

OREGON KID AGAIN WINS HUNT CLUB RACE

Beats out J. H. Bennett and Mike Wisdom by a Nose

HARD TEN MILE RACE SATURDAY

Game Little Horse Gets off Badly But Captures Ran

E. B. Tongue on Oregon Kid, again won the Hunt Club race last Saturday. The course was for ten miles, with about a dozen of the stiffest hurdles yet placed on the stretch.

HOW ABOUT ROCK ROADS

So far the Argus has received but about fifty signers asking the county to commence permanent road building. This is likely but a very small per cent. of those who would like to see our county start permanent road building.

Good roads make a community prosperous. Washington county is coming to the front as a dairy county. Good roads will make it a little Paradise—and in the end you will not suffer from taxation more than you are now paying.

MRS. MARTHA MAUZEY

Mrs. Mattie Mauzey, widow of the late Wm. Mauzey, died at Edgerton, Mo., January 6, 1907, aged about seventy years. Deceased was a native of Kentucky, and was the second wife of Mr. Mauzey, who was one of Washington County's early pioneers.

Russell Frost has bought a residence on Fourth, between Oak and Baseline.

Local clover hay for sale at reasonable price.—F. M. Heidel, Hillsboro.

Born, to Arnold Vandomelon and wife, of near Roy, Jan. 28, 1907, a son.

Residence property for sale or for trade. Located south of Southern Pacific depot.—Wm. Tipton.

Wendell Davis and wife, of Coupeville, Wash, and formerly of Glencoe, are here for a month's visit with relatives and friends.

Dividends in life insurance should be paid annually. Get the annual dividend habit. None better than the Massachusetts Mutual Life's annual dividend system.—James Stitt, District Agent.

Robt. Skirvin, baggage and freight man at the depot, has returned from Mt. Angel, Ore., where he was called to attend the funeral of a brother, Chas. Skirvin. Thos. Rood relieved Mr. Skirvin during his absence.

A. R. Fanno, of Progress, has been elected president of the Northwestern Onion Growers' Association. The growers met in Portland last week. J. C. Hare, Hillsboro, reported as having sold his crop, and Ole Olson, of Olsonville, beyond Beaverton, also sold his 1906 crop.

D. B. Reasoner, who made the repairs on the Haines' dam above Gaston, came out with his crew last Friday. Those from here who went up with him and came back bearded like sailors were: A. Sigler, Ellsworth Craig, Frank Barr and Mark Butler. It was a very quiet place up there and the only thing to break the monotony was the fact that deer would occasionally come down to the camp and enter the cook house while the boys were at work.

With Hillsboro enjoying a rather mild day, Monday, and with a breeze coming from the south and east, and no one suffering from inclemency, Portland, eighteen miles east was wrapped in an enormous icicle. Hundreds of telephone poles were borne to the earth through the load of ice on the wires; the street cars and electric lights were out of commission, and business was prostrated. The ice and sleet was caused by the rain freezing just as soon as it touched the trees, buildings or earth.

Julius Asbahr, of South Tualatin, was over to the city the first of the week. The people of his section are trying to raise $500 for planking purposes, and when they have raised this amount they expect to ask the county to appropriate the remaining amount necessary to plank from the Jackson Bottom bridge on south to the Dr. Withycombe farm.

V. K. Strode, a Portland attorney, filed two divorce cases in circuit court the first of the week. Dora Newman wants separation from Wm. Newman, to whom she was wedded in Chicago, in 1879 and who deserted her eight years ago. Mary Schnavely, married in Portland last June, wants a divorce from W. A. Schnavely. She says the husband misrepresented his business interests, alleging he had an interest in a butcher shop, and that after marriage she was humiliated by the creditors of the husband who would order household necessities, and then not pay for them.

Owing to the small road tax the city council is somewhat worried over the matter of street planking. It was intended to plank several blocks on First and Third, but the small amount of money coming is likely to cause a halt on calculations.

Fred Stevens, of Stevens Bros., Farmington, was an Argus caller Tuesday.

EXCURSION TO BUXTON

The Event of The Season

A special train has been chartered by the Hillsboro Amusement Association, of this city, for an excursion from Buxton, Banks and points between the two stations, to Hillsboro, and return, on Friday evening, February 1, 1907.

On this evening the Midnight Flyer, a gorgeous scenic production, will be the attraction at the Crescent Theatre and a large block of seats will be reserved for the Buxton and Banks visitors. These seats will be held in various parts of the theatre. The excursion rates for the evening will be: Buxton to Hillsboro and return, $0.75.

Banks to Hillsboro and return, $0.50.

Tickets will be on sale at the Willis Hardware Company, Banks, and T. B. Perkins' store, Buxton. As the number of tickets are limited you should secure them early. Information as to train schedule may be had by applying to E. F. Willis, Banks, or T. B. Perkins, Buxton. Theatre prices, 75, 50 and 35 cents.

GIVE IT YOUR HELP

Dairymen over the county should give the association, now in formation, all the aid possible, for an organization of this kind will be of inestimable benefit to those in the dairy industry. The proposition is to make it a county institution, and to have a meeting every two months, the meetings to be held at central points all over the county. It will thus be seen that it is not a one-town matter, and it should have hearty support. Committee on by-laws and constitution met here last Saturday, and Messrs. A. N. Stanton, of Hillsboro, Wm. Schulmerich, of Farmington, and J. W. Hughes, of above Forest Grove, prepared and drafted an organic law that will be adopted at the next meeting. It will cost but fifty cents to become a member, and if you are a dairymen—if you have but two or three cows—send in your fifty cents and become a member. Mutual interest will mean mutual protection, and the hundreds of dairyman in the county can thus work as a unit when it comes to matters of policy. The dairy interests of Washington County will soon be second to no county in the state, and it is up to the dairymen to meet the future with a proper organization. In union there is strength—and, incidentally, better profits.

Italian and Wheat Flour.

The Italian housewives of the poorer classes seem to have an unchangeable recipe for a baking. Agents of charitable societies have found this out by the women always asking for a certain number of pounds of flour, just enough for one baking, in their grocery lists. They make the flour into a number of loaves, which, put into one pan, bake into one great loaf. The size of the family seems to make no difference. If the family is small, the bread simply lasts a little longer and gets a little drier. The bread is very good when fresh. They do not use as much yeast as American cooks, and the bread is very crusty, something on the order of French bread. The poorest families also use a great deal of "polenta." This is merely flour stirred into boiling water, after the manner of old-fashioned American "hasty pudding," only that flour is used instead of cornmeal. No people in the world are so devoted to wheat flour as the Italians. Whether in the form of bread, polenta or the omnipresent macaroni, it forms the bulk of their diet.—New York Globe.
