For sale: 500 sacks Al white oats, in ton or half-ton lots—Edward L. Naylor, Forest Grove, Ore.

Ray Reasoner, who is with the crew at the Ha nes' dam, was out yesterday, getting supplies and other "needfuls" for the camp.

If you want to spray your hops remember that the Greener Feed Store, Second Street, keeps Whale Oil soap and quassa chips, in any quantity.

Cap. Wiley came down from Ainsworth, the first of the week, and has been visiting in this city. He returns to his ranch above Pasco in a few days.

Buffalo Pitts engine, water tank, and Champion Hay Press, ready to run, complete, for $500.—J. A. Moore, Hillsboro, Ore., Route 2, residing just east of Hillsboro, this side of Newton.

President E. E. Lytle, of the Pacific Railway & Navigation Company, came out Tuesday, and went on out to the tunnel, and General Manager C. E. Lytle went out this morning to join him, in looking over the progress of the work on the line.

McCabe Brothers now have the tunnel driven in about 500 feet since they commenced work on their contract. The Company took out some more steel this morning and the track will be extended a little further toward the big hole in the mountain, above Buxton.

East Side newspapers still complain of the tramp, or hobo nuisance, but you rarely see this genus around Hillsboro, any more. The officials say that it has been several months since they have been bothered with tramps. Occasionally a man comes along broke, but he is a genuine laborer, and all he asks is a free ride out on the P. R. & N., where he can get work on the grade or at the tunnel. The reason of the scarcity of tramps is attributed to the fact that Hillsboro is noted for putting these chaps to work on the streets, and this sort of news is bulletined to trampdom all over the state, and they give the county seat a wide berth.

The Order of Washington will give a dance in the O. O. W. Hall, at Reedville, on Friday evening, July 26. A new floor has been laid, and we have one of the finest floors in the county to dance on. Soft drinks will be served at the counter. Tickets, including oyster supper, $1.00. All are invited to come and have a good time. Good order will be strictly maintained.

The tent tabernacle on Third street, in which the United Evangelical people are holding services, keeps drawing good crowds, the auditorium proving a novelty, as well as being well ventilated when it is warm. Rev. C. C. Poling, Ph. D., of LaMar, Iowa, and well known here as presiding elder of this district a few years ago, will preach Saturday evening and Sunday morning, and again in the afternoon, at 3:00; and in the evening at 8:00. The meetings will be continued during the coming week. All are cordially invited to be present.

The gophers are about taking the courtyard these days, and officers and all are after their scalps. A. A. Morrill laid in wait ten minutes for a big fellow the other day, holding an open knife above the opening, waiting for his gopher-ship to come out—but the old fellow was altogether too cautious. Several have been shot with the cartridge gopher gun, and these seem to be the most effective.

The twelve year old son of Dr. Arthur Eaton, of Portland, was taken from Independence to the city Sunday, and in the night ran away from the father and started to walk back to Polk County, to join his mother, the parents being separated. The little lad reached Hillsboro Monday evening and was carried as far as Whiteson by the conductor on the up-train.

To the Public: Although we are forced to suspend business for awhile on account of repairs, we are not going out of business entirely. We will soon be located in our Second street store, with a bigger and better Den of Sweets, where we wish to meet all our old-time patrons, as well as many new ones. Yours for good candy.—Jas. Miltenberger.

John Reilly, who has a thousand fine Baldwin apple trees on his place this side of West Union, was in town yesterday, and says that he will not have a third of a crop this year. The last two years, however, he had his trees full, and he says the rest will do the orchard good.

The househunter in Hillsboro these days is having a time of it. There are not houses enough for the demand, and it is safe to say that fifty cottages, or more, could find rental, because many come and look to some other town, because of lack of a place to keep them.

Party who has lost a bay filly, white hind feet, star in forehead, will find same at John Lehman's farm, near Cedar Mill, where it has been taken up as an stray. Owner can have same by paying charges accrued and cost of advertisement.

