MRS. H. V. GATES DIES AT FAMILY HOME

Passed Away Sunday Evening, at 8 O'clock

DEPARTMENT OREGON'S W. R. C.

Beloved Woman, and Loved and Esteemed by all

Mrs. H. V. Gates died at the family home, on Third street, this city, Sunday evening, December 29, 1907, at 8 o'clock, after weeks of suffering. Her death was not unexpected, as she had been critically ill for weeks, and only her wonderful vitality sustained her through the lengthy ordeal. Her maiden name was Helen Melvina Batchelder, and she was born in Woodbridge, New York, September 28, 1831. She received her education

Grace and Frank Connell are home from O. A. C., spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos Connell, of near Glencoe. While home, Frank organized a hunt for coyotes, and had the satisfaction of bowling over a coyote which weighed 26 1/2 pounds. The coyote was chased by hounds, and Frank was lucky enough to get in the shot that laid the sheep killer low. A few coyotes have been living fat on sheep in the Connell neighborhood for years past, and have been sly enough to keep out of the way of the farmers, but now that one has been killed, there probably will be an effort made to wipe out the whole band.

Do you want some lots in a growing California town, within one half mile of the beautiful San Luis Bay, in exchange for a mountain ranch or Hillsboro lots? Finest section in Central California; great for cure of pulmonary and rheumatic troubles. Call at, or address, Argus office, Hillsboro, Ore. Deed and abstract.

J. D. Chappelle visited friends in Portland, Sunday.

at the Pierpont Manor Seminary, and the family later moved to her home. She was wedded to Mr. Henry V. Gates at DeWitt, Ia., April 18, 1870. They have lived at DeWitt, LeClaire, Iowa; Colby, Kansas; Cheyenne, Wyoming, and San Francisco, and moved to Oregon in 1880, residing first at Corvallis, where Mr. Gates was chief engineer of the Oregon Pacific Railroad. They moved to Hillsboro in 1891, and this has been her home continuously since that time. She was prominent in lodge and church work, and was a member of the Congregational church from childhood. In 1900 she was Department President of the Oregon Woman's Relief Corps, and served with signal ability. Deceased was also a member of Tualatin Chapter, Eastern Star, and in 1904 was Worthy Mother of the lodge. Mrs. Gates was a woman of rare, sweet disposition, and her culture and catholicity of mind was such as to gain her the love and esteem of a large circle of friends throughout the county. Her husband, Hon. H. V. Gates, who is widely interested in horticulture and water plants, and her enterprise in the Pacific Northwest, survives her.

The Five Hundred Club was entertained at the home of C. E. Lytle, last Thursday evening. The evening was spent in playing Five Hundred. Chas. Follette won first prize. Those present were Misses Lucile Imbrie, Lucie Weathered, Josephine Follette, Maud Griffith, Mattie Wilson, Mary Sewell, Messrs. Kingaley Lytle, Richard Wiley, Chas. Follette, Wayne Vaught, Harry Lytle, Will Corwin and Ronald Vaught. Mrs. Lytle was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. John Dennis and Mrs. R. C. Vaught.

Any one wishing to purchase a gasoline engine should call on Schulmerich Bros. We have a sample at our store. Come and see it operated. We are agents for the International, the strongest and best engine made. 35-4f

Mr. Gillette, S. P. agent at Eugene, was in town Saturday, looking after his 50-acre tract near Newton, which he expects to improve this year. Mr. Gillette was entitled to the S. P. station at this place, by right of seniority, but declined. After visiting this place, however, he regrets that he did not accept the agency.

For Sale: Fifty acres cleared land in the vicinity of Hillsboro, on rural mail and milk route; near telephone line. Fine location; good building site.—Inquire of Argus.

Dr. W. D. Wood, health officer of this county, was called to Forest Grove one day last week, to quarantine the family of a Mr. Knox, in whose family two deaths had occurred from a disease supposed to be membranous croup. The family was duly quarantined.

For Sale—Table and stock beets, table and stock carrots, cabbage and tomatoes. Delivered. Phone, Pacific States, 57.—N. W. Chilcott and W. H. Marden. 34-4f

No new cases of diphtheria have occurred in the Shiewe family, at Reedville, and the two children who were afflicted are now convalescent. The quarantine will probably continue all of this week.

For sale or trade, for a farm, a one-half interest in the Climax Mills.—J. M. M. Greear.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frewing, of Tigardville, were guests of E. I. Kuratli and family, over Sunday.

