Paints and oils.—C. A. Lamkin Co.

Peter Grossen, of near Phillips, was in town Tuesday.

Sheriff Connell was a Portland visitor Monday afternoon.

Wm. Schulmerich, of Farmington, was in the city Tuesday.

Harry Eldredge, of Portland, was out to Shady Brook, Sunday.

H. Wehrung & Sons carry a full line of Heinz pickles and bottled goods.

Clerk Goodin has the docket prepared for opening of circuit court next Monday.

For stamped linens, and art embroidery materials, go to Mrs. Pillsbury's.

Wilbur Wiley is here for a day or so, the guest of his brother, W. V. Wiley.

Gerhardt Goetze, of beyond Blooming, was a county seat visitor Tuesday.

Smoke the Schiller and Excellencia cigars—Oregon manufacture. Call for them.

H. G. Starr, who left here for the East, some weeks ago, was held up by snowstorms several days, east of Colorado.

Shooting match for turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens, at Mountindale, on Wednesday, November 28, commencing at 10 a. m. All are invited.

Twenty-eight trains passed through Hillsboro last Friday, according to actual count. This includes passenger and freight, and also takes in all of the California bound trains.

A public dance will be given Nov. 28, by the K. O. T. M.'s in their hall at Greenville. Music by Walker's orchestra, consisting of four pieces. Tickets, including an oyster supper, $1.00.

D. B. Reasner is putting in new furnaces for the Oregon Condensed Milk Company, and as a consequence the condensing has been suspended for a day or so until the necessary repairs are made.

Webster Phillips, of Cornelius, inserted an advertisement in the Argus, last week, telling of a stump puller for sale. By Monday it was sold to a Bethany man, showing the virtue of a notice in the religious weekly.

Farmers are still calling for cars for hay and grain shipment. The tie-up on the Northern and the Oregon Railway & Navigation Co., the latter being a Harriman line, and connected with the Southern Pacific, has done much to aggravate the car shortage, and it begins to look as though it will be Spring before the hay and grain of the county will be shipped out.

We have now finished our run of large tile drain, and after filling our orders we have a few thousand in stock. Parties wanting these sizes should order while the stock is full. We have a good stock of smaller sizes; also brick and building blocks. We have the best all-round yard stock of lumber in the county, and can fill ordinary bills on short notice. Extra fine stock of dry shiplap. Anyone wanting stock delivered should order early, while the roads are good, as it costs about twice as much to haul in the mud. Groner & Rowell Company, Scholls, P. O. address, Hillsboro, Route 2. Independent Telephone.

There will be an entertainment and Sallimagundi social, given under the auspices of the pupils and teacher, at the Shady Brook schoolhouse, Saturday eve, Nov. 24, 1906. The program will consist of music, songs, recitations, tableaux, dialogues and pantomimes. Every lady is expected to bring a box filled for two. Coffee and tea will be served. Boxes to be sold to the highest bidder, proceeds to be used for school purposes. Come one; come all, and bring your Sally.

"As Told in the Hills" played to the second best house of the season in the Crescent Theatre, Sunday evening—a Sunday evening entertainment being something new in this city. The company put on the play in first class shape and every character was well sustained. The story is one of high ideals, the hero and heroine being representative of the civilized Indian. Taken all in all it was the best play that has been here since the Christian played last Spring.

town Saturday and brought to exhibition some fine samples of Connecticut Seal leaf tobacco. Mr. Alexander tried it as an experiment, and is well pleased with the result. The hill soil seems especially adapted to tobacco culture, as the leaf is not too gross in growth. He is making a specialty of fruit and berry culture, however, and his tobacco experiment is simply a matter of diversion.

Forest Grove is to have a vote on some charter amendments at the annual January election and the college town promises a strenuous fight along the same lines that have always furnished a combat. That is to say, the question of amending the charter so as to be able to grant a saloon license will be the principal football of economics.

John Houser and Pearl Otis went out to the North Plains, last Friday, and Houser's hound treed two fine foxes. Both of the chickenthieves were shot. The foxes were first flushed on the McNelly place. Houser went out Sunday and captured another one.

