

MAYOR CORNELIUS IS SUCCEEDED BY DENNIS

Resignation of Former Took Place Tuesday Night

DENNIS ELECTED BY COLLEAGUES

Cornelius had Served Three Terms and was on Fourth

Mayor B. P. Cornelius is mayor no more and his political enemies are supposed to be rejoicing. Mr. Cornelius has served for three terms and was started on his fourth tenure, having been elected at the recent city election by a decisive majority. Some one who had tried to compass his defeat at the polls found another, and a vulnerable point, and complaint was made to the postoffice department that a postmaster was holding a public office contrary to the rules and regulations of the postal department. The complaint reached Washington shortly after the election, and Mayor Cornelius was notified by the department, receiving the letter Christmas Eve—a nice little Christmas present as it was—saying that his holding of the office was contrary to regulations. The mayor kept his counsel and said nothing until Tuesday night, when he resigned the office. Councilman John Dennis was elected to fill the vacancy.

Mayor Cornelius has given excellent satisfaction as Mayor, as was testified to by his vote. He has conscientiously performed his duties and seen the office turned over to one who has large interests in the town. A year or so ago an inspector was here and asked the postmaster about the office of mayor, and when told that there was no salary, nor "perks," went his way without reporting adversely.

Mr. Cornelius has seen the water and light plant put in shape during his administration, and has also seen the city acquire a park property.

L. A. Rood was elected a councilman to take the place made vacant by Mr. Dennis' resignation.

When questioned by the Argus last night, Mr. Cornelius said: "It seems that this is the law, or regulation, and I am satisfied. An inspector was here fourteen months ago and inquired about the office of mayor and when told there was neither salary nor perquisites in the majority went away satisfied. I have been elected mayor four times, and have served three terms and one month. I have always had a handsome majority and have received the support of my friends, irrespective of party, at every election. There was quite a tight nip up against me in December, but we showed our opponents that we were willing to stand on our record, and I was again returned. I am quite satisfied to turn over the office, and in John Dennis the city will have a mayor with a backbone. No, I am not at all sorry over the turn. Why should I be? Wasn't I elected? And can't I resign if I want to?" At this point Henry Hesse blew in with the mail and with one of his characteristic laughs the postmaster went into the "federal" building.

Sheriff Connell's ranch has the record for the biggest calf at birth yet reported. The veal weighed 103 pounds, and is expected within a week to hook everything off the place. F. F. Conover weighed the fellow and says the scales are correct. The mother of the calf is a Holstein.

County commissioner Buchanan opened his mail New Year's morning and found a check for a "V" signed by W. D. Smith. At first Mr. Buchanan did not understand the import of the paper, but later on he remembered that about 18 months ago DeWitt had carelessly bantered him to bet that amount on whether or not a railway of the electric stripe would be in Hillsboro by January 1, 1907. Buchanan bet that it would not be built by that time and Smith took the "would be built" end of the wager. The line was not here and DeWitt sent him a check. Several sports were after Smith today to get another bet, even offering five years' time, but the gentleman informed them that he had made a New Year's resolution to never again take a chance on the blind goddess of chance, and he stood by his good intentions.

On January 8-9-10 the State Horticultural Society will meet in Portland, and Washington's county proximity should give it a good attendance. By all means become a member of this society if you have an orchard. There will be exhibits of fruits of all kinds and if you wish to compete you must be a member of the association. To become a member send E. K. Lake, Secretary, Corvallis, $1 and he will send you a certificate of membership.

Arch Ramsey, aged 16, and Fred Moore, aged 14, a son of the late John Moore, of Hillsboro, both of Forest Grove, skipped out from some of the first of the week, no one knowing their whereabouts. They were located over on the Wilson River, in camp. The elder boy had between $30 and $40 when he left home, and it was thought they might have gone out of the country. Sheriff Connell was asked to look out for the lads, and they were finally located enroute to Tillamook.

Address us at Hillsboro, R. F. D. No. 2.

The year of 1907 promises to be a good one for the mill men, but the car shortage is the chief concern. It cars can not be obtained then a large amount of business will necessarily go by the board. Washington County's mills are ready for a big cut but many are afraid of taking big orders on account of the car situation.

At R. L. Cate's office, 226 Stark Street, Portland, can be found the choicest buys of residence and business property in the city of Portland. He handles the celebrated Hawthorne Estate lots. Telephone Exchange 70.

There was spitting of snow Tuesday and Wednesday, and while none fell to remain in the valley, up in the hills above Buxton there was a nice fall of over six inches. The heavy Chinook and rain of last night, however, must have given it a finish. The rain of last night was one of the heaviest of the season.

OREGON KID AGAIN BEATS THE BUNCH

Wins the T. Scott Brooke Cup on New Years

GAME HORSE TO THE FRONT AGAIN

This Makes Six Cups Won Inside of a Year

Oregon Kid, E. B. Tongue up, won the New Year's Hunt Club race Tuesday, the trophy being the T. Scott Brooke silver cup. The Kid forged ahead from the start and led the finish ahead of his competitors, marking a new record. The six mile course, which had seven hurdles, and nasty ones at that, was run in less than 18 minutes.

