A communication from Lotus Langley, of Forest Grove, in reply to a communication which appeared in last week's issue of the Argus signed by Manager Guy Talbot of the Oregon Electric Co., came too late for publication this week, and will be published next week.

Fred Rood, of South Tualatin was in this afternoon, with a load of dressed, none fed porkers for Emmett Bros.

Jacob Smith and Wm. Jackson, of the North Plains, were in town today.

Horse for sale—Good work mare, weight about 1250 lbs.; price, $65. Inquire at Argus office. 514

Raleigh Robinson, of near Beaverton, was in the city this afternoon.

Remember, the Oregonian and Argus, only $2.25.

SMITH BLEDSOE

Smith Bledsoe, aged 88 years, died at the home of his son, Isaac, at Buxton, February 28, 1909. Mr. Bledsoe was one of the early settlers in this county, and has lived here almost continuously since. The following children survive him:

James, Eastern Oregon; John, Albert, George, William, Isaac P., of near Banks, and three daughters, Anna, Minnie and Mary, all of whom are married.

THE CRY OF THE INCOMPETENT

Why frown because you cannot be All that your fancies build; A Solomon; a David, great; A Teacher, wise and skilled.

I path of Fame not for you, And blind, you follow trail That leads to Darkness, way from light, Perhaps—perhaps you fail?

Because the Master hand that built, Forget to ope your eye To realms of grandeur and delight That take the soul on high.

Tis pigment all; to perish soon; Eftsos, the highest must Return the road they travel on. And reinforce its dust.

So still your pain; chain your desire; And soothe the troubled breast; or you're but here a day—a year, A caprice—strange belief!

Then side by side, in Earth's warm mold Will nestle Youth and Age—and blend in common ash once more The saint; the fool; the sage.

—Lu Cius.
