Dr. Lane defeated Tom Devlin for Portland's mayor, June 3. It was not a question of majorities, for the republicans have thousands to spare. It was a matter of policy. The time has come in Oregon when a man who stands with the big corporations cannot get the popular vote. For the first time in years the Oregonian refused to support the republican candidate, although it gave but little comfort to Dr. Lane. Its attitude, however, doubtless gave Lane a big boost and the "faithful" are swearing they will defeat the next man whom the Oregonian gives active support. If the kickers would stop and think a minute they would be convinced that a paper supporting Roosevelt, and by the way, tacitly, Mr. Bryan, could hardly be expected to aid Mr. Devlin, whose sympathy for the interests are manifest.

The Deacon's Moonlight Reverie

When the summer moon is risin' 'Bene the trees out east of town, An' it sheds a mellow softness On the streets an' all aroun' The garden with its roses sweet. An' the gables of our home— I sit back in my rockin' chair, An' close my eyes an' roam.

I wander back to childhood days, When life was all a dream, An' hope was bright with fancies An' all that—by Gosh—I seem To see a little brown-tanned kid, With a single gallus on, An' that so 'tarnal ravelled that The thing was nearly gone.

He didn't seem to have a care, Except a stone bruise sore, An' when he crunched an' apple, you Can bet he ate the core— The boy kep' growin' as they will, To no master was he slave, An' then one day he changed his voice, An' then commenced to shave.

One day he met a little maid, With a soft and tender heart, When all at once he was a man, An' she of him a part; An' then he told her of his love, Of things he 'lowed to do, An' ended up by weddin' her— The girl, her name was Sue!

We've lived to see our three-score-ten, An' earned a restin' spell; So on the porch we rest tonight— The perch we love so well; An' think of times 'at's past an' gone, When we heard our children's croon— Their faces kissed, on this same porch, Now kissed by that same moon.

Wm. Thompson fed one of his arms into the planer feed mill, the first of the week, at the Third Street mill, and he is today no longer a member. Luckily, no bones were broken.

For a good smoke try the Schiller or Exocellencia—and you will try them again and again.

Mrs. Gottfried Yungen died at the family home in Helvetia, June 1, 1907.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant breastmilk for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless aid in preparing the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can be taken in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, back-ache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, ante-version or retro-version or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native, medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

After reading the public statement of this party, given below, you must come to this conclusion: A remedy which cured years ago, which has kept the kidneys in good health since, can be relied upon to perform the same work in other cases. Read this:

G. S. Cooper, farmer, living three miles northeast of Salem, Ore., on R. F. D. No. 7, says: "I just as emphatically recommend Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did some three years ago. At that time I procured the remedy at a drugstore and used it with the result that the back-ache was banished and the other annoyances caused by a derangement of the kidneys disappeared. The troubles started from too heavy lifting, resulting in my back being strained and ever after there was a dull aching over my kidneys and through the loins. I got prompt relief from Doan's Kidney Pills. I also know of some of my neighbors who have used your remedy and found it most reliable."
