

H. WINTZINGERODE WALKS FROM PRISON

Gallows Once Built for His Execution, in Hillsboro

MURDERED OLD JACOB SWANGER

Killing Took Place on Old Delano Claim, Near Phillips

Henry Wintzingerode, convicted June 3, 1880, for the murder of Jacob Swanger, aged 80 years; sentenced to be hung by the late Judge C. B. Bellinger; the gallows tree built by Capt. A. M. Collins;...

Jacob Swanger was found dead, with every evidence of murder, about January 9, 1880. Wintzingerode was suspected, as he had been with the old man off and on. He was arrested and indicted. Hon. C. B. Bellinger was judge, and Hon. J. F. Caples was district attorney. Thos. Hendley, late of Tillamook, defended, assisted by Ed. Meedenhall, who was employed by the defendant's countrymen in Portland, who believed the young man of simple mind, and never vicious, at any time. The late Congressman T. H. Tongue assisted the prosecution, and was aided by M. F. Mulkey, of Portland. The following jury on June 3, 1880, found Wintzingerode guilty: J. F. Henderson, W. L. Curtis (foreman), J. L. Fuller, Z. Baker, P. H. Austin, Jacob Whitmore, Thos. Wheeler, John McKernan, Jas. Shepherd, James McClaran, Andrew Jack and J. S. Miller. Many of the jurors are dead, and some are now influential citizens of the county, notably, Jas. McClaran and Andrew Jack. Judge Bellinger sentenced the man, the verdict being murder in the first degree. The sentence of death was as follows: "To the Sheriff of Washington County, Oregon: You are hereby commanded that on Friday, the sixth day of August, 1880 you take the said Henry Wintzingerode from the place of his confinement in the county jail of said county to the enclosure of said jail and that there, between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and two o'clock in the afternoon of said last named day in the manner provided by law you cause the said Henry Wintzingerode to be hanged by the neck until he is dead. Hereof fail not at your peril and make due execution and return of this warrant. Witness Hon. C. B. Bellinger, Judge of the said Circuit Court with the attestation of A. W. Luedling, Clerk, together with the seal thereof affixed this 10th day of June, 1880. C. B. Bellinger, Judge."

Captain A. M. Collins, now janitor of the court house, had the scaffold erected and was just putting the finishing touches on the instrument of death, in the courtyard, just north of what is now the assessor's office, when Sheriff Hale brought the gubernatorial reprieve. Wintzingerode was soon afterward taken to Salem, and he has been a model prisoner. Wintzingerode's countrymen in Portland spent much money defending the prisoner, and they were of the opinion that he was insane. Swanger was worth about $8,000, and was supposed to have money hidden on the place. Dr. F. A. Bailey, who was the chief medical witness for the state, says: "Wintzingerode confessed to killing Swanger, but said that he did not kill him for money. He claimed that he went to see Swanger, to borrow money, and a row ensued. The old man, according to the prisoner's story, became violent, and he shot him and afterward struck him on the head with a hatchet. He later placed the old man in his cabin and locked the door. Wintzingerode said the question of robbery did not enter his head until after he had killed him. He then took a few dollars in silver, hiding $50 in a roll under the rug beneath the bed, thinking he would go to Portland until after the excitement died down, and he would then return and get the money in order to leave the country. Wintzingerode's father was German consul at Portland, and the boy was well educated and a fine violinist. While the scaffold was being built he would play the violin and say: "Let them go on. They can no more than hang me." Gov. Thayer waited until a few hours before execution before he sent the reprieve. N. B. Mead was the man who caught young Wintzingerode. Yes, I think that Wintzingerode has paid the penalty of his crime, and the pardon is just, although at the time I was very much angered at the foolishness of the killing. I knew, however, that he told a fairly well connected story as to the killing."

Postmaster B. P. Cornelius was coroner, and says the Swanger inquest lasted 3 days; that the boot tracks in the snow, of the man who carried Swanger to his cabin, corresponded to the boots worn by the prisoner; that the bullet was from Swanger's gun, proved to have been loaned the defendant by the dead man. Mr. Cornelius says there is no doubt as to the justice of the verdict, but says that the prisoner was simple minded.

Argus and Oregonian, $2. Public dance at Hillsboro Opera House, Saturday evening, May 18.

The pupils of the Manning school point out for observation the fact that out of an enrollment of 29 at the beginning of the month of April, 23 are on the roll of honor for punctual attendance, and challenge any school in the county to break this record. Report of Manning school, District No. 44, for month ending May 3, '07. No. enrolled, 33; days taught, 20; whole No. days' attendance, 594; whole No. days' absence, 14; whole No. times tardy, 1; visitors, 20. Roll of honor, Marion, Edgar and Isabel Crawford, Clifford and Theron Brown, Ethel, Edith and Oscar Benefiel, Mena, Hans and Herman Tolke, Sadie and Claribel Crawford, Alfred, Frank and Clay Fisher, Mary Collins, Oren Cooper and Dick Stowell.—Maieie O'Donnell, teacher.

