ROBS CRIPPLED AND VERY AGED WOMAN

Miscerant Enters Home of Mrs. Peter Senften

GAGS WOMAN AND TAKES MONEY

Victim of Robbery Resides Near Cedar Mill, East of Here

Some unknown robber entered the little home of Mrs. Peter Senften, who is aged 76 years, and who is feeble and crippled, Monday night, about eleven o'clock, and robbed her of between $80 and $100. Sheriff Connell and the Argus reporter visited the Senften home, last evening, and the woman told her story in the Swiss tongue, being unable to speak English. She said that about 11:00 Monday evening, just before she retired, she heard some one moving about the outside of the house and suddenly two shots were fired. This terrified her and she left her bedroom, which contained a lighted lamp, and went into her kitchen. She saw a man standing by the south door. He advanced toward her and pointed a revolver at her. He forced her into the bedroom where the light was burning, and told her he wanted "money." He then blew out the light, telling her to be quick about handing out her pocket book. He then lighted cigarette papers occasionally, in order to see what he was doing. He had gagged Mrs. Senften so she could make no outcry. She gave him her pocket book and some money wrapped up in a cloth. He then left, after searching her bed. Whoever the man was he evidently was a cigarette fiend. He had gone to the pantry window, and the old lady says he came in through the opening, but from indications he did not, as there is no mark where the window was raised, and it being nailed, if opened it would have shown pry marks. However, the ax was left at this window by the robber. The probability is that he went around to the south door of the kitchen, and found it unlocked, and walked in.

Those desiring to pick hops at the Bagley hopyard, Leisville, will please register at the farm, or at the law office of Bagley & Hare, either in person or by letter. Please register prior to August 25.

The council met Tuesday night and passed upon a few bills. It was also voted, upon motion of Councilman J. W. Bailey, that it was the sense of the council that the Street Fair and Stock Show be given the use of the streets for the occasion, two days, in the latter part of September. Mayor Dennis will call a meeting in next week's papers, for a preliminary organization for the affair.

For Sale: Fifty acres cleared land in the vicinity of Hillsboro, on rural mail and milk route; near telephone line. Fine location; good building site.—Inquire of Argus.

F. M. Kelsey, road supervisor for South Hillsboro, was in town yesterday. Mr. Kelsey is a firm believer in the split log proposition, and says that wherever used the roads are better both winter and summer, than elsewhere.

Wm. Jamieson, aged 80 years, died August 1. He leaves a widow, Aurelia Jamieson, of Beaverton, and a son, James B. Beaverton, and one son, Wm. D., of Portland. His will has been filed in probate. He leaves one half of his farm of 20 acres to his widow, and the other half with tools etc. goes to Jas. B., along with $300 cash. Wm. D. gets $2800 in cash as his share of the estate. The widow also gets the household furniture.

C. L. Shaver, a prominent onion grower, of Tualatin, was up to the county seat this morning. Mr. Shaver says the crop is looking fine down that way, and that things are lively down there, owing to the Oregon Electric building. The line is now laying steel out of Tualatin. Mr. Shaver is a native of the county, and has spent 47 years of his life in the Tualatin section. His father, Adam Shaver, still lives on his donation, taken up shortly after he reached Oregon in 1852.

J. B. Stewart, T. C. Johnson, John Purves and J. J. Krebs and their wives went from South Tualatin to Devil Lake, after huckleberries, Saturday, and returned with 26 gallons. They camped at Cedar Camp No. 6, where the fleas were plentiful—so they say—and where the water transforms one's vision so that a stump resembles a bear. Purves and T. C. Johnson shot several cartridges into a black stump under the delusion that it was a bruin.

It's pretty hard to head Andrew McCabe, one of the tunnel contractors, above Buxton. Going into Portland the other day he was telling some of his friends in the Chamber of Commerce building about finding some petrified clams in the tunnel, which were dug out fifty feet under the mountain. Andy also told about finding a petrified bird. One of the drillers smashed the bird and found a petrified egg, and as the pieces of the bird lay here and there the workmen swore that he heard several petrified notes, that doubtless had been concealed for years. They now call "Andy" a "nature fakir."

George Taylor was up from the Scholle's section, yesterday.

A. S. Pattullo, one of the prominent officers of the Oswego Iron & Steel Co., was in the city Tuesday.

W. H. Smith, a veteran of the 4th Wisconsin Cavalry, was a visitor from Houlton, Tuesday, and was registered at the Tualatin.

