The object of the meet, like that which was held by S. S. Bailey at Albany last week, is to "tune up" the trotting and pacing talent which will make the rounds of the Northwestern racing circuit this Fall. Mr. Chappelle says that there will be from 20 to 25 horses entered in these tryout events, and that some of the best stables in Oregon will be represented, including nags from Salem, Albany, Roseburg, The Dalles, McMinnville, Portland and Hillsboro. Among the talent that will appear at the Hilleboro meet will be the famous California mare Delilah, which negotiated a mile at Albany last week in 2:07‡, and one of the dangerous contestants in the 2:05 pace in the meet to be held in Sep-
