!"

Maud gave him one, perhaps a score; One glass, or kiss, but calls for more. "Gee! Aint this great," his judgship cried, "Well I guess yes," sweet Maud replied,

"Of all the places where love's allowed, I'd rather sit behind a cloud,"

When stars were out and night had come, The Judge and Maudie flew back home. Down at her door he left the Miss, And spoke to her in words like this:

"The best day, ever, of my life! But, gosh sake, Maud, don't tell my wife."

If you'll keep mum I'll come again And take you in my aeroplane."

As from her face Maud wiped a smudge, She answered coy, "I'm with you Judge."

Do You Want to Know

What You Swallow?

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of more healthful and economical living. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink, or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest knowledge can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery," the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator; also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous and invalid women.

This bold and outspoken movement on the part of Dr. Pierce, has, by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all harking critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphlet has been compiled, from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsements by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated, antacid granules. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver, and Bowels. Do not loosen the gall habit, but cure constipation. One or two each day for a laxative and regulator, three or four for an active cathartic. Once tried always in favor.

$50.00 GIVEN AWAY. In copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Advisor, a book that sold to the extent of 50,000 copies, a few years ago, at $1.00 per copy.

This year we have away $50.00 worth of these invaluable little books. This year we shall give away $50.00 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 recent stamps to correspond to the amount of mailing only for book in stiff paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SAFETY AND PROFIT

Safety and profit are the two important things to consider in selecting a bank. Money is such a hard thing to get and so hard to keep, that it is folly to place it where it will not be safe. Thus those who are saving money naturally wish it to earn more money. Therefore, the financial institution which combines safety and profit is a desirable depository. Such is offered by the Hillsboro Commercial Bank.
