He went up to the Alberta some time ago, in company with Fred Gault, also of Tigardville.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for female weaknesses, debility, nervous "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomachs, indigestion, or dyspepsia, liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honor in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merit. They cannot be classed as patent medicines for they are neither.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted, gratis, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Mary E. Loomis, of Hillsboro, has sued Oscar H. Loomis for divorce, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, and that he at times called her names too vile to be printed. She alleges that he had called her a "squaw," a "snake," and other terms equally undesirable. She wants Loomis restrained from selling a team and other personal property—the team, she says, is her own—and the custody of a minor son, Virgil. She also asks for $15 alimony, monthly. M. B. Bump is the attorney for plaintiff.

While the Streams Bros' threshing was working on the McElowney place one day last week, the straw stack next to the blower became ignited and soon there was a mass of flames at the rear of the machine. John Powell, the engineer, soon had the engine hooked to the separator and had the machine away from harm. No grain was burned. It was a lucky escape for the separator.

George R. Bagley has sold his hoptanach, below Newton, to Nele Larsen, a Rainier butcher, owning an adjoining tract. The deal includes this year's hoptanach. Mr. Bagley will experiment in the dairy business on his Dudley mill property, which is especially adapted to that purpose, and by Spring he expects to have a nice herd in milk. Wm. Bagley Jr. will have charge of the north plains ranch.

Wallace Wilson, son of Sherburne Wilson, and who is in the saloon business at Grangeville, Idaho, was here Sunday, the guest of his father. Mr. Wilson has extensive business interests in The Dalles and was down looking after his rentals, and incidentally taking a course of baths at the St. Martin Springs.

Frank G. Mitchell, who was raised in this city, and who is interested in the drug business at Pendleton and Athena, came down the last of the week, on a vacation, and was the guest of his mother, Mrs. Margaret McKinney. F. G. says that Pendleton still continues to thrive as the center of a large stock and grain district.

J. A. Kirkwood, of Reedville, was in town Saturday and says that there will be plenty of hop-picking down his way when the season opens. He reports that the continued drouth has dried some of the arms on the vines in his section, although the yards as a rule look very well.

J. S. Swalley, who formerly owned a big ranch near Reedville, and who left here last Spring for Misou, Cal., and who was through the earthquake disturbances of last April, arrived from the Sound, Friday morning, and went on out to visit her daughter, Mrs. Geo. J. Corrigan. Mr. Corrigan was in from Shady Brook to meet her.

The Ladd & Reed Farm Co., of Reedville, have so far given the largest hop contract, figured into dollars, that was ever recorded in Washington County. Sixty-five thousand pounds, at 16 1/2 cents, is "going some."

Miss Zelma Lewis, of Salem, is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. D. A. Carter, of west of Hillsboro. Miss Lewis spent Sunday with her friend, Miss Carmel Rollo, who is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. H. T. Blair.

Marshall W. F. Deessinger, of Beaverton, was in town Saturday. When asked as to whether Beaverton was dry Sundays, as reported to the outside, Deessinger looked wise and said the town was a model of propriety at all times.

FACTS THAT TALK

THIS space has been purchased by Pacific University. This same matter will appear in each issue until the expiration of the advertising contract. It is an advertisement that is intended to convey to Washington county citizens a few facts about an educational institution with which they are not unfamiliar. That they, as well as others, may become more familiar with Pacific's present standing, within and without Oregon, illustrated literature, fresh from the press, may be had for the asking. This literature is replete with facts that tell and figures which convince. The articles are written by alumni and students of Pacific. They are all well worth the reading. Those contributed by students set forth present conditions in the institution, and are convincing because they are true. Of special interest are the articles written by alumni, Hon. H. W. Scott, Editor-in-Chief of The Oregonian and Rev. Horace M. Ramsey, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Portland.

Pacific University has the largest endowment of all the private colleges in the Northwest. In buildings, laboratories and library it is the best equipped Christian college in Oregon. Not only does the amount of its productive funds very far exceed that of any of these institutions in the State, but it is greater than that of all combined. For this reason Pacific has always been able to secure superior instructors and has never had to depend upon the enrollment of students for its income.

Pacific University in the past has been rather conservative in the matter of advertising. And it makes public these statements now, only because there are reasons why it seems advisable. Pacific still adheres to its policy of drawing students rather than numbers; of maintaining creditable scholarship rather than crowded enrollment.

THE FALL TERM OPENS SEPTEMBER 19

Hon. W. W. Holcomb, who left here recently for Honolulu and the Orient, before embarking from San Francisco, sends the Argus a postal, with greetings and best wishes.

Christ Johnson, of above Shady Brook, was in town Tuesday. He states that the lumber for their new district school house has not yet been delivered, owing to the congestion of orders.

J. C. Miller, of the Arcade school, was down the last of the week, and says that the hills are going to furnish the Washington County potato crop this year, the vines looking much better up there than down in the plains country.
