The United Railways is purely an electric line. Many people have believed that the United was a Hill extension, but the fact that Hill has never yet owned or operated an electric line, would seem to be evidence that he has no interest in the United.

Humor and Philosophy

ONLY.

Only a banker, Working away, Laying up seeds For a rainy day, Showling dollars Into the vault, Hardly for dinner Calling a halt. Carelessly leaving Millions around With a contempt that is Almost profound, Handling checks By the bushel or bale, Having the world, As we say, by the tail. Coming to work When the morning is spent, Counting up profits, So much per cent, Closing up shop With the profits produced Long e'er the hour When the hens go to roost. Being the reason A fellow just see When he is needing An X or a Y, Sending for debtors, Calling their bluff, Only a banker, But it's enough.

Who, indeed!

Plenty of money is to be desired, but who ever had plenty of money?

At the Critical Moment.

"You have a bad cough." "An annoying one." "Don't you know how to cure a cold?" "Yes, except when I have one."

Retiring.

"I hate to tell the truth." "Why?" "Modest." "Don't." "Makes me so conspicuous."

Locating the Cause.

"I don't know where that boy gets his meanness," exclaims the despairing mother as she went over in detail the latest anecdote of her young hopeful. "Perhaps you are not very well acquainted with his parents," observed her sympathetic friend.

BEATEN TO A FRAZZLE—

The krumpholtz when the wild winds of winter whistle a wistful welcome to Santa Claus' reindeer as their hoofs cast a joyful tinkle over the housetops and faraway, and so forth.

BANK REPORT

Report of the condition of the Hillsboro Commercial Bank, at Hillsboro, in the State of Oregon, at the close of business, February 5, 1909.

Table with columns for Resources and Liabilities. Resources include Loans and discounts, Bonds, securities, etc., and Liabilities include Capital stock paid in, Surplus fund, etc.

State of Oregon, County of Washington, I, Geo. Schulmerich, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. Geo. Schulmerich, Cashier. Correct—Attest: J. W. Connell, Edward Schulmerich, Directors. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 11th day of February, 1909. Thos H. Tongue, Notary Public.

ABSENT TREATMENT.

For measles or a broken leg, For mumps or whooping cough, I do not want my doctor then To be a few miles off. But there are things that I might name— Should you insist I can— That I would take my chances with The absent treatment plan. My wife is worth her weight, I think, In gold without alloy; She is, or nearly always is, A source of constant joy. But when she rises in her wrath And has her little say, I'd take that absent treatment if I could not get away. The bill collector comes around And finds me duly short And says if I cannot produce He'll hale me into court. I tell him in a week I'll try To make a payment small. I wish he'd give me one and all, The absent treatment dope.

Painless Operation.

"Mind is all powerful," said the professor, absentmindedly slipping a choice piece of cut glass in his pocket under the impression that it was his handkerchief. "Whatever a man wills to do he can do, and nothing can thwart him." "I had noticed that," said the thin faced individual with closely cropped side whiskers. "I once made a practical demonstration of it and got away with a job that a man without a trained intellect had tried and only succeeded in getting two black eyes for his pains."

Her Economy.

"Wish I were a mermaid," "Why do you wish that?" "Matter of economy." "Explain." "Well, wouldn't have to buy any shoes nor hats?" "I see." "And then I look awfully well in green."

The undersigned has 17 Angora goats, 12 of them Nannies, which he will sell, or trade for horses or cows—W. Tiedeman, Beaverton, Ore. R. 1 near Greenburg station, Oregon Electric. 48-50
