

THE HILLSBORO ARGUS.

DL. XIV.

HILLSBORO, OREGON, MARCH 12, 1908.

NO. 52

B. LINE CROSSIES S. P. AT BEAVERTON

Company Decides on Change of Survey to Hillsboro

ALL SOON BEGIN TO GRADE ROAD

Only a Few Details to Arrange," Says Mr. Talbot

Mr. Talbot, general manager of Oregon Electric Line, was in town Monday with two other officials of the road, on business connected with right of way along the line of the Hillsboro branch. The company has two condemnation suits, which will come up at the next term of circuit court. Mr. Talbot said that when a few details were arranged, the company would begin the work of construction of the road to Hillsboro. Revisions, however, have changed the line of survey to this place. The latest survey will cross the B. Co's line at Beaverton, which will somewhat change the former survey, which was made to cross the B.P. line this side of that town. This will be water on Beaverton's business wheel, and please the people of that place not a little. There may be some delay caused by right of way on the latest survey, but it was not anticipated that it will delay much, unless condemnation suits are forced upon the company. Most people regard the coming of an electric line through their place as a financial benefit to them, instead of a detriment, as it invariably increases the value of the lands through which it passes. The prospects for the building of the Hillsboro branch never looked better than at present.

COUNTY TREASURER'S NOTICE

County road warrants indorsed "Not Paid for Want of Funds" will be due and payable at this office on and after March 15, 1908, and interest will cease at that date.

W. M. Jackson,
County Treasurer.

COMMUNICATED

After reading (or trying to read, rather) the horrifying story of North Collingwood, it occurs to me that we have three hundred children or more in a wooden school house heated by stoves. What is being done to prevent a repetition of that frightful disaster? Is it not up to the school board to see that everything possible is provided in the way of fire extinguishers (both liquid and powder) and that the fire drill is not neglected. A few dollars now, and a little time each week is all that we need to lay out to give all the security possible under the circumstances, and let us hope we will never have to regret that we did not do what we could. Thos. S. Wilkes.

THE SPRAY THAT WINS

In order to have every one who has fruit trees try the celebrated Phoenix Lime and Sulphur Spray, I will, until the end of the season, sell the Phoenix spray at $8.50 per barrel of 60 gallons, f. o. b. in Portland, or at my farm at 90c per gallon. This spray is recommended by Prof. A. B. Cordley, and is guaranteed of full strength. Its test is 30 per cent. It saved my orchard of about 1,000 trees from dying out, as the trees were encircled with the San Jose scale, hence I am recommending it. I will ship to any part of the county.

Barney Leis, Agent,
Beaverton, Or.

A man by the name of Applegate is said to have found the famous Schieffelin mine in Southern Oregon. Ed. Schieffelin, the discoverer of the Tombstone, Arizona, rich mining district, and who was a brother of Ed Schieffelin, of Centerville, was found dead in his cabin some years ago, and in his mining bag were several new-found magnificent nuggets, demonstrating that on the eve of his death the veteran prospector had discovered a new Eldorado. The mine is fabulously rich, and it was a freakish fate that took Schieffelin off just when he had met his goldcraze.

Quite a number of people from Buxton came down to Hillsboro last Thursday as witnesses in a suit brought by N. P. Nelson against Jos. Pongratz, the Buxton butcher, to recover $10.50, the price of a hog sold by the former to the latter. Pongratz claimed that the hog was diseased and unfit for food, after having dressed it. Nel-son claimed the hog was in good health up to the time of its death. The case came up before Justice Benton Bowman, and occupied the most of the day. The case was decided in favor of the plaintiff, Mr. Nelson. Another case which came before Justice Bowman, on the day previous, was that of John Rothlesberger vs. Anton Poegel, both of Phillips, in which the former sued the latter for a balance of money due on twenty-two brake irons. $23 was on jury trial, and a verdict was given plaintiff for $12.25.

FORMER CITY TEACHER IN DIVORCE COURTS

Charges That Husband Was Very Brutal

ONCE TOLD HER TO TAKE POISON

Plaintiff was Formerly a Miss Grace Robinson

Miss Grace Robinson, as known in Hillsboro a few terms of school to the past, when she taught here, and now known as Mrs. E. C. Chapman, of Clackamas, has sued her husband for divorce, the case being filed in Oregon City. She alleges that her lord and master was cruel and inhuman in his treatment, and even refused medical aid when she was very ill. He also, so she says, told her to wend the suicide route, by taking poison. Her complaint sets forth that when she was ill, and mentally unfit, he induced her to deed to a third party their real property in Clackamas, valued at $6,000, and she alleges that the transfer was fraudulent, and for the sole purpose of depriving her of her equity. She asks annulment of this deed, her third of it, and a portion of $6,000, which she says he owns in money.

While teaching in this city Mrs. Chapman exhibited a great degree of interest in amateur theatricals, and several times appeared on the stage in home talent plays.

BARRETT FOR JOINT SENATOR

W. N. Barrett, a well known attorney of this city, and a member of the last legislature from Washington county, has announced his candidacy for the nomination for Joint Senator in the coming primaries. The district which he hopes to represent is composed of Washington, Yamhill, Lincoln and Tillamook counties, and he has received assurances of strong support from Yamhill and Tillamook, and has reason to believe that he will be as cordially supported in Lincoln. He is thus far the only candidate mentioned for the position from this county, and his friends here seem confident of his nomination, and if nominated, that he will be elected. Mr. Barrett is complying with the necessary formalities of the primary law, and will make the race, which his friends hope will be successful. He has always ran well at home, and naturally will be pleased to get a strong vote in his own county.
