

PLANS ARE DRAWN FOR NEW HOTEL

Portland Daily Abstract Has Article on Project

HILLSBORO GETTING TO FRONT

What a Paper of Neighboring City Says About It

Plans have been drawn by R. M. Butler, contracting architect, for a handsome three story brick hotel, with full concrete basement for R. L. Cate, of this city, which he will erect. The structure will be thoroughly modern, and will cost $35,000. Mr. Cate states that the work excavation will begin in about ten days, and that four months later the hotel will be ready for occupancy. It will contain 40 rooms. The outside will be of chocolate-colored pressed brick. Every bed room will have sunlight, and the building will be equipped with electric light, heated by steam and every room supplied with hot and cold water, and an electric elevator will be installed. The lighting, heating and water plants will be owned and operated by the hotel company. A handsome and commodious lobby will find place on the first floor. Adjoining will be a cafe, and a barber shop, with bath room. A large billiard and pool parlor will be provided. The dining room and kitchen will be up-to-date. The second floor, in addition to the sleeping apartments, single and en suite, will be provided with a ladies' parlor, handsomely furnished. On the top floor the general arrangement will be the same as the second floor, excepting that in place of a parlor, a commodious reception room for public meetings will be provided. Mr. Cate is promoting many industrial enterprises at Hillsboro, and it is his intention to install a number of manufacturing plants in Washington County's "town of opportunities."—Portland Daily Abstract.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned desire to thank those who so kindly assisted during their recent bereavement, the death of the late H. B. Purdin, and we desire to especially tender our grateful thanks to the Woodmen of the World for their courtesies and aid and last marks of respect for deceased.

Mrs. H. B. Purdin,
Mrs. Adaline Purdin and Sons,
Hillsboro, Ore., Feb. 20, 1907.

When the new depot is built at the foot of Third Street there will be a nice view of Third Street if two or three old barns are taken down.

Saturday the Pacific Railway & Navigation Company brought down its first consignment of logs from the logging spur above Banks, and the load was dumped in the mill yard at the foot of Third Street. Three carloads were brought in and from one to three trips will be made daily hereafter. The mill started Monday morning to try the machinery and get things in running order. After a week or such a matter everything will be running lively, and a big season's cut is assured. After the machinery gets to working good and a little lumber is cut for the mill use, the company will start running on a tie contract.

Mrs. Gowan will be at the greenhouse in South Hillsboro every Thursday until her stock of shrubbery, bulbs and flowers are sold out. Come early to get the best bargains.

John Peters, while using a butcher knife the other day, in butchering, had the misfortune to badly cut one of his hands. The main arteries were severed and his wife brought him to town for surgical aid. When he arrived he was so weak from loss of blood that he came near collapsing. Dr. A. B. Bailey sawed up the severed conduits and administered a stimulant, and the patient returned home to Verboort to take an enforced vacation.

We sell more agricultural implements than all of our competitors, put together. The reason— we ship direct from the factory, and pay spot cash for them. Come and get prices.

Beaverton is proud of her new depot, and the agent moved in the first of the week. Beaverton enjoys the proud distinction of selling more tickets than any other station on the West Side line, saving and excepting Hillsboro. Hillsboro comes first, Beaverton second, and Forest Grove third, in point of sales, numerically.

Wanted: Farms and lands of all kinds for sale and rent. Address J. R. Foreman, 305 East Morrison, Portland, Oregon.

A. A. Morrill went to Tigardville, Monday, to survey another farm into small tracts for the Investment Company. The new tract is cut up by the electric line. This makes the third tract surveyed into small holdings by Mr. Morrill.

Biggest shipment of corn ever received in Hillsboro, at the Climax Mill store. Get in and order your land plaster early.

James Cummings, one of Buxton's substantial citizens, was in the city Saturday, and gave the Argus office a call. He has recently sold a piece of timber land at a good stiff price. He says that the railroad has given values around Buxton a stimulus that is unprecedented.

Wanted: Several tons of stock heels. Address, quoting price Albert N. Stanton, Hillsboro, Ore.

Reports from several sections in the county show that winter wheat is not looking as well as it should, owing to the hard freeze a few weeks ago. In many places it is possible that it will have to be re-seeded.

David Wenger, of Helvetia, was in town Saturday.

Have you tried the Dan of Sweets' horehound candy for your cold?

HUGH B. PURDIN DIES FROM FALL, FRIDAY

Was Working on Trestle for Life Pence Company

Was a Carpenter. Son in law of Mrs. W. K. Barrett

Hugh B. Purdin, well known in this city, and who has resided here for a year or more, fell from a trestle, which was under construction, the entire structure giving away Friday, and died a few hours later from his wounds. The work was being done in Balch canyon, on the Pence flume, at 21st and Savier streets. The timbers were not securely braced and Purdin and four other men were precipitated to the gulch's bottom, a distance of 40 feet. Two of the four others were seriously injured, perhaps fatally and two were not much hurt.

