

LANCASTER LECTURED ON "GOOD ROADS"

Special Train Came From Forest Grove

SPOKE AT THE CRESCENT THEATRE

Used Stereopticon to Illustrate His Lecture

Sam C. Lancaster, employed by the Bureau of Public Roads, an adjunct of the Department of Agriculture, and filling a chair in Washington University, Seattle, dedicated to "Good Roads," spoke to a fair sized audience in the Crescent Theatre last Saturday night on the subject of "Good Roads." Prof. Lancaster illustrated his lecture with the stereopticon. He threw upon the canvass a picture of the ill fated steamer, Dakota, which went down, at a cost of $3,500,000. He then showed a farmer with his team stuck in the mud. "The poor roads of the United States annually cost the people more than 20 times the price of a steamer Dakota," said the speaker. He stated that he came from a county in Tennessee, not half so good as Washington county, where the people bonded the county for a period of 20 years, for $3,000,000, and when the money had been exhausted in making good roads, they bonded it again for $200,000 more. The taxable property of that county today is over $6,000,000. About 40 people from Forest Grove came down on a special train to attend the lecture.

The bride was beautifully dressed in cream silk marquisettes, with lace trimmings, over taffeta silk, and carried a bouquet of Bride roses. Miss Helen Colwell was flower girl.

SETTLEMENT RUMORED

A Portland paper of yesterday contained a statement to the effect that the Haines-Kane matter had been settled. An examination of the records here, shows that the matter of the suit is in the former state. The Portland papers stated that Haines had refused to give the particulars of the rumored settlement, but said it was satisfactory to both parties. Mr. Kane was seen by a reporter yesterday, and said he did not care to make a statement at present, as the matter was in the hands of his attorneys. In an interview with the Portland paper, Mr. Haines said that his bank would be placed in a solvent condition within a short time.

He thinks that a bounty of $5 on cougars, $15 on coyotes, would make these animals more scarce, and protect the deer that much better.

CAKE FOR SENATOR

A Portland admirer of Senator H. M. Cake sends the following tribute to that gentleman for publication:

"Mr. Cake for several years, was President of the Portland Commercial Club, and in that position, brought it to its present state of efficiency.

Oregon at this time has sore need of proper representation in Congress. No one will deny that our growth and development has been retarded by want of proper representation at the nation's capital.

Mr. Cake is an ardent admirer of President Roosevelt, and believes in his policies, and is convinced that it is to the nation's best interests that he be continued.

A politician in Oregon had become a scandal in the eyes of the nation. It had been a game of subtlety and craft, a menacing system to our state and country. Salem was a veritable city of spoils and legislative spoils and legislative sessions a period of bold activity for political yegmen. But times have changed and to day Oregon stands foremost in the list of states that would do away forever with the old sodden days—the corrupt and shameful system. Able men and honest voters must complete this purification of the politics of our state.

Prominent in Oregon as a champion of pure politics and an advocate of the eradication of the dangerous system, is Honorable H. M. Cake, of Portland. Mr. Cake is seeking the republican nomination for United States Senator, and is doing it in a way that appeals strongly to the people of Oregon.

Fortunately for those of us who possess little admiration for a wearer of the senatorial toga who has achieved his exalted position by chicanery or politics, Mr. Cake is nothing of a politician. He represents the other type; the reserved, conservative and able lawyer, who believes in the active policies of Roosevelt, and has unlimited hope for our state of Oregon.

Though his record is not a political one, Mr. Cake has probably done more towards the development of Oregon than any other private citizen. It was he who inaugurated the plans of development and advancement that are being so successfully accomplished by the Portland Commercial Club and the Oregon Development League."