STEAMER COLUMBIA GOES DOWN TO SEA

Former Forest Grove Girl, Miss Minnie Buxton, Saved

MRS. WILLIAM H. SOULS WAS LOST

Strange Fatality Pursues Family of Which She was Member

The Steamship Columbia, running between Portland and San Francisco, on her uptrip, last Saturday night, was rammed by the Steam Schooner San Pedro, a lumber vessel, off the coast of Mendocino county, and within eight minutes after the collision the Columbia sank in 516 feet of water. The loss of life was over 100, and over 200 were saved by the San Pedro and by means of life boats and rafts.

Miss Minnie Buxton, formerly of Forest Grove, a daughter of Mr. Ed. Buxton, was on the steamer, and was saved. Mrs. W. H. Souls, formerly Miss Minnie VanHorn, and a native of this county, is among the missing, and her relatives have given up all hope. A strange fatality seems to have pursued Mrs. Souls's family, as in the last thirty years violent death has claimed her grandfather, the late "Uncle Ben" Cornelius, who was killed by her father at a Fourth of July celebration in Portland. The father, Jack Powers, in a snow storm above Baker City, a few years ago, froze to death. Her sister, Mrs. Comstock, and Miss Tillie Cornelius, her aunt, were injured near Chehalis, in the Elks' excursion, a few years ago. Mrs. Comstock, who was a beautiful woman, sustaining a facial injury, the marks of which she will always carry. Wm. H. Souls, the missing woman's husband, is marine reporter on the Oregonian. Mrs. Souls was returning from a visit to San Francisco.

HAD MONEY TO BURN AND HE BURNED IT

Timber Cruiser Scorches a Twenty Dollar Bill

PIPE IGNITES HIS CURRENCY

Thos. Bigby Has Peculiar Experience While Enroute to Depot

Thos. Bigby, a timber cruiser in the employ of some of the big timber land purchasers, was in town yesterday. There is nothing particularly significant about Mr. Bigby's visit to this city, as Hillsboro is being visited by timber barons, timber cruisers, and timber sellers, these days, in myriads. But Mr. Bigby learned a lesson while here that will last him a while. He came in from the Nehalem via Glenwood and Forest Grove, and then made a trip to the courthouse. From there he started to the train to go to Portland. While enroute to the depot he lighted his pipe; when he reached the Milne place he knocked the ashes out of his pipe, which was a short one, and put the dudden in his vest pocket. When he reached the depot he discovered that he was on fire. There was a pretty warm spot, and as he had papers in the pocket, the spark got in some deadly work. Bigby went into the receptacle and pulled out the wad. A check on a Portland bank was badly burned, but was still negotiable. Not so, however, with a twenty dollar treasury note, which was all charred and unrecognizable, save one corner, on which was the big "XX," reminding Bigby of the many cold birds and bottles that his short smoke cost him. "By Gee!" quoth Bigby. "I've smoked away many a twenty in my 45 years of life, but that was a little the fastest smoking I ever did. Besides, it knocks the profit out of my trip, and there is no way I can make it back in my expense account, for that is now loaded as much as it will carry."

A fellow drove through town at noon today, having a team that was a curiosity. The horses were not much higher than the average Shetland pony, and their legs, naturally, were very short. In length, however, their bodies were fully as long as the average horse, and the span looked like a pair of German dachshunds. Their peculiar formation of bodies, however, did not seem to interfere with their traveling abilities, as they could strike a pretty pace. J. W. Bailey was particularly taken with the team and tried to buy them to use as a vacation team, but the owner refused to sell.

The county exhibits at the Oregon State Fair in Salem are always interesting, and big advertising feature for the sections represented. This year six counties will exhibit, as follows: Marion, Benton, Lane, Linn, Clatsop and Multnomah. The last two have never been represented before. The county courts Multnomah and Clatsop counties have each appropriated $1000 to provide for an adequate display. Marion county will exhibit, but she will not compete for the prize. The outside counties say that Marion has an advantage in being nearer the fair. Accordingly she will withdraw and the other contestants will all have an equal chance. Washington County should have an exhibit—but it will not.
