PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Don't get sick. Some of your long suffering friends may come around and insist upon your taking your own often prescribed medicine.

Of course we would be careful as possible of the feelings of our friends if we could only privately convince ourselves of the right of our friends to possess feelings.

If there is anything that a woman yearns to have on hand nowadays it is one of the new sleeves.

Life would be one grand sweet song if we could reward our friends and punish our enemies according to our own private code.

No woman has cause for jealousy—who is the only woman present.

It is hard to endure another's pain—unless you are either his physician or his trained nurse.

Had the combination been just a little different every man is dead since he would have been a great and glorious success.

It may be all right to be strenuous if some one else will stand the expense and let you reap the profits.

Belated Praise.

Sing a song of summer. Hard to thank its prattles. When the sun is beaming. And it's hot as blazes.

When the days have vanished. That were full of splendor. Not enough, I'll venture. Storage laid to render.

Then we die of longing. For the breezes beating. That with blast of furnace. Were at times competing.

Thus at every season. I'm regrets come fretting. For the one that's vanished. On its grassy setting.

It is said that bills which would create soft jobs within the state, for gentleman of leisure, have been introduced in the legislature at Salem.

The Oregon-Yukon Fair Commission asks for $50,000 to complete its exhibit. President Wehrung has submitted his report of expenditure to the legislature, which are being scrutinized with spy glasses by some of the legislators who are on Wehrung's trail, with rods and pickle bribe.

Every vestige of graft ought to be buried out of sight. If the legislators will not attend to this, the people will, later on. We do not want any more factory inspection grafts, or other kinds of graft.

Humor and Philosophy

A Follow Up. "What year were boarding houses invented?" "What year were prunes discovered?" "Did they come together?"

Useful Shade. "What kind of art is this? Who ever saw a green cow?" "That's all right. There ought to be cows of that color if there are none."

Saving Money. "He has three lovely daughters who are being courted." "His gas bills ought to be light." "They are. Some months he gets a relate from the company."

Cause of Failure. "Why didn't you succeed?" "Too much money." "I didn't know you had any." "Didn't. Other fellow had it."

In Doubt. "Though Santa Claus with everything worth having is supplied. If he discovers I'm on earth I will be satisfied."

PERT PARAGRAPHS. It is indisputable that not every thorn has its rose.

Sometimes the advocate is the chief reason why you can't be persuaded that a given thing is right.

Get in touch with the good things, but don't get touched for a good thing.

A woman may be well posted in politics and still be able to select a good brand of complexion powder.

Just two kinds of lie—don't believe and those you anything will do for Brother Bob. He doesn't know a Christmas present from a horseshoe nail anyhow.

Give the children red mittens and pocket handkerchiefs. They will be certain to remember you in after years if you do.

Now is the time to visit CALIFORNIA

When summer has passed in these northern states, the sun is only a memory, the bright blue skies of Southern California. This is one of nature's happy provisions—eternal summer for those who cannot endure a more severe climate.

California has been called the "Mecca of the winter tourist." Its hotels and stopping places are as varied as those of all well regulated cities. Visitors can always find suitable accommodations, congenial companions, and varied, pleasing recreations.

The rate from Hillsboro to Los Angeles and return is $56.30

Limit 6 months, allowing stopovers in either direction. Similar excursion rates are in effect to all California points.