Geo. Vanderzanden, of near Roy, was in town Monday, and called on the Argus. Mr. Vanderzanden thinks that Banks does more business in proportion to its population than any other town in Washington County.

For sale: Poland China boar; brood sow; and pigs.—Call on or telephone Willard Tupper, on Dr. A. B. Bailey farm, 24 miles north-east of Hillsboro.

Joe Allison left for Portland Monday morning to be absent for about three weeks. He will build a residence in Sealwood for W. J. Benson.

We lead in groceries—the best brands—prices always the lowest, and 16 ounces to the pound.—H. Wehrung & Sons.

A. W. Tupper, who was down from Wasco last week has returned to his duties as accountant for a big milling firm.

Fifty acres cleared land for sale or will be divided in two 25-acre tracts; 1 1/2 miles of Hillsboro—Inquire of Argus.

Chas. Eames, the trapper, has caught a great many furs already this Fall and his mink are exceptionally fine.

Mrs. Pillsbury can show you a handsome new line of golf gloves and mittens for ladies and children.

A. I. Crooni, of near Bethany, is down in the Silver Lake section, Southern Oregon, for a month's trip.

Are you a smoker? Then call for the Schiller or Excellencia—Oregon manufacture.

Mrs. Ida McNutt was out from Portland, Saturday and Sunday, the guest of Miss Jennie Greer.

Schulmerich Bros. are agents for the best known wagon on the coast—the Bain.

WILBUR SMITH VICTIM OF FRIEND'S WEAPON

Fatal Accident of Portland Boy on Shoalwater Bay

WAS A BROTHER OF ELMER SMITH

Nineteen Year Old Lad Shot While Hunting

Sealand, Wash., Nov. 17.—(Special) Wilbur Smith, the 19-year-old son of Dr. L. B. Smith, of Portland, was accidentally shot and instantly killed this afternoon by Edward Nelson, a personal friend and companion, while the two were hunting ducks on Shoalwater Bay, about three miles from Long Beach, Wash.

Smith was living on the Shoalwater Bay ranch owned by his brother, Elmer Smith, during the latter's temporary absence, and Nelson, who resides at Ilwaco, had been staying with him, the two boys being close friends. About 2 o'clock this afternoon they started in a small boat up the slough after ducks. Smith was in the bow of the boat and Nelson the stern.

As they neared the ducks both arose with their guns in their hands, and as they did so Nelson's foot slipped and he fell, one barrel of the gun being discharged, and the load of shot striking Smith in the back, killing him instantly. Driven frantic by the terrible accident, Nelson rowed as quickly as possible to the shore and ran to the Yates farmhouse for assistance, not knowing that his companion was dead.

shot had severed the spinal column, death must have been instantaneous. The remains were removed to Long Beach, where an inquest was held by Justice of the Peace Canaris, the jury returning a verdict of accidental death.

The dead boy was a brother of Elmer Smith, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Imbrie, of this city.

OREGON'S IDOL ABUSED

Oregon's idol, Senator Chas. W. Fulton, was roundly hissed by republican Portland last Friday night when Senator La Follette spoke to a crowded audience at the White Temple. La Follette did not make any abusive attack upon the political god and leader, but he simply read of Fulton's vote against his amendments to the much talked of and abortive rate bill, which is held up as a great piece of legislation by all the little 2x4 papers in the Beaver state. The Oregonian gives the following relative to the demonstration at the lecture given by the Wisconsin Senator:

"The bill has many good provisions, but it is far from being complete. The bill withholds the essential authority to make all rates reasonable. My amendment had for its purpose to remedy that defect. It would have clothed the Interstate Commerce Commission with the authority and appropriation to employ experts to ascertain the value of railroad property, without which information the railroads can never be regulated as they should be. The value of the railroads of the United States is $6,000,000,000, yet they are capitalized at $1,000,000,000—twice as much as their real value. The railroad companies should receive enough money for their operating expenses, maintenance of property, and a fair rate of interest on their investment, and no more. My amendment would have saved the people of the United States $435,000,000 annually, which the railroads now receive and to which they are not entitled.

