

Two trappers from Pendleton were in the city on last Friday, having come by team from the above place. The men have come to this valley for the purpose of taking the hides off such varmints as may get into their traps. They were well supplied with trapping paraphernalia, and announced their intention of spending the winter in the mountains and unfrequented spots in the Coast Range. Originally there were three men in the party, one of whom was an old Rocky Mountain trapper, but the latter was taken sick at Beaverton, and was obliged to return to Pendleton by train. The men said there was good money in trapping, for persons of experience. Among the animals sought by them are skunks, mink, wild cats, otter, etc.

I am now prepared to show you the Chas. Stevens & Bros. samples of new Fall and Winter styles in Ladies' and Misses' dress suits, shirt waist suits, and dress skirts, made to your special order, and of your own selection of goods. Fall and Winter coats also carried. I carry a standard line of corsets and undershirts. I will be glad to bring my goods to your house upon request. Independent phone, No. 264. Mrs. M. E. Caudle.

The nine-year-old son of George Schiewe, of near Reedville, died the latter part of last week, of diphtheria, after a short illness. County Health Officer Wood, of this city, went down to Reedville last Saturday, and ordered the school at that place dismissed for two weeks. The building will also be fumigated, as a girl whom Dr. Wood was called to attend last Friday, had just come home from school with a well developed case of the dread disease. Two cases of the disease are reported in the family of Wm McCallum. Dr. Wood is making every effort to quarantine the diphtheria and prevent its spread to other localities, as well as to others in the same neighborhood.

Frank Davis, proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel, Portland, was in town Monday, on business connected with his farm, east of town. Mr. Davis is one of the pioneer hotel men of this state. Many people will remember him as the proprietor of the old National Hotel, on Front street, Portland, which used to get considerable patronage from the residents of this county. In fact, Frank was born in the lower end of the county, and while he has grown well off in the hotel business in Portland, he cannot resist the impulse to own some land in this county.

One would hardly know that there had been a financial depression in Portland, judging by the way business is being done. The stores are filled with holiday goods, and the general business is reported good. Money is becoming more plentiful, and less is seen of the fiat currency. Gold and silver are coming out of hiding in that city, as well as in the country, all of which indicates that times are steadily improving, and that confidence is returning.

Hop growers may be interested in knowing that a meeting of hop producers has been called to meet at Dallas, Oregon, on the 14th of the present month, for the purpose of organizing the growers into a permanent body, for their protection against the bulls and bears of the hop market. All growers in this state are invited.

W. A. Shaw, of the Shaw-Fear Co., Portland, whose company has a number of fruit tracts between Reedville and Beaverton, at Wheeler Station, was in town Wednesday, to look over some maps which Deputy County Surveyor A. A. Morrill is making for him. Mr. Shaw recently lost his brother in Portland, and now his wife is dangerously ill.
