VOL. XVI. HILLSBORO, OREGON, MAR. 25, 1909. NO. 2

TUBERCULOSIS IN "ATTLE" WAS SUBJECT

Handled by Dr. Hutchinson at Dairymen's Meeting

ASSOCIATION FORMED IN CO.

Tuberculosis not transmissible by "Breath," says the Doctor

At the dairymen's meeting held at Great Grove, Saturday, Dr. Hutchinson, the government expert, talked on the subject of "Tuberculosis Cattle," to a large and interested audience.

He said in part:

"Tuberculosis is not transmitted from one animal to another by breath. The infection is caused by the feces of the animal, and one is conveyed by the fecal matter when in a moist state. Tubercular germs are exposed to the direct rays of the sun for a period of 12 hours, but killed, and it is therefore of the greatest importance to keep the cow barn in a clean and sanitary condition. Barns should have plenty of sunlight. Many dairymen in the east have glass walls on the south side of their barns, which not only affords warmth, but greatly assists in keeping the interior of the barn in good condition. The best way to prevent tuberculosis in cattle is to keep the barn in a good sanitary condition. This the progressive dairymen are coming to understand, and newer and better sanitary methods are resulting everywhere."

State Dairy and Food Commissioner W. Hatley, of Portland, was present, and talked on the subject of the new city law, which he thought would be of benefit to the dairy interests of the state.

At the meeting, a Test Association was organized, with 25 members. The officers will be the same as those in the county Dairymen's Association. The state inspectors will do the testing and the associations of a like character will be organized in the county.

JURY FINDS ANDREW HOERTH "NOT GUILTY"

Sensational Trial in Which Daughter Accuses Father

STEPMOTHER BRINGS GIRL IN COURT

The Jury Arrived at a Verdict Within Half an Hour

The trial of Andrew Hoerth, a farmer, living on the Barnes road near the Mt. Calvary cemetery, in the eastern part of this county, charged with the crime of incest, preferred by his daughter, Rosa Rosa Hoerth, aged about 16 years of age, occupied a part of two days last week, and ended with the prompt acquittal of the father, whose good name was supported by several reputable witnesses. It appears that the father has been separated from his second wife for a period of four years, and that upon punishing his daughter for unbecoming conduct, the latter ran away from home. She was taken in hand by her stepmother, and soon afterward, Hoerth was arrested on the above charge. The girl's testimony was contradictory, and was unsupported by other witnesses, although evidence of a damaging character was produced against the girl. Hoerth is a landscape gardener by trade, and well educated. He is upward of 60 years of age, and in poor health. He told a straight story. The lawyers for the defense did not hesitate to implicate the stepmother as being the cause of the trouble. It developed that the latter had a mortgage on Hoerth's farm, amounting to $600. H. T. Bagley and S. C. Spencer, of Portland, appeared for the defendant, and Bagley & Hare for the prosecution, the latter as special counsel, prosecuting Attorney E. B. Tongue having been retained in the case before his election. Hoerth thanked the jury after his acquittal, remarking to one of them, "I knew I was innocent all the time."

The following named jurors sat in the case: M. J. Christenson, L. F. Carstens, Jacob Smith, John Kamra, August Tewe, J. H. McNamara, H. L. Birchell, J. J. Krebs, C. Rehse, Tom Kerr, J. T. Young and D. Corwin. J. H. McNamara was elected foreman.

MRS. MARY GROSSEN

Mrs. Mary Grossen, wife of Peter Grossen, died at the family home at Helvetia, Washington county, Oregon, March 15, 1909. Deceased was born in the city of Bern, Switzerland, January 22, 1861. In May, 1885, she immigrated to the United States, and made her home in Osborne City, Kansas. There she was married to Peter Grossen, August 3, 1885, who with four children survives. The children are: Fred P., Elsie B., Anna A. and Matilda F. Grossen. Her age was 45 years, 1 month and 21 days. Deceased was a member of the Presbyterian church at Bethany, and was always willing to help in Sunday school or otherwise. She was a loving wife and a kind and model mother, whose death is deeply felt in the home, and in the neighborhood, where she was highly esteemed for her good qualities of heart and mind. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon at Bethany. Services were conducted in German by Rev. E. Lehrner, of the German Reform Church, and in English by Rev. A. W. Rinehart, of the German Presbyterian church, Portland, interment following in the German Presbyterian cemetery at Bethany.