If you want to tile your place, get figures from the Groner & Rowell Company, of Scholla. We are the largest manufacturers of drain tile in the county, and have sold our product far and wide. If you are going to build in the Spring, get our figures of brick, building blocks etc. We also furnish lumber, rough and dressed, of all kinds, and deliver if required, in sufficient quantities. Address us at Hillsboro, R. F. D. No. 2.

The regular meeting of the Beaverton Fruit Growers' Association will be held on May 18, commencing at 1:00 in the afternoon. Good speakers will be present to talk on the subject of spraying and other topics of general interest. They want a good attendance, not only of members, but of the public generally. The agitation has accomplished much good in that section, and the officers are anxious to see the good work go forward. N. P. Oakerman, secretary, sends a general invitation to the public to be present.

I am now prepared to show you the Chas. Stevens & Bros. samples of the new Spring styles in ladies' silk, cloth and wash shirtwaist suits; also of dresses suits and dress skirts, made to your special order, and of your own selection of goods. Silk and cloth coats also carried. I carry a standard line of corsets and undershirts. I will be glad to bring my goods to your house upon request. Independent Phone, No. 264.—Mrs. M. E. Caudle.

Talk about your ratkilling, but Mrs. Loren Jackson, living on the home place, northeast of town, has the championship diamond belt as the leader in the class. The rate had been taking many of her little chickens, and they were safely burrowed under the henhouse. The other day she connected the hose, and flooded the burrows, and as a result 29 half-drowned rats came out only to be rendered hors du combat by their dog. This is the record, so far, and anyone who can beat it can have a year's subscription to the religious weekly.

C. Schenk and G. W. Cowan, of Lacco, Ill., are here this week, guests of Peter Grossen and Mrs. Emil Kuratli, who are relatives of Mr. Schenk. They expect to remain on the coast all Summer, and are looking for property investments.

Miller, of Shady Brook, was in town Tuesday, raising money for a church, which will be built under the auspices of the United Brethren Church, on the Harvey Northrup place.

Cattle pasture for Spring and Summer. Good tame grasses and plenty of water. Good fences. Will take stock beginning with May 1.—G. W. Marsh, Cornelius, Ore., R. F. D. 1.

L. M. Hoyt was down to Portland, the first of the week, attending a meeting of the jewelers of the state. Mr. Hoyt was selected as one of the committee on bylaws and constitution. Buffalo Pitts engine, water tank, and Champion Hay Press, ready to run, complete, for $500.—J. A. Moore, Hillsboro, Ore., Route 2, residing just east of Hillsboro, this side of Newton.

A. G. Stuart, who has been at Astoria for a year or so, is now with the P. R. & N., doing some track work between here and Buxton. He has lately returned from a trip to Lincoln County.

If you wish to spend a few quiet minutes and at the same time partake of a most refreshing and delicious ice cream, visit the Den of Sweets.

C. P. Berry, of Glencoe, and who recently moved to Cedar Mill, where he will haul crushed rock for the Cornell road, was in town Tuesday, accompanied by his wife.

Schulmerich Bros. are headquarters for wire fence. We have sold eight miles in the last 30 days. Cheaper than lumber.

Thos. Talbot, of Cornelius, and who has been mayor there several times, was down to the county seat Tuesday. Thos. says his little town is growing right along.

Fresh milk cows for sale.—W. B. Cate, Hawthorne Ranch, east of this city.

J. H. Thompson, of Thompson Bros., the Mountaineer sawmill firm, was in the city Tuesday.

MADAME NORELLI AT FOREST GROVE

At Marsh Hall, Wednesday Evening, May 15

A WORLD FAMED SINGER COMING

Splendid Musical Entertainment Booked at College Town

The Woman's Club of Forest Grove has secured Madame Norelli, the gifted prima donna, and William Wallace Graham, Portland's talented violinist, for a concert to be held in Marsh Hall, on Wednesday evening, May 15. Mr. Graham is considered the greatest violinist on the coast, and in style and technique he favors Yeasey. He has studied for years with the best masters in Germany. Madame Norelli needs no introduction to music lovers of Forest Grove and Hillsboro. Since last heard in America she has had a triumphant tour abroad and she is now classed as one of the world's greatest singers, ranking with Melba and Nordica. Here is an opportunity for music lovers to hear a treat that does not often come to this county. Norelli soon goes to Australia for a long tour, and she will not appear here for several years.

