MRS. ZINA W. WOOD DIES OF PARALYSIS

Was a Pioneer of the Early Days

ORPHANED WHILE ON THE PLAINS

Had Resided in This County Since 1853

Mrs. Zina W. Wood died at the family home Tuesday evening, from a stroke of paralysis. Her maiden name was Jane Elizabeth Shaw, and she was born in Putnamville, Shelby County, Missouri, March 19, 1837. Her mother died when Mrs. Wood was aged three years, and her father, John Shaw, married again, and with the family, started across the plains in 1852. While east of the Rocky Mountains, a cholera epidemic attacked the emigrant party, and his wife died, leaving the girl and a half brother, considerably younger, to make their way alone. The parents were buried, and the children came on with the party, arriving in Portland that fall. In January, 1853, Mrs. Wood came to Washington County and made her home with the family of the late William Eldra. She was married to Zina Wood, who survives her, October 2, 1853. They settled on a homestead near Cedar Mill, and lived there a year. They then moved to Glencoe, where they purchased a farm. In 1874 they moved to the city limits of Hillsboro, where they resided until four years ago, when they left the farm to occupy their home in this place. In 1870, Mrs. Wood became a member of the West Union Baptist Church, the oldest organization of its kind in the Willamette Valley, and which built the first frame church, which is still standing, in the state. Mrs. Wood was a woman of sterling character, and her unswerving sense of duty marked every action of her life. The following children survive: Mrs. Emily Trullinger, wife of D. P. Trullinger, North Yamhill; Mrs. Mildred Connell, wife of Joseph Connell, of Glencoe; Zina Wood Jr., a Hillsboro hop grower, and Dr. W. D. Wood, a practicing physician of this city. Funeral services were held at the family residence on last Friday, by Rev. L. F. Belknap, pastor of the M. E. church, followed by interment of the remains in the Masonic cemetery at this place. The remains were followed to their last resting place by a large number of the friends of deceased.

AUCTION SALE

There will be an auction sale at Glencoe Hall, Saturday evening, December 14th, of pretty and useful Christmas presents for the benefit of a Christmas tree at the same place. Free lunch after sale, and prizes for the prettiest girl and the laziest man. Everybody invited.

PHOEBE J. JACK

Died, at the home of her father, J. J. Jack, near Farmington, Dec. 2, 1907, of tuberculosis, aged 27 years. Phoebe J. Jack. Funeral services were held at the family residence, Tuesday, following which the remains were laid in the family cemetery near Farmington. Deceased had a host of friends who sincerely regret her untimely death. She leaves a father and mother, a sister and brother to mourn her loss.

FOR SALE

A fine, well matched, black driving team, weight about 1050 pounds. Also new high grade buggy, and new harness.

F. M. Heidel, 38-41 Hillsboro, Oregon.

Earl Wallace, who is attending college at Corvallis, spent Thursday at his home in this city.

Argus and Journal, $2.25.

Nelson Rodgers, of Vernonia, was a guest at the Tualatin Hotel last Sunday.

Umbrellas covered and repaired as good as new, at R. Lee Sears' cyclery.

John Carens, of Banks, passed through town Monday, on his way to Portland.

Before you buy your toilet soap, take a look at the line at the Hillsboro Pharmacy.

Dan Emrick returned Monday, from a trip to Kalama, Wash., where he went on business.

Go to Greer's for your groceries. He has everything that is kept in a first-class grocery store. 34-41.

Harry Wolford, of Buxton, was in town, Friday, and called on the Argus. He says that the lumber industry is rather quiet up there.

Earl King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew King, of Roy, died at the family home, Monday, December 2, 1907, aged two years. The little one was one of a pair of twins.

For Sale: Fifty acres cleared land in the vicinity of Hillsboro, on rural mail and milk route; near telephone line. Fine location; good building site.—Inquire of Argus.

Mrs. Haas, of this city, has been very ill of late. Her condition last week was considered so serious that her sons, from Sheridan and Salem, were summoned to her bedside.

We will dispose of our entire line of men's suits at cost. Here is a chance to dress well at a small value.—Schulmerich Bros. 35-41.