"When I arose to speak on my amendment nearly all of my colleagues got up and went out. I then stated that many of those who had vacated their seats temporarily might find that the people of the country would make them vacate their seats permanently. I meant it when I said it, and it brought some of them back."

Senator La Follette then went on to relate that his amendment was laid on the table by a vote of 25 against 75, and that 22 Senators did not vote. He proceeded to read the list of those who voted against it, and the first name he gave was that of Aldrich. He then read carefully down the list until he came to Fulton, and then he paused. Leaning over the platform, his face glowing with suppressed feeling and every muscle tense, he uttered the name of "Fulton." He laid great stress on the name of the United States Senator from Oregon, and pronounced it with decided emphasis.

Instantly there swept over the assemblage a deep groan which was immediately followed by a storm of hisses and cries of "Shame." He then read the list of Senators who voted for the amendment, and when he came to the name of Gearin there was a great and enthusiastic outburst of handclappings.

FURS WANTED

Remember that I will pay cash for furs. I save you the trouble of shipping. Try me, I reside just north of the west end of the long bridge, one mile west of Hillsboro, Or., you can leave your furs at the Corwin & Heide butcher shop.—Chas. Eames, Hillsboro, Ore.

C. C. Jackson has been running the train in the absence of Conductor Lytle.

All kinds of hardware—C. A. Lamkin Co.

A. E. Dailey was in from Laurel, Monday.

Go to McCormick's for school supplies.

Will Stevens, of Farmington, was in town Monday.

Charter Oak stoves and ranges.—C. A. Lamkin Co.

A. C. Wertz, of Mountindale, was in the city Monday.

W. P. Tucker, of Albany, was in town the first of the week.

You will find a nice new lot of Winter shirtwaists at Mrs. Pillsbury's.

Austin Purdin, of Banks, has moved to Portland to reside for the Winter.

Chas. Coater and Jos. Brandenburg, of near West Union, were in the city Monday.

Our fall line of dress goods, wash goods, flannellette, etc., is complete.—H. Wehrung & Sons.

J. C. Buchanan, one of the pioneer hopgrowers of Cornelius, was down to the county seat Monday morning.

For sale: 20 acres land, 1/4 mile north of town; 4 acres beaverdam on place. Goes for $1,000. Inquire at this office.

Jas. Jackson and wife came up from West Union, Sunday, and visited at the Honzak home, West Hillsboro.

Supt. A. B. Smith, who has charge of construction for this end of the P. R. & N., came down from Buxton, Monday.

Blasting powder constantly on hand at Herman Ostermann's.

Jos. W. Hays, of beyond the Job Station, was an Argus caller Saturday. He says there is still quite a large amount of hops unsold in the county.

Stationery of all kinds at the Pharmacy—latest in stylish correspondence, calling cards, envelopes, etc. Call and see the stock.

E. J. Kuratli has just about finished extending the amounts of valuation on the tax roll and is now segregating the road district and the school district valuations.

Speaking of groceries—if you want the finest staple and fancy groceries to be found in the market, try John Dennis. We is after your trade, and once a customer, always a customer.

Douglas Leisy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Leisy, is now a member of the Portland police force, serving at present as "plain clothes" officer. That is to say, he is not yet in uniform.

Sunday morning was ushered in bright and clear and the high water was at an end. The creeks all over the county were on rampages all week, and old Dairy and the Tualatin were bank full.

The P. R. & N. engine, equipped as an oil burner, came out Thursday night, and is again on the run in the place of the O. R. & N. engine which was a substitute during the shopping escapade of the one just returned.

Fifteen farmers and orchardists attended the horticultural meeting at the court house last Friday, called by Inspector Harris, of Forest Grove. The attendance was small owing to the shortness of notice given. Many did not know of the meeting until after it had taken place.

The constant rains have softened the roadbed of the P. R. & N. so that care is exercised in running. No portion of the track has been washed out, and it appears that the Tillamook road is the only one in the entire Northwest that has not suffered from the recent freshets. There's nothing like having an exception to the rule and General Manager C. E. Lytle is feeling his "oats" over the fortunate class of his line.