This makes six cups that the Kid has won within a year, four of the trophies being the permanent property of Mr. Tongue.

Mr. Tongue won the Annie Shogren cup, making three runs for it on points, and getting 11 out of a possible 15 points; the Kerr cup, running three times, 11 out of 15 points; the Downing Field Day cup; and the cup of New Years. The remaining two cups belong to the Hunt Club. This is a record that no other horse has even touched in the history of the Club.

Many people, even attorneys, are in a quandary as to the real meaning of the term "vs" which always accompanies the legal documents. This is a matter that has been in dispute for many years. Clerk Godman has an authority which says that the two letters are an abbreviation of "scilicet," meaning namely, or to-wit.

C. E. LOSS IS GAME TO THE CORE NOW

Says he is Going to Build United Railways Anyway

TO COMMENCE IN THIRTY DAYS

Tells Portland Papers That he has Plenty of Money

C. E. Loss, who acquired the United Railway property and franchises in Portland, and who intends building to Forest Grove, says that notwithstanding the fact that he has been tardy about financing his projects he will start work in Portland inside of thirty days, and that he will ultimately build the line into Washington county. Mr. Loss Tuesday stated that he had been given financial aid in Portland, and that his bonds would all be sold, and that he would show his detractors that he could build a mile or so of railway at any risk.

Loss is already into the scheme several thousand dollars, and he says that his backing is all right. Hillsboro and Forest Grove are giving Mr. Loss their sympathy and good will, and hope he will start in as per program.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Schmeltzer, of West Union, entertained their friends January 2, 1907, the occasion being the celebration of the silver wedding of host and hostess. The parlors were decorated in Oregon Grape and potted plants, and the dining room was beautiful, with festoons of ribbons, mingled with Oregon Grape, and fern.

The guests had assembled. Mr. D. Schmeltzer, father of the host, and his wife, acting as maid of honor, escorted the bride and groom into the parlors, where the wedding was celebrated by J. M. Schmeltzer, one of Wasco County's officials. In the absence of the wedding ring the officiating deputy sheriff linked them together with a pair of handcuffs. The bride was dressed in a gray tulle, wore a bride's veil, and carried a bouquet of white Chrysanthemums. After the ceremony the company was seated to a delightful repast. The gifts were many and beautiful. Those present were:

Messrs. and Mesdames E. E. Schmeltzer, D. Schmeltzer, H. D. Schmeltzer, U. G. Gardner, J. W. Shute, T. P. Goodin, C. McFee, R. Linton, A. L. Clark, Portland, John Schmeltzer; Mrs. McArdeil; Misses Hazel McArdeil, Jennie, Hazel, Cora and Ada Schmeltzer, Bari and Gladys Linton; Messrs. J. Dragoon, S. Hinton, Frankie Pauli, Fred McArdeil and J. M. Schmeltzer.

COUNTY COURT

The county court is in session this week, and will continue until tomorrow night. The tax levy must be made; the road supervisors must be appointed; and 230 names must be selected for the jury list. A large delegation besieged the court today on the question of a big tax levy for road improvement, some wanting rock roads, and some wanting plank roads. Among these here and who talked to the court were: H. H. Stewart, of the condenser, Forest Grove, Dr. Tamiesie, Hillsboro, E. N. Stanton, J. W. Shute, John Kiehl, R. K. Wetzel, Col. Haynes, Wm. Bagley, Daniel Burkhalter, Andrew Eggiman and Chris Schindler. These gentlemen represent various parts of the county, and all are heavy taxpayers.

G. W. Still, of Beaverton, was up this morning. He states that the rain of last night left more surface water at that place than he has ever seen there before.

For gentlemen's, ladies' and children's hose you can do no better than to buy of John Dennis. We have them for everybody, and at prices that are values.

The members and all interested in the Congregational Church, and all who contribute to its support, are invited to attend the annual meeting, to be held in the Church, Thursday evening, January 17.

Recorder H. T. Bagley was mayor from Tuesday night until Wednesday night, but it did not occur to him until late in the afternoon this was occasioned by the fact that the charter and ordinances call for an election of mayor, in case of a vacancy, by ballot. This being the case it was necessary to give Mr. Dennis two elections, one Tuesday night, and one on Wednesday night. In the interim the Recorder was mayor—and that was the reason why his girth expanded.

James Smith, who will be 12 years old next Spring, and who is a son of W. E. Smith, farming on the T. R. Davis place, north of this place, ran away Tuesday during the day, riding a black mare. The lad took the family dog along with him and went to Portland, where he applied at the Chas. Mensinger home, about nine in the evening, for lodging. He was denied on account of room, and went away. The boy has ran away several times. His father says he is not at all vicious, and that he is industrious. He gets a notion that he wants to see the country and starts without notifying his parents. He is very fond of machinery and when visiting the Lewis & Clark Fair with his mother, remained in the machinery building, leaving his mother to come home without him. He turned up the next day. A while ago he started to school, but, instead, walked through to Portland, taking the dog with him.