Shooting match, on Sunday, December 8, 1907, with shotgun and rifle, for turkeys, geese and ducks, at Beach & Kiefer's saw mill. Everybody invited.—Kiefer & Beach.

Watch R. H. Greer's store from now until Christmas, for anything in the line of Christmas goods. He always leads, and will have a larger stock in his new store. 34-41.

The new clearing house certificates are in circulation in this vicinity. They are much better in appearance than the first ones issued, and seem more like money than the blanket edition that preceded them.

D. T. McCartney, who resided on the Newton place, southeast of town, a few years ago, and now a resident of Linnton, had a brown mare stolen from his place Saturday evening. The horse was saddled and lame after a hard drive.

By the courtesy of the English Baptist church of Hillsboro, Rev. A. Becker, pastor of the German Baptist church of Bethany, will hold services in German at this place next Sunday, at 2:30 o'clock. German friends cordially invited.

Marriage licences were issued by the county clerk to the following persons, on the dates named: Frank Parkin and Dora Kahler, of Gales Creek, Nov. 29; Oliver A. Corl and Bessie Mae Mills, Gales Creek, Nov. 29; John L. Neubert, of Cosmopolis, Wash., and Laura Myers, of Laurel, December 3.

Jesse Stewart, who spent his boyhood days in this city, was a guest of Judge Rood and family, this week. Jesse has been up around Circle City, the last few years, and he says that the great north is still sending out lots of gold to the "states." The visitor intends making a trip to North Yakima in the near future. While in the city he made the Argus office a pleasant call.

Judge Goodin informs the Argus that several of the county road districts have about decided to hold elections for a special road tax, for the purpose of building Macadam roads. This sentiment is the right sort, and indicates that Washington County does not propose to be behindhand in the onward march of improvement. Nothing will pay better interest than money invested in roads. It is the Judge's intention to hold meetings in the county wherever there seems to be a sentiment favoring the subject.

DENNIS IS MAYOR ANOTHER TERM

Councilmen are Connell, Sewell and Tongue

ELECTION IS A VERY QUIET ONE

Geo. Schulmerich, Recorder, and Cal Jack, Treasurer

The city election, Monday, was one of the quietest held in Hillsboro for many years. The mass meeting ticket was elected throughout. The only contest was for mayor. Mayor John Dennis received 162 votes, and H. T. Bagley, 38, giving Dennis a majority of 125 votes. The councilmen polled nearly the full vote. In fact there was but one ticket filed with the recorder, and that was the mass meeting ticket. The whole number of ballots cast at the election was 201. Some scratching was done. The main fight was made on Mayor Dennis, but the fact that he received a majority of 125, is taken as direct evidence that his administration was endorsed. The mayor and the entire council, and the other officers elected, have made no promises, except to do their best for the city, and we predict that they will all be found doing their duty. They are all good men, and representative citizens of the town, and the Argus congratulates them upon their election. The judges of election were Peter Boscow, E. C. Brown and DeWitt Smith. Clerks: Gus Patterson and Dr. Wm. Pittenger.

Following is the vote cast:

For Mayor—
John Dennis.....	162
H. T. Bagley.....	38
For Councilmen—
John Sewell.....	190
T. H. Tongue.....	189
John Connell.....	187
For Recorder—
Geo. Schulmerich.....	191
For Treasurer—
Cal Jack.....	198

NO SPECIAL SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE

Portland Meeting Asks Governor to Continue Holidays

HILLSBORO SENDS 3 DELEGATES

Lid to Stay on Until East Resumes Specie Payments

A meeting was held at the Court House, Saturday night, to elect delegates to a meeting to be held in Portland last Sunday, to get the sense of the people as to the necessity, if any, of a special session of the legislature. The meeting discussed the matter pretty thoroughly, and decided by a motion, to instruct its delegates in the negative. Dr. J. P. Tamiesie, W. H. Wehrung and W. N. Barrett were elected to represent Hillsboro. They went to Portland Sunday, and attended the meeting. After some discussion of the matter, the Portland meeting decided that no good reason now exists for a special session. A resolution was adopted by the Portland meeting, asking the governor to continue the holidays for a period not exceeding ten days after New York and Chicago have resumed specie payments. The judiciary, banks, merchants and manufacturers of the state were represented in the discussion.