Purdin left here a week ago Monday, and his family moved the next day to 210 East 35th, Portland. The blow was an insoluble one to the family. Mr. Purdin was highly respected, and made many friends. He was quiet and unostentatious, and was a model of sobriety. He was a brother of Lee Purdin, prominent in Washington during the John B. Rogers' administration. He was also a cousin of Hon. Ira Purdin, formerly of Forest Grove, now of Portland. He was wedded to a daughter of Mrs. W. R. Barrett, of this city.

The remains were brought to this city Monday morning and the funeral services were held in the Congregational Church, Rev. Gilpatrick officiating. At the cemetery the Woodmen of the World, of which order deceased was a member and in which he carried life insurance, performed the last rites before the body was finally consigned to the grave.

Hugh B. Purdin was a son of the late Jas. H. and Adaline Purdin, and he was the eldest of a family of nine boys, seven of whom survive. He was born at Boise, Idaho, January 23, 1865, and at his death was aged 42 years. When an infant his parents moved to Forest Grove, where they resided two years, going from that place to Walla Walla, and later to Yakima. He was wedded in 1889 to Miss Elizabeth Woolsey, to which union two children were born, Geo. and Ethel, both of whom survive. In April, 1901 he was again wedded to Mrs. Amanda Bennett, a daughter of Mrs. W. R. Barrett, of this city. The wife, his mother, and the following brothers survive, all of them being present at the funeral except Wallace:

Owen R. Purdin, a cattle buyer of Tacoma; Charles J. Purdin, accountant, Tacoma; Lloyd W. Purdin, Walter J. Purdin, Wallace A. Purdin, Ralph N. Purdin, farmers of North Yakima, and E. Lee Purdin, editor of the Evening Localizer, of Ellensburg, Wash.

AGED CAPITALIST SUICIDES AT GROVE

Shoots Himself Through the Chest

ILL HEALTH CAUSE OF ACTION

Aged 75 years and was Considered a Wealthy Man

J. B. Scott, for ten years a resident of Forest Grove, shot himself through the chest Monday morning, and died inside of a few minutes. The dead man went outside his house and fired the shot, afterward putting the gun against the porch, together with a loaded revolver. He then fell and was carried into the house. Drs. Bishop and Hines were called, and Dr. Bishop arrived shortly before the ex-banker died from an internal hemorrhage.

For many years deceased was in the banking business at Fort Dodge, Iowa, and came to the Grove about ten years ago, buying the brick occupied by John E. Bailey, in the mercantile business, and other city property. Coroner E. C. Brown, of this city, went up to the college city and held an investigation, examining two witnesses. He decided that the suicide was caused by the ill health of Scott, and under the circumstances no inquest was necessary. A wife, two sons, and a daughter, survive deceased. The children reside in Portland.

Coroner Brown states that the dead man doubtless used a stick to pull the trigger, after placing the muzzle of the old Springfield rifle against his body. The widow lives at home.

"NETTIE THE NEWSGIRL"

There are so many plays on the road that style themselves dramas that it is really refreshing when one of exceptional merit presents itself. In "Nettie the Newsgirl," is promised a play that stands in the latter class. It is full of pathos, comedy and sensation artistically interwoven. For heart throbs and smiles there has never been a play more cleverly written. The lines are bright, the comedy sparkling and the situations exciting and novel.

Messrs. Gould and Freed have spared no expense in the presentation of this play, and have surrounded themselves with a cast of exceptional strength and mounted the play with special scenery and accessories. At the Crescent Theatre, Wednesday, February 27. Present prices prevail.

PUBLIC SALE

The undersigned will sell at public sale at the D. Trenkam place, 2 1/2 miles east of Phillips, on the Germantown road, at ten a. m., on

The Crescent Theatre Management has succeeded in securing Fred Raymond's famous comedy, "The Missouri Girl," which has delighted theater goers for the past twelve years. The cast is said to be even stronger than before with Miss Sadie Raymond in her original character of Daisy. This is Miss Raymond's first trip in the West; her time heretofore being in great demand in the large eastern cities. The date for this attraction has been set for Saturday, February 23, and will, no doubt pack the house.

P. A. Dwyer, of Portland, was in the city Sunday, the guest of Mr. Long, of the Argus. Mr. Dwyer was formerly superintendent of construction for Geo. W. Hunt, who built 175 miles of railway in the Walla Walla country a few years ago. He will take charge of the Tillamook end of the P. R. & N., under General Manager C. E. Lytle, next month.

John Shaffer, who owns the Warren Grove tract, while working with a grubbing machine last Saturday, was struck by the sweep, and suffered a broken leg, the fracture being midway between the knee and hip. Dr. A. B. Bailey attended the injured man, and he is getting along nicely. He is at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Howard Baird.

John Overroeder, of Reedville, was in the city Monday.

POMPEIAN MASSAGE CREAM

is today indispensable on the dressing table of gentleman or woman. Not only does a Pompeian Massage perfectly cleanse the skin, but it removes wrinkles and blackheads, takes out stiffness of the facial muscles, animates the tissues, and makes the flesh firm and solid. Men use Pompeian Cream after shaving—it flexes the muscles and takes away shaving soreness. Most women recognize the value of this preparation in maintaining a clear and healthy skin.