WASH. CO. HOP MEN HOLD A MEETING

And Effect a Temporary Organization

SIX HUNDRED ACRES NOW SIGNED

Permanent Organization to be Made Saturday of This Week

Washington County hop growers met in Hillsboro, Tuesday, and perfected a temporary organization. The meeting was called to order by W. B. Jolly. A temporary organization was effected by electing Mr. Jolly as chairman, and Ralph Imbrie, secretary. E. F. Woodward, a Santa Rosa grower, and organizer of the Union, then addressed the meeting, stating its objects. A committee on Constitution and By-Laws was appointed, consisting of F. M. Crabtree, Jas. H. Sewell, C. D. Farnham, E. C. Mulloy and John Parsons, who made a report, which was adopted.

About thirty hop growers were present, 15 of whom signed the Constitution and By-Laws of the Pacific Coast Hop Growers' Union. About 600 acres of hops in this county will thus go into the union. A committee, consisting of Frank Crabtree, Chas. Barrett, J. M. Hoffman, Ralph Imbrie, W. B. Cate, W. F. Young and John Carstens, was appointed to solicit for acreage in this county for the Union. The Constitution of the Pacific Coast Hop Growers' Union provides for five directors from California, three from Washington, and seven from Oregon, who shall be directed in their action by a referendum vote of all the growers, which practically makes the grower his own seller. Hops are graded by an expert, so that the owner of good hops will not have to accept the figure given for those of inferior quality. On motion, the meeting adjourned to meet at the court house, in Hillsboro, on next Saturday, January 4, at 10 a. m., when a permanent union will be organized. Every hop grower is invited to be present.

MORE SMALLPOX AT GLENCOE

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Glencoe, who have been sick with small-pox for some time past, are now well, and are acting as nurses for seven members of the Vandebey family, including Mr. Vandebey, who now has the disease. The Smiths brought the disease from Montana, when they came some time ago, to visit the Vandebey family, having been exposed, it is presumed, on the train while enroute to Oregon. Mr. Smith is a son of Mrs. Vandebey. The disease is not of the worst form, and it is hoped the members of the afflicted family will pull through all right. Precautions have been taken to prevent its spread.

Miss Ethel Donaldson, of Portland, was the guest of Miss Ona Ford, last week.

For a good smoke try the Schiller or Excellencia—and you will try them again and again.

Mrs. Pratt Vickers departs this week for Los Angeles, where she will spend a month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lund.

Are you a smoker? Then call for the Schiller or Excellencia—Oregon manufacture.

Rev. Becker, of the German Baptist church at Bethany, was in the city Monday.

Mrs. Oliver Holmes returned to her home in Portland, Sunday, after a week's visit at the home of her father, P. M. Jackson.

Have you any fence to build? If so we can save you money. We sell a good substantial fence, 4 feet high, for 40 cents per rod.—Schulmerich Bros.

The Ninth Angora Goat Show will be held at Dallas, Polk county, on January 15, 16 and 17, 1908. Space will also be given for the exhibition of sheep and swine.

W. H. Ringle, superintendent of the light and water plant at this place, left last week for a visit with relatives and friends in Bellingham, Wash., and returned Monday.

Born, to the widow of the late Edward D. Kerr, of Laurel, on December 30, 1907, twins, a boy and a girl. The mother is the widow of E. D. Kerr, who died last July, of appendicitis.

Daniel Stoller, of Helvetia, sold his 40-acre farm, last week, to John Urbach, of Portland, for $2600, and Mr. Urbach sold a house and lot in North Irvington, to Mr. Stoller, for $1800. The latter is an addition to Portland. Kuratli Bros. made the sales. Mr. Urbach, it is said, will move upon his place within a short time.

A basket social was held in the school house in District No. 77, near Blooming, last Friday night. Miss Nettie Thomas, the teacher, originated the idea of holding the social, for the purpose of raising money for a new chair and a flag for the school house. There was a good sized crowd present, and $11.75 was raised. The prettiest basket was bought by Dan Bailey. A jolly time was reported.

Clatskanie people are excited over the discovery of gold nuggets in the craws of ducks raised outside of the city, and it is thought by many that placers exist near the town. Dozens of shrewd prospectors over there are now keeping an eye on the duck ranges, in the hope that they may discover where the gold came from.

