VOL. XV.

HILLSBORO, OREGON, JUNE 18, 1908.

NO. 14

NO RECORD ORDER OF PROHIBITION

Wiley Secures an Injunction Order From Judge McBride

CASE TO GO TO THE CIRCUIT COURT

County Court is Enjoined From Making "Dry" Order

W. V. Wiley vs. J. W. Goodie, C. B. Buchanan and W. J. Butler was the title of a suit filed in the Circuit Court on Monday. W. V. Wiley and Fred Cornelius are the two saloon men, who were voted out of business in the late June election in this city, both being located in South Hillsboro precinct, which gave a majority in favor of prohibition. Wiley's complaint, among other things, "enjoins the County Court from making a record order of prohibition in South Hillsboro precinct, and claims that the Court has no power or authority to declare prohibition in South Hillsboro precinct, because the City Council and Board of Trustees has the exclusive power and authority to regulate, restrain and prohibit the liquor traffic in the city of Hillsboro." Plaintiff asks for an order of the Circuit Court declaring on the grounds set forth, that a decree be issued declaring the election in South Hillsboro illegal. Judge McBride has issued an injunction, and same was served upon the members of the County Court Monday.

The liquor men base their hope of having the law declared inoperative so far as Hillsboro is concerned, on the ground that the city charter was amended since the passage of the local option law, giving the city council absolute power to regulate the liquor traffic within its boundaries. This is where the fight will be made. The matter may come up before Judge McBride on the 29th inst., the date set for hearing the Clerkship contest case.

BULLUT ACTS TOO LATE

Michael Bullut, a Portland capitalist, filed on Monday, in circuit court, a suit against the Oregon Electric Company, in which he asks for a perpetual injunction forbidding the company from entering upon his land, which is a small, triangular shaped piece within the corporate limits of Beaverton. Bullut is a little late with his application for an injunction, as on last Sunday night, at a few minutes past midnight, a large force of the Oregon Electric people went through his tract like a cyclone, and when the morning sun glinted the near by hills, the job was finished, and the Oregon Electric track through Bullut's triangular tract was completed and ready for travel. The case will now be one for damages, and he will hardly receive at the rate of $2,000 per acre, when the matter is referred to a jury. The Oregon Electric has filed a prior suit against Bullut for condemnation of right of way, which will be heard at the July term.

CHALMERS' SHORTHORN SALE

The cattle were in ordinary condition, but under favorable conditions, the sale would have been a great success. Lack of rain and cold weather prevented buyers from Eastern Oregon coming down, as grass will be short this season. Geo. McKay, of Waterman, who had been in the valley a week previous, was expected to take a carload, but he was content with one animal. He received a wire the night before the sale, saying that the prospects for rain were no better. Other buyers were prevented from attending by reason of the high water on the stock ranches along the Columbia. The sales were made in nearly every instance to old customers. The Union Stock Yards took about two-thirds of the stock for sale.

CATHERINE McLOUD

Died, near Vineland, this county, June 10, 1908, of general debility, Mrs. Catherine McCloud, aged 80 years, 2 months and 10 days. Deceased was born in Scotland, January, 1828. She leaves the following children to mourn her loss: Mrs. Euphenia Lingston, Nebraska City; Mrs. Catherine Keenan, Glenada; A. B. McCloud, Alberta, Canada; Jennie McCloud, Coos Bay; Jno. McCloud, Beaverton; Mrs. Sarah Blum, Beaverton. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. D. Westfall, undenominational, of Hillsboro. Interment was at the cemetery near the Arcade school house, on Friday, June 12.

SPECIAL JUNE TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT

Judge McBride Will Hear Motions in Contest Case

JURY ORDERED FOR JULY TERM

June Session Will be Held on the Twenty-ninth Inst.

