REV. BELKNAP TALKS TO THE GRADUATES

Baccalaureate Sermon was Preached in M. E. Church

SERMON REplete WITH SOUNDNESS

Admonishes Them to Master Themselves and be Men and Women

The sermon before the graduating classes of the public school was delivered by Rev. Belknap, of June 2. Rev. Belknap took as his text for the Baccalaureate sermon Prov 4-7, "Wisdom is the Principal Thing; therefore get wisdom, and with all thy getting get understanding."

The sermon was a masterpiece. Here is a brief synopsis: Many have great learning, but fail for not noting the relation of things. Education means to draw out, to develop, and makes us masters of ourselves.

Man is a trinity in unity, body, mind and soul. True education must develop his body, his intelligence, his moral character and nature. Why should we be educated? 1st. For our own sakes. 2d. For the sake of our fellow-beings. 3d. For the honor and glory of the Creator who made us.

Why take care of our bodies? In the great problems of life there is need of a strong mind in a strong body. He quoted Pres. Roosevelt, who has a certain sort of contempt for a man with soft useless hands. Boys, especially, take care of the lives they lead, need to care for their bodies. Avoid bad habits. Great numbers of volunteers were rejected during the call of our country for defenders. The time may come when our land will need protection; but the cigarette boy will have no place.

HOLLENBECK-KREN

A pretty church wedding was solemnized May 26, 1907, at the M. E. church, Wesley Chapel, when Mrs. Della Keen, of Cedar Mill, gave her daughter, Sadie, in marriage to Earl Hollenbeck, of Mountandale, Rev. Hamlin officiating.

The church looked beautiful with decorations of roses, snowballs, dog-wood blossoms, Oregon grape and fern. A large wedding bell hung amid roses and snowballs over the bridal party.

The bride looked very pretty in a dainty gown of white carrying a large arm bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, sister of the bride, Miss Amy Keen, was gowned in light blue and carried white rosebuds. The groomsmen were Irve Willis. The wedding march was played effectively by Mrs. Holstead.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollenbeck are popular young people of Washington county, and the Argus wishes them a long and happy married life. The groom is a son of S. L. Hollenbeck, and the bride is a daughter of Mrs. Della B. Keen.

REEDVILLE CHURCH DEDICATED SUNDAY

History of Institution is Reviewed by Committee

VALUE OF CHURCH IS OVER $3,000

Everything was Paid at Dedication. Save $600

Following is the Historical and Financial Report to congregation at dedication of the Reedville Presbyterian Church, which took place last Sunday.

"On the 3rd Sabbath of January, 1901, Mr. Robinson held the first Presbyterian service in this community. Prior to that various denominations had occupied the ground, but each one eventually ceased and left the field destitute of any Gospel preaching. A Sabbath School was sometimes maintained, but naturally declined as the services were broken off. The school house was always open for religious service, but as time went on many felt the need of a church building where greater respect would be given to God's name and worship. In January, 1902, steps were taken by Mr. Robinson to secure a lot in view of building a church, and Mr. W. M. Ladd was asked to favor the establishment of a church and donate a lot. The condition of the community, however, at that time was not favorable to this project, so nothing was done until February, 1903, when the matter was again taken up, and Mr. Ladd referred to Mr. Martin Winch. There was again delay and nothing was done until early last year, when our pastor wrote to Dr. Hill, asking him to give us his personal influence. He turned the letter over to Dr. Holt, requesting him to take up the matter, which he did, and finally a deed was given by the Ladd and Keel estate for the land upon which the church stands. On June 20, 1906, a subscription list was circulated by the pastor, and the people of this community very liberally subscribed. A meeting of the subscribers was called on July 10th, and a committee was elected for building and completing the house of worship, consisting of Walter McCallum, J. Miller, James Borwick and D. Shaw; J. B. Imlay was elected treasurer.

Through the kind providence of God the work has been conducted we trust to the satisfaction of the entire community, and today we come to dedicate this work of our hands to Him whose presence is not confined to an earthly temple, but whose glory fills every house of Zion erected by His name.

Application was made to the Presbyterian Board of Church Erection for aid to complete this structure. And $1000 was recommended by the Presbytery of Portland and granted by the Board. It was thought wise to build a fence around the church lot, and erect sheds and furnish the church complete as it now is, and at the dedication endeavor to clear off all indebtedness.

We have received some small subscriptions from Portland. Dr. Linklater, Mr. John Cran and Dr. Holt were all helpful to the pastor in his efforts to secure subscriptions in Portland.

We value the whole property as you now see it today, including organ, bell, pews, lamps, pulpit furniture, sheds and fence, at about $350.

All is paid but bills amounting to $660, which we hope will be raised today.

Respectfully submitted, Walter McCallum, J. Miller, secretary; James Borwick, D. Shaw, Building Committee. Reedville, Ore., June 2, 1907."
