The state would doubtless accept the working of convicts on public roads if the criminals were put on a road leading through the state from North to South. A good state road would be a fine thing for those who travel, and Southern Oregon is now receiving its share of attention fron homeseekers.

The county court has wisely arranged so that it can do some permanent road work this season. The general county fund will be large enough to permit of several miles of first class road-road that can be used Winter as well as Summer.

Oldest, Financially Strongest, Safest and Most Conservative Banking Institution in Washington County.

Did you ever investigate to ascertain the respective liability of a Corporation and its Stockholders? If you did, you found that Stockholders of a Corporation, however rich personally, are not liable for corporate indebtedness (deposits) except to the extent of their unpaid subscriptions to the Capital Stock, (except National Banks.) If their subscriptions are fully paid, their liability for the debts and contracts of the Corporation ceases-therefore, do not credit the corporation with the individual wealth of its stockholders, nor confound the property of the individuals with the corporate property, in judging the wealth and responsibility of the Corporation. Only the property of the Corporation is liable for its debts and contracts.

We are not like Banking Corporations in which Stockholders incur no liability, except to the amount of unpaid subscriptions to the Corporate stock.

We are not like a Banking Corporation which appears to have, but has not, the individual backing of the wealth of its Stockholders, but owns only the money paid in for its stock, or its equivalent, the major part of which is usually portable property, and its deposits. But for the safety and protection of our deposits and our depositors, everything we possess, including real estate, is an asset.
