HILLSBORO, OREGON, JAN. 21, 1909.

NO. 45

BIG SCHOOL MEETING ON LAST SATURDAY

Nearly 150 Voters Participated in the Meeting

MUCH INTEREST IN THE ELECTION

Directors Authorized to Read District for $10,000

One of the largest school elections ever held in this city, occurred on last Saturday, at a special meeting of District No. 7. One hundred and forty-nine voters were present and participated in the meeting. The vote on the proposition to buy land and erect a new school house thereon was defeated by a vote of 86 to 63. On the proposition to build an annex to the old school house, and provide a heating plant and septic tanks, at a cost of not to exceed $10,000, there was a majority of 23 in the affirmative. It was the wish of many of the voters in the north part of the district to have a new building erected in North Hillsboro, while a majority of the voters seemed to favor the plan of an annex and improvements in the old building.

Some of the people in the north end of the district claim that the present site of the school building is quite a distance from the center of the district, north and south, and that children living in the extreme north part, have to come too far to school.

The actual voting was:

To bond district—	120
Yes	120
No	10
To buy ground and build—	86
No	86
Yes	63
To build annex—	81
No	52

ATHELA OLIVE STOW

John Williams, of three and one-half miles south of Beaverton, died on the 12th inst, aged 62 years, leaving an aged wife. As the family had no means, the deceased was buried at the expense of the county. Williams was a Norwegian, by birth. He was buried at Ames Chapel, last Thursday afternoon.

State Game Warden R. O. Stevenson reports to the Governor and legislature that his office has been the means of collecting $3000 in fines for 90 violations of the State Game law. This was for the year 1908. He urges that the fines should go into the prosecuting fund, so the state could better be policed. The licenses and fees alone netted the state over $25,000.

A bill which originated in Clatsop county, it is said, will be introduced in the legislature, having for its purpose the division of this judicial district. The idea is to leave Washington and Clackamas counties in the old district, and create a new one to be composed of the counties of Columbia and Clatsop. The seceders want Judge McBride on the bench in the proposed new district, and a new District Attorney, who is to come from Clatsop county. Mr. Tongue, the Prosecuting Attorney for the present district, which is composed of all four of the counties named, will not object to the creation of a new judicial district, but thinks a gross injustice would be done in his case, if the salary of the Prosecuting Attorney were reduced. He gets $230 a month, and out of this sum he has to pay hotel bills and travelling expenses, which at the end of the year leaves him a small salary, when we come to consider that he is busy with court business nearly the whole year. In all the timber tax cases in Columbia county tried during his term last year, he was all but one of the cases, and had a county employed special counsel, would have cost him from $800 to $10,000. As it now is, the Prosecuting Attorney gets less money, after deducting expenses for the year's work, than the salary of this county, whose traveling and office expenses are paid by the county. The bill to divide the district is said to be in the interests of an Astoria lawyer, who wants to be Prosecuting Attorney for the new district.

BILL FOR AN ACT TO AMEND GAME LAW

Ideas of Jas. H. Sewell Embodied in The Draft

WOULD MAKE LAW IRON-CLAD

Half of the Fines Imposed to go to Informant

A bill for an act, embodying the ideas of Jas. A. Sewell, of this city, has been forwarded to the Washington county delegation in the legislature, and probably will be introduced by Senator Wood. It is designed as an amendment to the existing game laws, and provides that any person going upon inclosed premises and killing game birds, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction before a Justice of the Peace, shall be fined not less than $5, nor more than $50, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail not less than two nor more than 25 days. The bill also makes it mandatory upon the part of any one having knowledge of such violation of the law to immediately inform the Prosecuting Attorney of the violation, and provides a penalty of $5, nor more than $50, for a failure to so inform the Prosecuting Attorney. In addition, the informant will receive one-half of the fine imposed upon the violator of the law. The bill is intended to brace up, and at the same time compel persons who know of violations of the game law to report same to the authorities. It also appeals to the venal side of man's nature, and provides a reward for the informer. Mr. Sewell, like many farmers, has become tired of trespassers, and the proposed bill is a result of his thought on the subject.

Jacob Bettus, of the North Plains, who is in Dandridge, Tennessee, visiting relatives, is expected home in March. He writes that while he is enjoying his visit, "Oregon is the only country for him."

The Woodmen of the World have published posters calling for a big initiation ceremony on February 23, at which they expect to induct into the order over 50 new members. A. D. Cridge, State organizer, has charge of the movement.

Sportsmen are afraid that a large percentage of the Chinese pheasants in this county were frozen during the recent cold snap. Number of dead quails have been found since the snow began to melt. It would be a good thing to protect all game birds for a period of two years.

The long expected Chinook arrived last Thursday night. Rain fell nearly all night, accompanied by a warm wind, which caused the temperature to rise rapidly, and on Friday, buildings in this city with flat roofs gave considerable trouble, in many cases to the occupants, by leaking through to the floors below. No serious damage resulted to stocks of goods, but considerable inconvenience was caused by the enforced removal of merchandise.

Representative Purdin, of Jackson county, a member of the present legislature, is a cousin of Mrs. Jane E. Barrett, of this city, and bears the same relationship to Hon. J. Purdin, of Portland, formerly a resident of this county. Dr. Merzmann of the Senate, and Wm. Scholfield of the House, are both Washington county boys, the former living at Klamath Falls, and the latter at Astoria. Of the five doctors in the Legislature, Washington county claims two, Drs. Wood and Hines.

A bill has been introduced in Congress to pay the volunteers of the Cayuse War, who have not heretofore been compensated. The bill carries an appropriation of $1500, which will be distributed among the following at the rate of $5.50 for each day's service during the war of 1847-48. John Minto, father of Postmaster Minto, of Portland; Chas. Bolde, Elton E. Hackett, widow of Jock C. Hackett; Missouri A. Cornelius, wife of Thomas R. Cornelius; Mary J. Keizer, widow of John B. Keizer; Amanda Reese, widow of Willard H. Reese; Mary E. Carnahan, widow of Hiram Carnahan; Polly C. Butler, widow of Isaac Butler, and Sarah E. Sobanis, widow of P. C. Keizer. Mrs. Missouri Cornelius is the widow of the late Col. T. R. Cornelius, of Cornelius, and Mrs. Polly C. Butler is the widow of the late Isaac Butler, of this city.

J. S. Yoder writes from Hubbard, Oregon, to the Argus this week, as follows:

"Robert J. Burdette once said 'that he had noticed that Solomon always smote the ten-penny nail on the right end.' I want to say that you did the same in a short article I noticed in today's Oregonian under the heading: 'One Grate That May be Lopped Off,' and credited to the Argus. What is the use of a deputy inspector riding over the country inspecting mills and factories, who when he gets into a 'one-horse saw-mill,' don't know an inserted point log saw from a shingle saw, or when he sees a detached engine must be shown how the steam is conveyed from the boiler to the cylinder. If the present legislature wants to do anything for the common people, let it apply the ax, for if anyone, but the deputies, is benefitted by their work, your humble servant will have to be shown."

Anyone in the county can become a member by signing the membership roll. New officers will be elected in March.

The matter of a Company of the Oregon National Guard was taken up, and President Tamiesie and Secretary Long were appointed as a committee to confer with Governor Chamberlain and Adjutant General Finzer, to ascertain the steps necessary to the formation of the militia.

Mr. Alexander exhibited a draft of a map which will more than likely be adopted, and a stereo sent to each of the county seat newspapers, for use on envelopes. The drawing will show all the transportation lines, and our proximity to Portland.