The Oregon Development League offers $100 to any one discovering silica sand in Oregon, which will run 98 per cent. pure silica, and free from iron oxides. It will also pay $6.00 per ton for the silica delivered in Portland. The Columbia Steel Works, of Portland, makes the above offer through the League. Here is a chance for those who know what silica sand is, to make a little pocket money, provided they know where it can be found. Newspapers in Oregon have talked of its existence in this state, but whether they can "make good" is the question.

B. Leis, of Beaverton, was an Argus caller this week. He has an advertisement, in this issue, of interest to fruit men. Mr. Leis is one of the progressive fruit growers of this county. He has about 1000 trees in his orchard, near Beaverton, which is set principally to Ben Davis, with a few Spitzenbergs and other kinds. He, last year, raised Blue Pearmain and Red Cheek Pippins which measured 14 1/2 inches in circumference. A year ago, Mr. Leis could find no sale for his apples for the reason that they were infected with scale and codlin moth, but he began spraying, and now has fruit that will sell in any market. He says that persistent spraying will do wonders, and will solve the fruit problem in this and all other counties. Mr. Leis also has a nice prune orchard, with about 6 tons of the dried product still on hand.

Notice to the Public

All persons are hereby warned not to trust my wife, Mrs. W. H. Marden, on my account, as she has left my bed and board. I will not be responsible for any debts of her contracting. W. H. Marden. Dated at Hillsboro, Ore., Dec. 31, 1907. 42

For gentlemen's, ladies' and children's hose you can do no better than to buy of John Dennis.

BARRETT HAS CHANCE FOR ATTORNEYSHIP

Oregon Delegation in Congress Considering Names

W. N. BARRETT IS MENTIONED

The Hillsboro Attorney May Win on Compromise

Bristol will not be re-nominated by the President, for the position of United States District Attorney for Oregon, and the Oregon delegation in Congress will recommend his successor. Five men in this state are now prominently mentioned for the position, including Chris. Schuebel, of Oregon City. They are Muir, of Portland; Fee, of Pendleton; Bingham, of Salem, and Barrett, of Washington. Senator Bourne is for Schuebel; Fulton has named Muir and Barrett, and Congressman Ellis is for Fee, and Hawley for Bingham. Fulton is a warm friend of Barrett, while both Ellis and Hawley are also good friends. In the case of a compromise, Mr. Barrett ought to stand a good show, as he spoke for Bourne in the primary election, and supported him in the Legislature. Many politicians here and elsewhere think the local man has a good chance to win. Mr. Barrett has had nearly twelve years' experience as prosecuting attorney in this district, and his friends think him amply qualified for the position, should he be the successful man.

MRS. EFFIE D'ATLEY

Mrs. Effie D'Atley, well known here as the daughter of the late Charles Stewart, a pioneer of 1843, is reported dead in Montana. She visited relatives here this Fall, and but recently departed for her home. She was compelled to travel by stage through a portion of Idaho, and the vehicle overturned, so severely injuring the woman that it was necessary to convey her to a hospital, 20 miles from the scene of the accident. When they arrived where medical aid could be secured she was in a very bad condition and died within a few hours afterward.

Mrs. D'Atley was wedded the second time, her first husband being the late John Jackson. A son, Claude Jackson, well known here and at Scholls, and one daughter survive of the first marriage. Her husband, James D'Atley, and several small children survive. Of her immediate family two brothers, Charles Stewart, a Portland drayman, and John Ben Stewart, of South Tualatin, and two sisters, Mrs. Andrew Jack, Farmington, and Mrs. James McClarkin, of Laurel, survive.

GORDON—COUTURE
Frank Gordon, formerly of North Plains, this county, but now of Portland, and Miss Nellie, eldest daughter of Alexander Couture and wife, of Portland, were married at the home of the bride's parents, on Christmas day. On Sunday last, a reception was given the young couple, at the residence of the groom's father, Alexander Gordon, of North Plains, at which a number of guests were present, both from Portland and this county.

The bride's mother is a daughter of the late Col. T. R. Cornelius, and a sister of Hon. B. P. Cornelius, postmaster at this place. The marriage recently consummated unites two old and well known families of this county.

MRS. EFFIE E. VEACH

Mrs. Effie E. Veach, wife of Harry J. Veach, died in Hillsboro, Dec. 29, 1907, of pleurisy. Deceased was born in Grinnell, Iowa, in 1885, and was married to Harry J. Veach in September, 1906. Came with her husband to this city from Sheridan, Wyoming, in September, 1907. She leaves a husband and one child, the latter only 5 months old. Funeral services were held at the Catholic church, Wednesday, at 11:00 a. m., and interment was in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.
