

P.R. & N. FINISHED BY CHRISTMAS, 1909

Contractors are Pushing the Work With Great Vigor

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY WORKERS

Bill Clear 10 Miles of Right of Way This Winter

Two hundred and fifty men are hard at work under the contractors, clearing right of way, grading and laying rails on the east end of the P. R. & N. railroad extension from Hillsboro to Tillamook. Seven miles have been graded on this end of the road since work began this year, and the rails will be placed on the grade this winter, in fact are now being placed as rapidly as possible. The work of clearing the big tunnel beyond Buxton was finished on the 10th inst., and trains will soon be running through it.

The idea that work will cease on this road on account of winter is not well founded, as the Company has made arrangements to have 40 miles of right of way, between Buxton and Tillamook, cleared this winter. Supplies sufficient to last a large force of men all winter have already been forwarded to convenient places along the line of the survey, and gangs of men will be kept at work clearing brush and felling trees, without regard to weather conditions.

General Manager C. E. Lytle says there will be no let up on work, and that it is the intention of the Company to have the road ready for operation between Hillsboro and Tillamook City by Christmas, 1909. When the weather permits next Spring, grading will be pushed from both ends of the road, and tracklaying will follow as fast as money, men and work can do it. Large supplies of ties, rails, and other material will be accumulated at Hillsboro this winter for the equipment of the road.

MRS. ELIZA LICHTY

Died, at her home 4 miles east of Hillsboro, October 29, 1908. Mrs. Eliza Lichty, aged 61 years, 7 months and 21 days. Deceased was born in Switzerland, and lived there until seven years of age, when she immigrated with her parents to Iowa. Her mother died on the steamer, while crossing the Atlantic in 1861. She married John Lichty, and they crossed the Plains by wagon, coming direct to Hillsboro, Oregon. They settled on their farm northeast of town where she resided up to the time of her death. Her husband died several years ago. Deceased is survived by four children, as follows: W. J. Lichty, F. T. Lichty, Mrs. Emma Hamel and Mrs. Lydia Gardner, all of Washington county, Oregon. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Jas Campbell, and interment was in the West Union cemetery.

Frank Rowell, of Scholls, was in the city yesterday. He states that in all probability, the tile plant at that place will be doubled in capacity, next season. The plant now has a capacity of 10,000 feet daily, but for lack of drying facilities, not more than half that number of feet are manufactured per day. When properly equipped with drying sheds, the plant will be the largest on the Pacific Coast. The mill, brickyard, tile factory and logging camp, when run to their full capacity, require the services of 52 men. The tile business is growing in this county, and much wet land is being reclaimed by drainage.

A shooting match will be held at Centerville, on Saturday, Nov. 14, 1908, between the Franklin and Washington counties in the Sunset Magazine, and for turkeys and geese. A dance will also be held on the 25th, in the daytime. Bring your lunch.

Seattle next year. Commissioner Burner is now understood, was opposed to the appropriation, and had the matter come to a vote, would have voted against it. On the strength of the assent of a majority of the Board, the Sunset people proceeded with the advertising, and will soon present a bill for $500. It is now understood that both Burner and McClaran will oppose the appropriation, although Judge Gordan stands ready to re-deem his word, the verbal pledge of himself and former Commissioner Burner. It seems that there was a partial failure on the part of some one to gather the geese, fowl and other necessary exhibits at the proper time. President Whitling, of the Oregon Commission, was some time ago quoted as saying that it was too late to easily exhibit from this country. The Sunset people, however, have occupied their part of the enterprise, and will demand their pay. If the two commissioners hold out against the Judge, it is plain that no appropriation will be made. The question arises, however, as whether the present board is bound and if so far, to honor the agreement of the majority of the former Board.
