CASE POSTPONED

The case of W. M. Harvey, a Portland groceryman, against Jos. Duerst, of near Cedar Mill, for $5,000 damages for the alienation of the former's wife's affections, came up in circuit court Monday, and upon an affidavit by the plaintiff, alleging that he could not get a material witness, who resides in another state, the case was continis a young, unmarried man, living in this county, and it is charged that he alienated the affections of Leich. Harvey's wife, while the twain resided near Cedar Mill, some three years ago. Harvey and wife are divorced, and she is now the wife of another man, and is living somewhere in Idaho. The case promised some sensational features, and and a big crowd of witnesses were in the city when the case was

Prisoner has Wife on Lonely Mountain

On the night of March 25th, a mare and colt belonging to Richard Linnton, a farmer, of near Hillsboro, were stolen from the latter's barn. Sheriff John Connell took the trail on the 31st, having been detained by important official business, and on the first day out found the colt, where it had been abandoned near Ziontown, Multnomah county. He then chased the man through Portland, Milwaukee, Aurors, Woodburn, Hubbard, Salem, Albany, Corvallie, and Philomath, Benton county, and on the fourth day out, captured his man on the wagon road, ten miles west of Philtraded the horse to a man named Ben Brattain, at Philomath, and
