WASHINGTON COUNTY, OREGON

Population, 20,000. First County in dairying; 1100 cases condensed milk daily; two big condensers; billions of feet merchantable timber...

HILLSBORO

County seat; 2,000 people; Six churches, Protestant and Catholic; two banks; two telephone systems...

AND THERE YOU ARE!

The dispatches tell of severe rioting in Vancouver, B. C. between a mob of 5000 workmen and the Japanese residents.

Hiram Vroom, a Portland minister, avers that we will war with Japan, and urges Oregonians to procure rifles and ammunition.

The Oregon Journal last Monday issued an Anniversary number, in magazine form, beautifully illustrated, and just teeming with useful information about Oregon's resources...

John Bull, who severely criticized the United States for the San Francisco race riots, now faces a similar condition in British Columbia. Will the Canadians stand to be spanked by the home government?

Baba Banratta, a Hindoo sage, predicts that China and Japan will unite forces in 1915, and overrun the world. In that event white folks will have to take to the woods.

Francis J. Heney returned to Portland last Monday, and said in an interview that the Oregon land fraud cases would be prosecuted. That appears to settle the matter.

A Portland paper fears the Banana trust. Isn't the banana peel to be feared more?

Heard Tatt Speak.

Following is a list of Hillsboroiters who attended the Taft speaking in Portland last Monday night. Judge J. W. Goodin, Clerk Godman, Deputy Sheriff Kane, Superintendent Case, Recorder Ireland, Treasurer Jackson, Mr. Heide, Ed Schulmerich, W. N. Barrett, Robt. Greer, Mr. Commons, A. C. Shute, W. O. Notice of Final Settlement

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has filed in the County Court of the State of Oregon, for Washington County, his final account in the estate of John T. Mills, Deceased, and that the same has been set for hearing before said court on Monday, October 7, 1937, at 10 o'clock a. m. Dated this September 4, 1937. IRA T. MILLS, Administrator of the estate of John T. Mills, Deceased. W. N. Barrett, Atty. for Administrator.

THE SUMMER ARGUMENT.

A problem of woe-lock, That never is settled, And that gets mother nettled; It comes up each year, At the summer resort; Who'll clean the fish, That father has caught?

Mother says that she won't, Father says that she should; It is clearly her task, And is so understood: "If I catch the fish, And I lead 'em and tail 'em, It's really your duty, To dig in and scale 'em."

To this mother says, In a positive way, "When I clean your fish, It will be a cold day, You have all the fun, When you angle and hook 'em, I'm doing enough, If I'm willing to cook 'em."

"You're wrong," declares father, "You swore to obey, It was one of your vows, On our glad wedding day, 'Till I bow to your wish, When the nuptial sac, That I swore to clean fish."

Oh, endures the worry, And ceaseless the row; The summer is here, They are arguing now, They want to double— And the problem is great— Shouldn't you clean the fish, If you dig the bait? —Detroit Free Press.

Sure to Miss Him.

A man who runs a truck farm in Virginia tells of the sad predicament in which a colored man named Sam Moore, who is in his employ, recently found himself. Sam had had considerable difficulty in evading the onslaughts of a dog from a neighboring farm. Finally the dog got him, as Sam kicked at him.

Sam's wife, hearing a tremendous yell, rushed to the rescue of her husband. When she came up the dog had fastened his teeth in the calf of Sam's leg and was holding on for dear life. Seizing a stone in the road, Sam's wife was about to hurl it when Sam, with wonderful presence of mind, shouted: "Mandy! Mandy! Don't throw that stone at the dawg! Frow it at me, Mandy!"—Youth's Companion.

Bug Battle of Antietam.

Ant Veteran—Yes, it was one of the fiercest battles of the war. The ant army fell upon the green bugs and literally ate 'em up.

Willie Worm—At what battle was that, captain?

Ant Veteran—Why, the battle of Ant-eat-'em, of course.—Kansas City Times.

A Leading Question.

The younger teachers of the Lincoln school are telling with glee a great joke on Miss Blank, one of the oldest and most capable instructors in the primary grades of our schools. It was Harold's first day at school, Miss Blank came down to his desk and said, "What is your name?" "Harold Smith," the bright youngster replied. "And how old are you?" went on Miss Blank in her methodical way. "Six," said Harold. "How old are you?" And the young teachers are laughing.

G. E. Patterson THE HOUSEFURNISHER, UNDERTAKING AND EMBALMING

Freda. Life doesn't seem the same to me Since Freda went away. We talk about it every night And also every day. The kitchen needs a cleaner place, We hate to turn the knobs And look into that larder one way or another Since Freda pumped her job. We miss our Freda dreadfully. Her English was distressing but Her breakfast table was fine. And now we sit and think of her, And in our thoughts a sigh Of sorrow rises at the thought That Freda pumped her job. She won't come back, She married now. She thinks she's better off. Perhaps she is. At any rate, It does no good to grieve. But every time I think of her Our and hearts give a thro. It makes a difference in our house Since Freda pumped her job. —Somerville Journal.

A FATAL MISTAKE

Is Often Made by the Wisest of Hillsboro People

It's a fatal mistake to neglect backache. Backache is the first symptom of kidney trouble.

William Burgardner, retired, of 421 Water St., Salem, Ore., says: "I suffer from personal experience when I say that Doan's Kidney Pills do all that is claimed for them in curing kidney complaint and backache. I had felt the need of such a remedy for a good long while, but did not know just what I should use. I have found that many medicines are worthless, and that even physicians' prescriptions do not always prove effective. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills, however, I was induced to go to a drug store and procure a supply. The backache and irregular condition of the kidneys which had annoyed me, quickly gave way upon beginning to use your remedy. I was restored to a condition of ease and comfort. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone in need of such a medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBreen Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.