Dance at Alpha Hall, Cornelius, Saturday eve, August 17. Walkers' orchestra. Tickets, 75 cents. Come all. Good time assured.

Wilbur R. Wiley, more generally known as "Cap," around here, and who is a brother of W. V. Wiley, is a firm adherent of fellowship, but he doesn't believe in too warm greetings upon a return to old stamping grounds. A week or so ago Cap. left here for Astoria. Arriving he went to steamer on which he has been working. He was met by the Captain and first officer at the gang plank, and, being a favorite, they grabbed him as soon as his feet struck the deck. In the friendly scuffle Wiley was downed and with his fall came a broken leg. He was brought down by the Captain and placed in the St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland.

A young fellow by the name of R. Walker, who came up from Ilwaco, last night, stepped off the train after it had started, and as a result he broke one of his legs right at the ankle. The young fellow was starting to get work at the tunnel. Dr. F. J. Bailey set the fracture, and the young man will be laid up for two or three months. Walker was sleeping when the train pulled in, and was awakened by the brakeman.

State Master of the Grange, Austin T. Buxton, has appointed the following district deputy for Washington County: Arthur Cutting, for Butte, Winona, Sherwood, Beaverton, Scholls and Leedy granges; unfilled as yet for Hillsboro, Gale, Green Mountain, Washington and Lewis & Clark granges. The road commission has W. K. Newell, of this county, and tax commission has Thos. Paulsen, formerly of this county.

Emil Kurall and wife returned yesterday from a trip to Willapa Pacific County, Wash., where lumber and dairying make a second Tillamook. While there he met with many friends of the Argus reporter. South Bend and Raymond, on the Willapa river, he says, are growing finely and everything wears the air of prosperity over in that section.

The Den of Sweets new location, on Second Street, will soon be ready to occupy, as workmen are rushing the work of remodeling the place. Look for announcement in the near future.—Den of Sweets.

Bert Northrup, who has just finished four years in the U.S. navy, cruising mostly in the Japan and China seas, has returned home. While in the navy he has graduated as a steam and electrical engineer, and will try a few years as landsman. He is visiting relatives here and at Shady Brook.

A. Vanderzanden, of Banks, came down this morning, and went on down to St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland, to nurse a broken collar bone, sustained a week ago, while trying to head off a cow that was making an escape from the yard. The cow and young Vanderzanden had a collision and the P. R. & N. engine was in it compared with the bovine.

A panther chased H. Taylor and Fred Watson, near the Bellingher Bridge, Tuesday night, and a few minutes later gave chase after L. Vanderzanden. The boys swear that in the gloaming the animal looked as big as Lyda's mill—and each of the three swears there had been nothing to drink out that way since the iron house was closed.

We have thoroughly overhauled our feed chopper and other machinery, and are now ready to handle the new crop. Chopping days, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays. We sell mill feed at lowest prices and pay best prices for hay and grain.—C. B. Buchanan & Co., Cornelius.

C. R. Bloyd, the sawmill man, of above Glencoe, was in town today, and says that the night of the electric storm a heavy shower of hail fell up at the mill. The hail were as large as cherries and came with sufficient force to break fire boughs as large as a lead pencil.

The twelve year old son of Ray Scoggins, of south of Reedville, while playing ball last Saturday, dislocated a finger. He waited a day until the member became badly swollen, and then had Dr. A. B. Bailey attend the injury.

For sale: Ten room house in good repair; barn; orchard; 2 lots 1/2 in tract; one block from school house; 3 blocks from railway. Goes for $2,000; $1200 down, balance on time. Inquire of Argus.

G. W. Stitt, who was injured some time ago by his team getting the start of him while coming down the hill with a load of 3,500 on, was in town yesterday, on business with the county court.

Will rent furnished house on First Street, between Baseline and Washington, to elderly woman capable of boarding us, or to man and wife, without children, on same terms. For particulars apply at residence.—Mrs. A. C. Brown.

Adolph Siegrist returned Monday evening from a month's vacation on the Columbia River and Newport, and is again at his work as salesman for the Wehrung Store.

J. B. Wilkes and wife and Miss Ethel Waters, of Forest Grove, left yesterday for Goldendale, Wash., where they will be guests of F. E. Waters and family, for a few weeks.

Miss Lena Wirtz, of Mountindale, returned yesterday from a trip to Seattle, and went on out home in the afternoon.
