Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth after a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1906) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble, grovelling retraction, with its inconspicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal, for $300,000.00 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business, and that no alcohol, or other harmful, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatever; and that Mr. Bok's malicious statements were wholly and absolutely false.

These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce is greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble grovelling retraction, set in small type and made inconspicuous as possible. The writer was, however, brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York State, which completely vindicated a verdict in the Doctor's favor. Thus his traders came to grief and their base slanders were refuted.

Thos. Haines, of Scholls, while working on Francis Cota's hop house, painting, Saturday sustained a fall by reason of the hook coming loose from the roof. The hook struck him on the head, badly cutting his ear and scalp, and rendering him unconscious. He had a fall of 22 feet. The accident happened about 11 a. m., and Haines was unconscious until evening.

SALEM STATE FAIR CAMPERS

There is every indication of fine weather for Oregon State Fair week, September 10-15. This kind of weather means that these camp grounds will be crowded and that the late comers will have to go to the old grounds northeast of there. Tell your friends to go early and have their tents in position. Space can not be reserved after Tuesday of Fair week, if that long. The crowds are going. If you can not get there before Tuesday of Fair week, have your tent there and up. It will save you trouble and annoyance. Remember, that fine weather means over 1500 tents on this camp ground. Come early.

FACTS THAT TALK

THIS space has been purchased by Pacific University. This same matter will appear in each issue until the expiration of the advertising contract. It is an advertisement that is intended to convey to Washington county citizens a few facts about an educational institution with which they are not unfamiliar. That they, as well as others, may become more familiar with Pacific's present standing, within and without Oregon, illustrated literature, fresh from the press, may be had for the asking. This literature is replete with facts that tell and figure which convince. The articles are written by alumni and students of Pacific. They are all well worth the reading. Those contributed by students set forth present conditions in the institution, and are convincing because they are true. Of special interest are the articles written by alumni, Hon. H. W. Scott, Editor-in-Chief of The Oregonian and Rev. Horace M. Ramsey, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Portland.

Pacific University has the largest endowment of all the private colleges in the Northwest. In buildings, laboratories and library it is the best equipped Christian college in Oregon. Not only does the amount of its productive funds very far exceed that of any of these institutions in the State, but it is greater than that of all combined. For this reason Pacific has always been able to secure superior instructors and has never had to depend upon the enrollment of students for its income.

Pacific University in the past has been rather conservative in the matter of advertising. And it makes public these statements now, only because there are reasons why it seems advisable. Pacific still adheres to its policy of desiring students rather than numbers; of maintaining creditable scholarship rather than crowded enrollment.