TO ORGANIZE COUNTY LEAGUE

The Black Coach Stallion, Sampson, will stand this season, 4 1/2 miles northwest of Hillsboro and 2 miles south of Glencoe, at the Wm. Jolly place. Best all-around horse in this county, good action and a sure foal-getter. Weight, 1400 lbs. —F. W. Delman, Owner. 1-4

Hillsboro, Forest Grove and McMinnville have been allotted the same day at the Alaska-Yukon Fair, and July 14th is the date set. It is understood that the railroads will give special rates on the days dedicated to Oregon towns. The State Federation of Women's Clubs has provided a hostess for the day set apart for each Oregon town. Many Hillsboro people contemplate going to the Fair, and it would be a nice thing for the Board of Trade to arrange an excursion to cover the Hillsboro day.

Fred Edward Fox and Fred Reinsegnaw, the two boys who robbed the store of J. H. Rieck, at Buxton, on July 1, 1908, and who were indicted by the 1908 grand jury, were arraigned before Judge McBride, Saturday, and both pleaded guilty to the indictment. Each was sentenced to a term of 18 months in the penitentiary, and both were conveyed to the State capitol, Saturday afternoon, where they will serve out their time. The boys have been confined in the county jail for 8 months, during which time they tunneled through the wall of the jail and escaped, only to be recaptured within a week. The boys formerly resided in Portland, and are a sample of the city hoodlum who thinks it smart to do petty acts of a criminal nature. They are not vicious looking boys, and probably are victims of bad association. Their youth was likely taken into consideration by the Judge, as the sentence was comparatively light.

INDIAN YOUTH DROWNS IN TUALATIN RIVER

Attempts to Escape From Officials of Chemawa School

JUMPS FROM BOAT AND SINKS

Victim was Chas. Walton, an Alaskan Indian, Aged Twenty-two Years

Four Indian boys who became involved in a row at the Chemawa Indian training school, in Marion county, ran away from that institution Saturday night. They were pursued by officials of the school, and on Sunday morning were overtaken near the town of Tualatin. Many Tualatin citizens joined in the chase. Chas. Walton, an Alaskan Indian, aged 22 years, was captured, but broke away from his captors and ran to the river, where he jumped into an old boat, and using his hands for paddles, tried to cross the river. Seeing that he would be overtaken if he stayed in the boat, Walton sprang into the river and started to swim to the opposite bank. Weighted down by his clothing and heavy shoes, he suddenly threw up his hands and sank. His body was recovered, but life was gone. Walton had enlisted at the school for a term of three years, and had already stayed two years of the time, when he became involved in a row, and with three others fled, with the above result. Coroner Brown was notified, but learning that there were many witnesses to the drowning, did not hold an inquest. The body was taken back to Chemawa for burial.

New Photo Gallery at Cornelius

Pope, the Hillsboro Photographer, has opened up a branch gallery at Cornelius, in connection with his Hillsboro Studio. All the finishing will be done by a first class, experienced, professional photographer, Mr. J. E. Johnson, who has charge of the Hillsboro Studio. Mr. Pope will be at Cornelius in person, each week, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays all day, and Sundays, 2 to 5 p. m. All kinds of view and scenic work done on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays; also enlarging to any size. All work strictly first-class, or money refunded.

NOTICE

My Jack will be found at my farm, at Glencoe, during the year of 1909. Terms: To insure mare to be in foal, $10. I am prepared to breed mares with the Impreginator. Phone No. 76, Glencoe. Address, W. W. Paine, Hillsboro, Ore., R. D. 3. 14

The new Methodist church at Banks was dedicated last Sunday by the congregation. Bishop Chas. W. Smith, of Portland, preached the dedicatory sermon. Following the sermon, addresses were made by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Stuart, District Superintendent, of Portland, and W. N. Barrett, of Hillsboro, touching on the financial indebtedness of the church, which was reported to be $900, all of which was subscribed within a short time. The building is modern, and cost about $2600, and is the only church building in the town. After the morning services the ladies of the church invited all present to a substantial luncheon, which was spread in Odd Fellows' hall. Several Hillsboro Methodists attended, and enjoyed the occasion.

W. L. Pulliam and wife, of Clatskanie, are guests of G. W. Barnes and family this week. Mrs. Pulliam is their daughter. Mr. Pulliam is engaged in locating homesteaders on government lands now open for settlement on the Siletz. He and three friends from Clatskanie recently filed contests on a section in the Siletz, and stand a good show to win out, as the original homesteaders are not now on the land. Mr. Pulliam says he would not take $15,000 for his claim, provided he wins the contest.

Chas. Kempton, who lives near Vineland, brought a little child to Hillsboro, Monday, who had in some manner run a needle into its right leg, below the knee. The needle had broken off inside, leaving about 1 1/2 inches of the steel in the leg. The child was placed under an anesthetic, and Dr. Linklater extracted the dangerous substance. The parents are at a loss to know how the child came in contact with the needle.

Don't forget the dances at Glencoe, March 27. Toelle's orchestra. Tickets, $1 00, including supper.

W. N. Barrett and wife visited Portland, Tuesday.
