OLD FAIR GROUNDS SCENE OF ACTIVITY

Historic Track Again to be in Service

BIG RACE MEETS MAY MATERIALIZE

Ivington Track Abolition may mean Much for Hillsboro

The Tongue estate has leased to J. E. Gray and J. D. Chappell, for a term of one year, the 210 acre tract, adjoining town, and known as the Hillsboro Fair Grounds, together with all the farming implements and work horses on the ranch. Messrs. Gray & Chappell are already fixing up the track stables for the accommodation of a large string of race horses soon to arrive from Calgary, British Columbia. This string is owned by a gentleman by the name of Anderson. Mr. Chappell now has a number of fine racehorses in training for spring races, and will add others for the firm from time to time.

It is thought by many that since the Portland Irvington track has been closed, arrangements will be made to establish general training stables here, and have the track connected with the Northwest circuit. In case this is done Hillsboro may witness a repetition of the glorious old racing days of the '70s.

The turn will also encourage the county fair project, and this may be enlarged, later, to a district fair, with state aid. With the Southern Pacific railway service of 8 passenger trains daily, and the Oregon Electric line, which is assured by mid-summer, a district fair and races at "Old Hilltown" would be visited by more people than any other fair point in the Northwest.
