A GLEAN OF LIGHT

It is whispered in financial circles th E. E. Lytle is the party who has financed the Loss proposition to take up the E. E. Lytle is the party who has financed the Loss proposition to take up the United Railway deal and put it through. In view of the fact that Mr. Lytle has bonded to build into Portland, and that it will not be out of his latitude to go into the city on Propt street, the idea is not at all the fetched. If Loss was having trouble to finance his undertaking, he would maturally go to Mr. Lytle and it would be a good stroke of business for the latter gentleman to take hold of the project. It would enable him to not only have an electric line from Parties and he could utilise the street of the project.

n rail connection d most likely be built here in preference to Portland. For the good of Hillsboro and vicinity, Washington county hopes that Mr. Lytle has absorb-ed the United Railway project.

In the news columns will be found Mayor Dennis' committee appointments. These gentlemen will take care of the city, to a certain extent, the ensuing year. They are all interested in the progress of the town, and will do their best to make Hillsboro an attractive, wideawake place, and give it an appearance that will make it an invitation to those who want to reside in a town with metroplitan poseibili-

THE CHANGES OF TIME

The year naught-six has passed away, In history now it stands, And Father Time inverts his glass

And yet the year, now dead and gone, Has left its mark on time, And many legends dear to men, Look like a battered dime—

For instance, Rockefeller's fame As billionaire has gone, While Weyerhauser takes the lead In wealth of gold and pawn!

Old Carnegic is in the sulks,
And dreams no more of fame—
For Congress turned his spelling down,
Nor conjured with his name.

A negro regiment is fired By Teddy Roosevelt, While Bailey Joe lost his halo, Because of oil he smelt.

The railroad pass passed in its checks, There's joy in Railroad Row, When Salemward they go Depew has lost his pristine vim In after-dinner jokes, And gazes stolidly in space, The while he sits and smokes.

Poor Babcock lost his vaunted place In Washington, D. C., While Wadsworth weeps to see a man Steal his majority!

The little Jap we liked so well When he was fighting Russ, Looks on our map and wants a scrap-Confound the little "cuss!"

Yes, Old Naught-Six has made ne marks,
And softly stole away,
And left us just one fixture here.
(P. S.)—Chancellor Day!

Oldest, Financially Strongest, Safest and Most Conservative Banking Institution in Washington County.

Did you ever investigate to ascertain the respective liability of a Corporation and its Stockholders? If you did, you found that Stockholders of a Corporation, however rich personally, are not liable for corporate indebtedness (deposits) except to the extent of their unpaid subscriptions to the Capital Stock, (except National Banks.) If their subscriptions are fully paid, their liability for the debts and contracts of the Corporation ceases-therefore, do not credit the corporation with the individual wealth of its stockholders, nor confound the property of the individuals with the corporate property, in judging the wealth and responsibility of the Corporation. Only the property of the Corporation is liable for its debts and contracts.

We are not like Banking Corporations in which Stockholders incur no liability, except to the amount of unpaid subscriptions to the Corporate stock

We are not like a Bearing Stormson which apid in for its stock, or its equivalent, the major part of which is usually portable property, and its deposits. Charged Him For His Cyclone Experience

STARTED out in life with a firm resolve to be honest," said the Boston drummer, "but now and then I have bumped up against a sitnation that shook my resolution. "Such a case happened while I was in Texas last summer. I was stopping at a village hotel called the Cyclone House and had been in bed about two hours when I found myself being carried across the country in the midst of boards, beams and furniture. A cyold house up and made matchwood of it. There were ten people killed and twice that many injured. I had to lay up with a farmer for a week and then resumed business. "It never occurred to me until a month later that I ought to have settled my hotel bill before departing. The landlord had been one of the killed and the town about wiped out, but so heavily did the thing prey on my conscience that I made a trip of a hundred miles to square things. I found the landlord's widow, and she was willing to take my word as to how long I had been a guest when the cycione swooped down. I figured it up and handed her the proper amount, but she seemed to have something on her mind. When I told her to speak out she said: 'This settles the hotel bill all right, but what about the experience?

'How do you mean, ma'am?' "'Why, hadn't there ought to be at least a dollar more for your cyclone experience?

"I agreed with her and handed over the greenback, but the more I think of it the more I am inclined to believe that it was pushing an honest man a little bit too hard."

Evolution of Spanking.

[An electric spanking machine is now in use in a public school in Peorla, III.— News Item.]

We call to mind the master grim,
With horny hands of leather.
Oh, well we all remember him
When we were task together!
For when we'd shin the orchard wall,
Hook school or other pranking.
His bony paims would give us all
The soundest kind of spanking.

Time passed; the master feeble grew; His paims lost force and fire. But still our pranks were far from few; Each day we raised his ire. So from the schoolhouse on the hill He plucked a cypress shingle And spanked us one by one until Each nerve would dance and jingle.

But, though the shingle left its mark Until we studied standing, Each day would bring another lark, Despite stern rules commanding.
Our blunders made the master rave,
Our pranks were still increasing.
Until he got a barrel stave
And spanked us without ceasing.

The old schoolhouse has passed away;
Likewise the good old master,
But if he taught his class today
Perhaps he'd spank them faster,
He'd touch a button near at hand
And start those paddles swinging,
Some fifty spanks each second and
Each one spark charged and stinging

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbets ras a revelation to the prise fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the somach is the most vulnerable organ out of the price ring as well as in it. We protect bur heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the standard we are utterly indifferent to, until discussifinds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach wound and strong by the use of Dector Lierce's Golden Medical Discovery and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable snot. CONTEST NOTICE

Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, Portland, Oregon. November 12, 1906.

November 12, 1906.

A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Samuel Moulton, contestant, against Homestead Entry No. 14505, made April 24, 1933, for Lots 2 and 3, Sec. 29, and Lot 5, Section 39, Township 1 N., Range 4 W, by Hamilton C, Barclay, contestee, in which it is alleged that he is well acquainted with the tract of land embraced in the homestead entry and knows the present condition of the same; also that said entryman has never resided upon or cultivated or improved said claim since making entry thereof, or at all; that the only improvements on the claim are an old log shack and a small piece burned off, and that he has wholly abandoned the same, and that said alleged absence from the said land was not due to his employment in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps of the United States as a private soldler, officer, seaman or marine, during the war with Spain or during any other war in which the United States may be engaged. Said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m. on Jan. 12, 1967, before the Register and Receiver at the United States Land Office in Portland, Oregon.

The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed Nov. 8, 1906, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.