The case of Jos. Sanders against John Berger, suit for damages in the sum of $46 for chickens alleged to have been destroyed by a dog, Sanders claiming the dog's ownership is vested in Berger, will come up for its second trial before Judge Bagley and a jury, tomorrow morning. The chickens were killed last Summer, and Sanders alleges that he went to the yard and found Berger's dog there. The case was tried two weeks ago tomorrow and the jury stood three to three with never an inclination to budge on the part of the six arbitrators. The costs already amount to about $45 and this appears to be one of the reasons why the case will again come up. It will cost about the same sum to again try the case—and then comes the costs of the attorneys on each side of the affair.

NOTED MURDERER TAKEN THROUGH

Hembree Convicted of Murdering Wife and Daughter

ONE NIGHT IN FOREST GROVE JAIL

Says he Expects to Get Out in a Year or so

A. J. Hembree, of Tillamook, and whose case was tried by Judge McBride last Summer, Hembree being convicted of murdering his wife and daughter, after which he set his cabin on fire, was taken through this county, Monday morning, enroute to Salem, Sheriff Henry Crenshaw and two deputies attending the prisoner. They came over the Wilson River road Sunday afternoon and Hembree was kept in the Forest Grove jail Sunday night.

Hembree confidently expects to get out in a year or so. His conviction was due to circumstantial evidence, which was so strong that there was no question in the minds of eleven men that he was guilty of murder in the first degree. One man, however, held out and a compromise verdict was finally voted, giving Hembree imprisonment for life, instead of hanging, as he seems to have richly deserved. Hembree was landed in the penitentiary Monday night.

DANCE AND SHOOTING MATCH

will be held at the Tualatin Hotel, Tuesday night, Nov. 26. Also a shooting match for turkeys, ducks, geese and chickens. All are cordially invited and a good time is assured.

Fresh oysters or a choice cocktail, L. J. Palmateer has for sale; Best confections in the city; Lowney's he makes a specialty. Snokers, chewers, can be supplied with goods as good as any tried. Fresh fruits, apricots, hot ballion, Vigoral—good things to feast upon. So when in town, give him a call. You'll get a square deal, one and all. Of places you will not find any like Palmateer's Confectionery.

A crew of seven or eight teams started work Tuesday noon on the logging switch between the main line of the P. R. & N. and the Hillsboro Lumber Company's sawmill, east of the foot of Third Street. Engineer Ahry is here in charge of the survey and Supt. Smith is in charge of the construction. General Manager Lytle says he is going to put in the switch and get ready to connect on the east with the Southern, so to be ready as soon as the Southern Pacific gets settled as to where it will have its depot, jointly with the Tillamook road. It is expected that with any kind of decent weather the grading will be done and the track laid to the mill inside of two weeks.

Mrs. Flora Hariborn, who owns 160 acres of timber land near Gaston, has sued one J. A. Martin, a timber land speculator, for $990, balance due for the alleged purchase of $1,000 worth of timber. The complaint alleges that through his agent, H. W. Scott, Martin paid her $10 down in July, 1906, and that as soon as she could deposit a deed and abstract he was to pay the balance. She performed her part, and says that Martin failed to come up with the coin. She wants a verdict for $990 and interest at six per cent. Papers were served Tuesday.

Chas. Tompkins, who has been over at Ostrander in the logging camps, says that the high water has lost timber and millmen thousands upon thousands of dollars. The rivers over in that part of Washington for days carried little fortunes out to sea. Mr. Tompkins came over the last of the week, making the trip by rowboat and walking until he reached Kalama.

Dr. J. R. Foreman, who was a Hillsboroitte many years ago, and who went from here to Weiser, Idaho, where he made a neat little competency, is now located in East Portland, where he is president of the Lumberman's Mining Company.

Wanted: Hop Farm, on shares, for reliable and experienced party. Also farms to sell or rent. Apply to or address J. R. Foreman, 305 E. Morrison, Portland, Oregon.

Tennis Pyl has bought the John Witt place over in South Tualatin. John intends to take it easy from this on, as he thinks he has earned it.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baldra are visiting this week with their daughter, Mrs. Millie Clark, of Portland.