Hillsboro young people will give the concert a splendid support, and if sufficient numbers attend the train will bring them home at reduced rates. Reserved seats at Caples, Forest Grove, $1; a few seats at 75 cents.

FIRE AT GREENVILLE

The Maccabees of Banner Tent, Greenville, will have a bonfire on Saturday, June 8, when they will burn the mortgage on their hall. There will be an all-day picnic at the Dooley grove, and the Verboort band will furnish the music. There will be a ball game, speeches from Portland orators, and a general all-round good time. Everybody invited to attend—and bring your basket dinner with you. The K. O. T. M. will have one of their splendid drills, and the affair will end by a big ball in the evening, in Greenville.

FARMER'S INSTITUTES

Wm. Schulmerich notified the Argus that Farmers' Institutes will be held in this county, as follows, in June: Sherwood, June 4; Forest Grove, June 6; Banks, June 7; and Hillsboro, June 8. He states that an attempt is being made to have Webster, chief of the Dairy Bureau, of Washington, D. C., be here for one or two of the addresses. Here will be a chance for all sections of the county to hear some good lectures on farming and dairying.

Card of Thanks

We, the undersigned, wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kind assistance during the illness and death of our husband, and father, D. A. Maxwell, Sr. Mrs. M. A. Maxwell, I. H. Maxwell, H. H. Maxwell, Mrs. J. B. Holman. Mountaineer, Ore., May 8, 1907.

Farmers Take Notice

W. B. Cate & Son have a fine black Spanish Jack at the Hawthorne place, and he will be placed in the stud this season. Farmers who desire to raise mules that will be marketable should look this fellow over. They also have a fine young Clydesdale stallion that will be in the stud for a few select mares.

J. S. Wright, the Forest Grove horseman, lost a valuable horse near the bridge west of town, Tuesday evening. While driving home the animal stepped on a piece of loose plank, it is said, and became frightened, and broke a shaft, one of the ends entering the body. The animal was so badly injured that it was necessary to kill it.

CONCRETE WALKS FOR THE BUSINESS SECTION

Council Will Pass Ordinance at Next Session

STREETS ALSO TO BE SPLINKLED

Wake up, Rub Your Eyes, and Guess it is Hillsboro

Wake up! Rub your eyes! Are we in Hillsboro, or is it a spring night's dream? The Hillsboro city council is to pass an ordinance that concrete walks are to be laid in the business section of the city this Summer, or as fast as the old walks go to the bad. The section to be covered with modern sidewalks is from Washington street on Second, north two blocks, and from First on Main, up Main to Third street. J. W. Shute and F. A. Bailey will at once lay concrete along their property, known as the Morgan block.

Carl Larson went before the council last night, and the council agreed to furnish water for sprinkling purposes, Mr. Larson to get his pay from the business element.

The council has resolved to lay $2000 worth of street planking, commencing at the condenser bridge, south of the depot, running thence north on First street, either to Baseline, or to connect with Second, on the path of Fir or Oak. Verily, the world "do move."

COON TURNED WHITE

Chas. Patton, the negro who pleaded guilty to receiving stolen money, and later broke jail, was brought before Judge McBride this afternoon and given a three year sentence. The court however, at the last minute, paroled the prisoner during good behaviour. The "coon" turned white, for the court reserved the parole until the very last sentence. Charley said: "You bet it made the ole sweat stan' out on my back when dat coht said three-e years." Charley promises to be a good coon from this on. This is the closing chapter whersein Wm. Thornburgh, a Banks, rancher was robbed, and saloon keeper Beard was tried and acquitted.

Hillsboro Beats Forest Grove

The Hillsboro boys went to Forest Grove last Saturday and beat the local school nine by a score of 12 to 5. This is three out of four to the credit of the county seat school boys. The boys from here put up a lively game, and the pitcher, Burr Cornelius, struck out nine men. The lineup was: Hillsboro—Orrin, Burr Cornelius, Conklin, Food, Batchelar, Lloyd Commons, Ababir, Nowell, and Damon Greer.

John E. Roberts, of near Gaston, has discovered that the matrimonial market is not all that it should be, and he has sued Maude E. Roberts for divorce. The couple were married in Vancouver, Wash., the day before Christmas, and no later than January, according to his complaint, the wife told him that she had only married him to get a home for the winter. He also alleges that she frequently called him a "fool," a "liar," and other names too vile to be written in his complaint. She left him in April, and because of her inhuman and cruel treatment he wants Judge McBride to cancel what some minister or justice joined together—and if his complaint is true his prayer should be granted.
