Merely Wanted to Beat Her Husband

SHE was a middle aged colored woman of unseemly build, and as she stopped at one of the gates in the Union depot the other morning the official toll notice that she was greatly perturbed and breathing hard. "Madam, you seem to be excited," he said as she choked and gurgled and coughed. "Yes, sah, I does. I dun run most all de way from de house, and I fell down for times on de way. If I gits sight of dat pusson he will also be afflicted wid overexcitement—heaps of it."

"You have something under your shawl," he said as his eyes detected a bulge to the garment. "Yes, sah," she replied as she removed and held up to view an old ax handle. "Dis am what will bring on dat overexcitement in case dat pusson shows up yere."

"But I can't permit any violence or disturbance, madam." "Oh, dere won't be no fussin' around. De pusson I done spoke of am my husband. He's done made up his mind to leave me fur another woman, and I spects 'em yere to take de train."

"And you won't disturb de peace?" "Not at all, sah—no, sah. Dar won't be no disturbance. When I gits eyes on him I shall spit on his hands, grip dis yere handle and jump fur him, and befo' he tucks in I'll have him home and all he come in bed. No, sah, no disturbance, 'cept dat I shall ax de people to stand back so dat I kin git a full swing of my arm to mash him!"—Chicago News.

What Was the Matter With Him? A Richmond man has in his employ a colored man of advanced age who by reason of his thrifty habits had accumulated enough money to defray the cost of his son's tuition at a negro college in Alabama. When the darky's boy returned to Richmond after the completion of his course he proceeded, much to his parent's disgust, to air his opinions on various subjects in a more or less diffuse and florid style of speech. One day the old man took him aside and addressed him as follows: "Richard Thompson Jenkins, I's been listenin' to yo' fo' several days, an' it's my opinyun dat yo' talk an' talk an' talk. Yo' doan' reach into de stomach of yo' subject, but yo' jes' argy an' argy. Yo' doan' locate, Richard Thompson Jenkins, yo' doan' locate!"—Harper's Weekly.

"He's so bald he must have ingrown hair." "Well, that's not a bad idea. It would at least explain why he is so harebrained."—Philadelphia Press.

In Hard Luck. Beggar—Please, sir, will you kindly assist a poor old man who has three wives to support? Pedestrian—Why, do you mean to say you are a bigamist? Beggar—Oh, no, sir; two of them are wives of my sons-in-law.—H. Mondo Umoristic.

No Regrets. Mrs. Deering—I think I shall have to give you the customary week's notice, Nora. The Cook—Glory be! But ain't it wonderful how great minds run in th' same groove! Ye tuk th' wur-ruds right out av me mouth.—Puck.

Angela All! Mabel (shocked with the recollection of it)—Isn't Edith's new hat just a horrid fright? Ethel (as if receiving congratulations)—Isn't it? I helped her select it!—Browning's Magazine.

Ats' He the Kiddert? "How does the new mare travel?" "Fine. Took my girl out sleigh riding yesterday, and she went great. My arms are sore from holding her in." "Holding whom in?"—Cleveland Leader.

She Was an Oddity. Mrs. Benham—You have your peculiarities. Benham—Yes; I have you.—Pueblo Chieftain.

The advantages of this Association in comparison with others of a similar character are: 1. We insure NOT IN THE CITIES, and can, therefore, not be affected by large conflagrations. 2. We insure ONLY THE BEST FARM BUILDINGS, and pass by old shacks and houses with stoves through the roof. 3. Our assessments can only be USED TO PAY LOSSES and not for expenses. 4. We insure NO BUSINESS PROPERTY, no stores, no factories, no saloons, no hop houses or fruit driers. 5. We take care NOT TO OVER-INSURE, sticking to the "two-thirds" clause of the value. 6. Our meetings are held in the City of Portland, the business center of the state, where members can EASILY ATTEND and keep the institution UNDER CONTROL, so that it shall NEVER BECOME A GRAVE of a few. Agents in Washington County are: 1. H. C. PEARSON, Cornelius, Ore., R. F. D. No. 2. 2. W. J. R. BEACH, Forest Grove, Ore. If you wish to join apply to the nearest agent or if there is no local agent in your vicinity send your name and address to J. J. KERN, Secretary, 565 East Yamhill St., Portland, Ore.
