This is an age of graft, and the man who wonders at it is simply foolish in the head. The last two campaigns were conducted by money donated by the big corporations, and so long as the precedent of purchase was set in that manner what is the use to kick over the purchase of a few city administrations.

Perhaps Paul Morton could tell the railroad magnates how to get on the good side of the administration. Friend Paul was one of the past masters in violation of the law, and for some reason or other the law left him unmolested.

Mayor Lane will run again for mayor of Portland. If he is nominated he will be elected even if the gamblers and saloon men all try to defeat him. Mayor Lane has tried to follow the law and the people of the metropolis know it.

MRS. VON ESCHEN

Mrs. Anna Elizabeth von Eschen, of Portland, and a former resident of near Greenville, died in Portland, last Friday, aged 86 years. She was born in Switzerland, and made her home with an only son, Stephen, who always lived with his mother. Many Greenville residents will remember the elderly woman. She was considered the eldest Swiss resident in the state.

E. F. McNelly, of North Plains, was in the city yesterday.

Isaac Leisy, the Leisyville pioneer, was in town yesterday.

C. Rehee, the Farmington dairyman, was in the city yesterday.

Peter Jacobson, of West Union, was in town Tuesday.

John Schneider, of near Phillips, was in town Tuesday.

J. C. Crocker, of near Mountaindale, was in town yesterday.

For sale: 10 pounds extra select Yellow Danver onion seed.—J. N. Miller, Hillsboro, Ore.

Hugh Rogers, who has been up at Buxton with the P. R. & N. for a year or so, was in town today.

Ladies' knit and muslin underwear, latest patterns; embroideries and laces—finest line in the county, at H. Wehrung & Sons.

James Churchill, of Gales Creek, and who is serving on the circuit court jury, enrolled himself as a member of the Argus family, Tuesday.

Hon. G. W. Patterson, special agent of the Interior Department, was out the middle of the week, the guest of his son, G. A. Patterson.

For Sale: Fifty acres cleared land in the vicinity of Hillsboro, on rural mail and milk route; near telephone line. Fine location; good building site.—Inquire of Argus.

The Misses Minnie and Georgia Wise, Wanda Logan, Catherine Boswell, and Messrs. Dr. Ralph Dugan and Ethelbert Flack, of Portland, were guests of the Misses Imbrie at the J. A. Imbrie home, Sunday; and Mrs. Ida McNutt, Mrs. C. M. Young, Miss Catherine Taggert and Mr Fred Gulick, were guests at the T. R. Imbrie home. They were attendants at the Opera House ball, Saturday evening.

Bishop W. G. Heil, D. D., of Chicago, will preach at the United Evangelical church on Tuesday evening, April 2. Service will begin at 7:30. Bishop Heil will also deliver an address at 2:30 in the afternoon. A cordial welcome is extended to all to attend these services. There will be preaching at the U. E. church, Sunday, both morning and evening. Morning subject, "The Miracle of the Ages."

Chas. Anderson, aged about 62 years, and who has lived a bachelor life near Tualatin for many years, was found dead in a yard, the first of the week, by neighbors. Anderson doubtless had an attack of heart failure, as there were no other indications of any kind. He had no relatives on the coast. Anderson was thought penniless, but it is now known he had two thousand dollars in a Portland Bank.

Senator E. W. Haines, of Forest Grove, has filed a notice of claim to a water right up in the hills above Gaston, on the Tualatin river, and he intends, according to his declaration, to build a flume four and one-half miles in length. The flume will be five feet wide and half of that dimension in depth, and the pipe is to carry water for power at his big dam. There will be but one reservoir, and as soon as this flume is built Mr. Haines will have a water power that will be available and ample the year around.

Would Seem a Tight Fit.

Benjamin's Wife—Who would think, Benjamin, my dear, that a carriage like that could possibly hold more than one person?—Pele Mele.

O Ye Tears!

The president of one of the well known colleges tells this story of one of his professors of chemistry:

It seems that the professor and his wife had not agreed upon some domestic question, the professor asserting that his means would not warrant the expense involved. His wife had used all her powers of persuasion without avail and at last resorted to the final feminine expedient, a flood of tears. At this the professor picked up his hat, but paused to remark:

"You might save yourself the trouble of that, my dear. Your tears have absolutely no effect upon me. Why should they, being nothing but common water with a very small percentage of phosphorous salts and a trace of chloride of sodium?"—Harper's Weekly.

He Was the Whole Thing.

The overburdening egotism shown by Governor Swettenham of Jamaica the other day recalled to the mind of a naval officer the story of the commander of a ship whose ego was larger than his brain.