Judge McBride has notified the County Clerk that he will open Court here on June 29th, for the purpose of hearing motions in the McCormick-Bailey contest for the County Clerkship. He has also issued an order for a venire of jurors for the August term, when the several condemnation suits filed by the Oregon Electric line within the past two weeks will be tried. Following is a list of the suits which will be tried at the August term, for condemnation of right of way, provided they are not settled out of court, in the meantime: Oregon Electric Co. vs. Angelo Cereghino; O. E. Co. vs. D. Ver; O. E. Co. vs. Rosa Reghino; O. E. Co. vs. Michael Bullut. The cases of the Oregon Electric vs. Hawthorne estate has been settled out of court. County Clerk Godman has been ordered by the Judge to call a jury for the July term, but will delay until just before Court is called, in the hope that all the cases will be settled, in which case, a jury will not be required.

KICKED BY A HORSE

Wesley Connell, son of W. H. Connell, was kicked by a horse in his father's stable in this city, Thursday last week. The animal had never been known to kick at any one before and must have been frightened at a linen duster which the young man had on, while passing behind the animal to groom it, he was suddenly kicked on the abdomen. His uncle, Jack Hoover, who was in the barnyard at the time, helped the young man to the house and called Dr. Linklater, who placed the sufferer under opiates to lessen the pain. The animal left the print of its shoe on the young man's body, and for a time it was thought he would not survive. His condition, however, is much improved, and it is believed he will recover.

LAMONT—MAURY

The marriage of two popular young people of Washington county took place Wednesday evening, June 10, 1908, when Elsie Maury became the bride of Albert Lamont at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Maury, of Dilley, Rev. Creevy officiating.

The bride was beautifully gowned in cream silk and Irish lace and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by Miss Beesie LaMont as maid of honor and Miss Merle Maury as bridesmaid, both in pretty gowns of pale blue and carrying pink roses. Harry Giltner, of Portland, was best man. After a short trip to Portland and sound points, Mr. and Mrs. LaMont returned to their home near Forest Grove.

ANOTHER ROAD TO TILLAMOOK

T. L. Greenough, a well known Northern Pacific contractor and owner of United Railways stock, has announced that the United Railways franchise will be used to extend the electric line when completed to Hillsboro, on to Forest Grove, and thence over to Tillamook, from the last named point. Greenough intimates that work on the Portland-Tillamook road will begin sometime this month. There is a whole lot of hot air railroad building in Oregon. Settlers went into the Nehalem valley 35 years ago depending on the promise of "Dundee" Reid of Portland to build a line from Portland to Astoria. They are still waiting a railroad, the P. R. & N. being the nearest line to that valley.

NOTICE

There is a man in this county representing a Medical Co., who claims the Watkins' Med. Co. is a branch of the Company he represents. Such a man is a fraud. The J. R. Watkins' Medical Co. is not a branch of any company, but is the largest manufacturing medicine company in the world, with none to compete. So wait for the Watkins' man.

P. R. & N. PARTY HAVE SMALL POX

L. S. Miller's Crew Quarantined near Timber P. O.

INFECTED BY EASTERN ORE. MAN

Party of 15 Exposed Besides Three Other Persons

Dr. J. P. Tamiesie returned last Saturday night from a trip to Miller's camp of P. R. & N. surveyors, located 34 miles west of Timber postoffice, in the coast range mountains. He found five of a surveying party of 15 persons down with a mild form of small pox. Two of the patients, however, were in the convalescent stage, and the whole party, which is in charge of Surveyor L. S. Miller, have been exposed to the disease. The disease was communicated to the party by a young man who recently joined the party from Eastern Oregon. As soon as it became known that there was small pox in the camp, Mr. Miller moved out to the wagon road where they are now located. The patients are being cared for by the well ones in the party, and Dr. Wood, health officer for this county, has had the camp quarantined. Dr. Tamiesie reports that the disease is not of the virulent form, which makes it so dangerous, and that in all probability there will be no fatalities, provided the men are careful. Two or three settlers are said to have been exposed. Arrangements have been made to supply the men with provisions, and they will have to remain in their present camp until the quarantine is raised.
