

THINGS WILL HUM ON P. R. & N. LINE

Progressive Work at Both ends of the Line From now on

CONTRACTORS MOVING TO FRONT

Public Engineering Co. to Build all Bridges and Lay Rails

Things are beginning to move on the line of the P. R. & N. Sweeney, the main contractor, is rushing men, horses and equipment to the point every day. Just as soon as the bridges on the line are finished other construction trains will be at on the road between Hillsboro and Banks clubs did not play at Farmington, as was originally arranged.

Wakefield, who had a ten mile contract on the Coast end of the line, has been awarded a sub contract of ten additional miles by Sweeney, and now has about 300 men at work at that end of the line.

The Pacific Engineering Co., of Portland, has been awarded the contract to build all the bridges and culverts on the road, and yesterday shipped to the front, two car loads of material.

Sweeney is forwarding a large number of horses to the front for the grading outfit, overland, and men are going to the front every day.

Chief Engineer Davis arrived in town Tuesday night from a trip to the Upper Nehalem and Salmonberry country, where he went to direct the work of the surveying parties now in the field.

MRS. ROBT. ALEXANDER

Mrs. Alexander, wife of Robert Alexander, of west of Forest Grove, died Sunday, May 16, 1909, at the North Pacific Sanatorium, Portland, after a surgical operation.

She was born in Brooklyn, New York, and was 47 years of age. Her maiden name was Reynolds. She was married to S. G. Sheldon in 1883. Of this union four children survive: Mrs. Jessie Heltonbach, Chico, Cal.; Fred, of Cheyenne, Wyoming; Raymond, in school at Spokane, Wash.; and Homer Sheldon, at home.

She married Robert Alexander in 1897, there being four sons to this union: Grant, Roland, Louis and Charles. She was a member of the Congregational church.

Interment was Tuesday morning from Lumber's undertaking parlors, Forest Grove.

TIGARDVILLE MAN ARRAIGNED HERE

Charged With Assault With a Dangerous Weapon

KELE BECK IS THE COMPLAINANT

Defendant Gives $500 Bonds for Appearance at Hearing

Kele Beck, a citizen of the Tigardville section, came up to Hillsboro Tuesday, and lodged a complaint before Deputy District Attorney, T. H. Tongue, in which he charged that one Roy Daniels had assaulted him with a revolver. Beck exhibited a cut on his head, which he claimed was inflicted by the defendant. The assault is alleged to have occurred on the 17th inst. Daniels is about 25 years of age.

The Argus is not advised, as to what led up to the difficulty. Daniels was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Jack Worth, of the Tigardville section, and brought to Hillsboro yesterday, where he was formally arraigned before Justice Barnes, and gave bonds in the sum of $500 for his appearance upon the date set for the hearing.

KURATLI-SPICKER

An outcome of an attachment form some time ago was the wedding of David Kuratli, a member of the firm of Kuratli Bros. real estate dealers, in this city, and Miss Elsie Spicker, a talented and popular young lady, who until recently has been employed as an accountant in the Security & Saving Bank, of Portland. The wedding occurred yesterday at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs. F. T. Spicker, at 100 East 68th street, Portland, Ore.

The groom was attended by his cousin, Alfred Dyle, and the bridesmaids were Misses Edith and Jennie Spicker. The officiating clergyman was Rev. A. W. Reinhart, of the Presbyterian church, and the time, high noon. After the ceremony, an elegant luncheon was served, and many costly and beautiful gifts were presented by the 50 or more relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom. Late in the afternoon, Mr and Mrs. Kuratli came out to Hillsboro, and are temporarily at the residence of the groom's brother, E. I. Kuratli, who has gone to Europe. They will remain there, until the groom's new residence is finished. The Argus tenders congratulations.

MISS ALICE HALE WELL KNOWN HERE

Disappears From Portland Home and Leaves no Trace

POLICE ARE OUT LOOKING FOR HER

Daughter of G. N. Hale, a Farmer Sheriff of This County

Alice Hale, the pretty 16 year old daughter, of Green N. Hale and wife, who used to be residents of this city, started for the East Side High School, in Portland, last Monday morning, since which time she has dropped from sight, and her parents are distracted over her unaccountable disappearance. The police are searching for her, and every effort will be made to locate her. Her father does not believe that any serious accident has befallen the girl, but thinks she may be stopping somewhere in the city with girl friends.

She is about 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds, and at the time of her disappearance wore a light blue skirt, a gray half length coat, a straw hat trimmed with daisies, and a pair of patent leather shoes. Mr. Hale expects his daughter to return home in a few days, if no accident has befallen her.