A seaman had died. The crew was lined up on deck, and the chaplain began reading the service for the dead.

"I am the resurrection and the life," he began.

"Back to your quarters," commanded the captain. "I want you to understand that on this ship I am the resurrection and the life."—New York Globe.

Still Cheerful.

"Blakesley's the most persistent optimist I ever knew. He slipped and fell in a mud puddle yesterday, and you never saw such a sight as he was when he got up."

"What did he say?"

"He congratulated himself on the fact that it was so nice and soft where he had struck and expressed the opinion that if it had been hard he might have broken a bone or two."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Surprising Confession.

"Pshaw!" remarked Jigley, looking up at the clear blue sky. "I'm sorry I took this umbrella now."

"Well, well!" exclaimed Hammer. "I didn't suppose your conscience ever troubled you that way."—Philadelphia Press.

"The particular drink that plunges a man into the weeping stage of intoxication."—Judge.

The Two Wisdoms.

I ask my pa some questions,
Like what makes people grow
And where the wind has gone to
The times it doesn't blow?

Pa smokes and reads his paper
And hums and says, "Er—oh!"
And then he makes this answer:
"Well, you're too young to know."

Pa asks me 'bout the fairies
And where I saw 'em hide
And how I knew fat ogres
Had little boys inside?

I look at pa in pity
That he should be so slow,
And then I make this answer:
"Well, you're too old to know!"
—McLandburgh Wilson in Judge.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, and specifically Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

Quickness of Thought Saved the Situation

THE manager of a New York theater tells of the quickness of thought of a certain actor. The play being produced was a good, old fashioned melodrama, with a snowstorm in the second act. The first act was a drawing room. In this scene the hard hearted parent orders his daughter from his house, and, as she remains, imploring his forgiveness, he pulls the bellcord for a servant that she may be removed by force.

All went well until this point was reached. Unluckily, however, instead of pulling the bellcord he caught the one which opened the snow box, and instantly the large white flakes filled the air and covered the carpet and furniture.

"Bah! I have opened the skylight!" the actor said, with well simulated disgust, and gave the proper cord an angry jerk.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Disconcerting to the Judge.

It was formerly considered a great treat to hear a certain judge indulge in his favorite habit of wittily "chaffing" the lawyers and law clerks who attended his chamber to procure orders.

One morning in a crowded courtroom a small boy was noticed by the quick eyed judge passing up papers in contravention of the court rule which was intended to preclude all but those admitted to the bar from applying to the court for orders.

When the judge took up the boy's papers he said to him:

"Sonny, are you admitted?"

To the utter amazement of the judge as well as of all others gathered in the courtroom the boy unhesitatingly and confidently answered in his shrill, piping voice, "Yes, sir."

"Who admitted you?" said the judge, and as the boy innocently responded, turning toward the door and indicating the doorkeeper with his finger, "That gentleman at the door," the assembled lawyers fairly screamed in their laughter at the judge's overthrow.—New York Times.

In the Village Store.

Hiram Hardapple—The "oldest inhabitant" says he remembers when snow was four feet deep around here.

Silas Crawfoot—That's nothing. I've seen snow around here over my head.

Hiram Hardapple—Come off! When was that?

Silas Crawfoot—When it was on the roof. Ha, ha, ha!—Detroit Tribune.

Current Cookery.

Waiter—Yes, sir, we're very hup to date 'ere. We cook heverything by helectricity.

Customer—Oh, do you? Then just give this steak another shock.—Punch.

He Wanted to Know.

In a third rate restaurant a customer struggled manfully with teeth, knife and fork against an impenetrable beefsteak, but, being unable to make any impression on it, he called the waiter.

"Is this mule or horse?" he said.

"Sir?"

"Because if it is mule I have nothing to say, it being a stubborn animal by nature; but if it is horse I find it rather too tough."—Nos Loisirs.

'Twas False.

"I think the baby has your hair, ma'am," said the nursegirl, looking pleasantly at her mistress.

"Gracious!" exclaimed the lady, glancing up from her novel. "Run into the nursery and take it away from him. What will that child do next?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Dear Sir: In reply to your letter of the 4th inst. I am glad to be able to report that the result obtained from the use of your Phoenix Spray were very satisfactory, indeed. I tested it by diluting one to fifteen. The diluted sprays were applied thoroughly and favorably to trees that were simply incrusted, and even a weaker solution has apparently completely eradicated the pest from sprayed trees. I find that examination made about two weeks ago fails to reveal any living scale upon either fruit or leaves. (Signed) A. B. CORDLEY.
